Minutes of the Cincinnati Convention.

MR. PRESIDENT AND BRETHREN OF THE JUBILEE CONVENTION:—It is with pleasure that we present to you the Fiftieth Annual Report of the American Christian Missionary Society. You will find it the report of the largest work done in any year of our history; in the amount of money raised; in the number of missionaries employed; in the number of new churches organized by missionary effort, and in the number of souls won to Christ. We give this report not as a culmination, but as a beginning of work for our Lord in missions. We believe we will never resort to the small things of other years; we will go from large to larger plans and purposes in the great work of winning America to Christ. We present this report hoping that you will see in this the vision of the ripest harvest field in the world—this land is ripe for the plea for a return to the simplicity that is in the gospel of our King. This report will show the doors we are entering, and indicate that other opportunities, equally promising, are ready for us.

The attention of the Convention is called to the fact that although we received $100,550 during the year, yet $50,388 is in permanent funds, and can not be expended.

The new day, Boys' and Girls' Rally Day for America, is a matter to which your attention is specially invited. It has in it the promise and potency of great things for the work of missions. We take pride in the increasing list of our missionaries; the work has been enlarged with the increasing income, and this list of men is a roll of honor. We ask our brethren to study their names, their field, their work. Pray for them that our God may bless their work and labor of love.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17.

AFTERNOON.

The Fiftieth Annual Convention of the American Christian Missionary Society met in Music Hall, Cincinnati, O., Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 17, 1899, W. F. Richardson presiding.

SONG SERVICE—Conducted by Alvin A. Ranshaw.

The president introduced J. H. Lockwood, of Ohio; James Leslie, of Ohio; C. L. Loos, of Kentucky, who were present at the first Convention fifty years ago.

After prayer by Pres. C. L. Loos, the following pioneer brethren and sisters were introduced to the Convention: J. W. McGarvey, Kentucky; Dr. W. A. Belding, New York; J. S. Lamar, Georgia; Robert Graham, Kentucky; Harrison Jones, Ohio; N. A. McConnell, Iowa; D. R. Dungan, Missouri; T. D. Garvin, Tennessee; Mrs. Wm. Durand, Illinois; Mrs. O. A. Burgess, Indiana; Mrs. Robert Milligan, Kentucky; Robert Moffett, Ohio.

Mrs. Princess Long, of California, then sang a solo, and the following Jubilee program was presented:

J. A. Lord delivered an address on "1849 1899."

The "Jubilee Poem," Jessie Brown Pounds.

SOLO—Mrs. Long.

ADDRESS—By J. H. Garrison, upon "Lessons from the Past.

The President introduced J. H. Garrison, who conducted a memorial service in honor of A. M. Atkinson, who had died suddenly at the Grand Hotel, Saturday night, October 14, while in attendance at the Convention.

Short addresses were made by W. R. Lloyd, Carey E. Morgan, L. L. Carpenter, B. B. Tyler, J. S. Lamar and Jabez Hall.

An offering was taken for an A. M. Atkinson Memorial Ministerial Relief Fund, amounting in cash and pledges to $5,469.12.

The session adjourned with prayer by President Loos.

EVENING.

The Jubilee service was continued with the following program:

MORNING.

QUIET HOUR—Led by Dr. A. G. Thomas. C. E. Millard, leader of song.

A telegram announcing the death of Mrs. W. S. Hoye was read, and the Corresponding Secretary was instructed to send the sympathy of the Convention to the bereaved husband.

The President's Address, "Our Jubilee and Our Plea," W. F. Richardson.
Statement of Annual Report, Corresponding Secretary Benj. L. Smith:

REPORT FOR JUBILEE CONVENTION.

"A Jubilee shall that fiftieth year be unto you, . . for it is the Jubilee; it shall be holy unto you" (Lev. xxv. 9).

"First the blade, then the ear, and after that the full corn in the ear" (Mark iv. 28).

This is the fiftieth annual report to the General Convention of what our God has done for and with the American Christian Missionary Society in extending the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. The Board renders the account of its stewardship with joy, as the work done during the past year far transcends any previous year of our history in the offerings of the churches and of brethren; in the number of churches organized and souls brought into the kingdon; in the uplift given the work of preaching the gospel to those who have it not; and in the increased interest in the churches. For all this we sing praises to his holy name; his promises are redeemed; his word has not returned to him void, but it has accomplished the purpose of his sending. He has not been "unrighteous to forget our work and labor of love," but has poured out upon it his blessing and given a wonderful increase.

Our people did not know each other; had no common work in hand, and beyond the efforts of individuals were doing nothing for the advancement of the cause of Christ. Now see the result: the American Society, the Foreign Society, the Christian Woman's Board, the Boards of Church Extension, Negro Evangelization, Ministerial Relief and Education. In the time of need and opportunity the American Christian Missionary Society comes into existence, more largely through the efforts of David S. Burnett than any other man, as the providential agency for the concentration of the efforts of the brotherhood to contest with irreligion and sectarianism for the possession of the land in preaching the primitive gospel and planting churches upon the divine foundation and pattern, and in doctrines, ordinances and fruits after the churches of the New Testament.

There were giants in those days: Alexander Campbell, David S. Burnett, Walter Scott and W. K. Pendleton, and a hundred other men, worked together for the organization of the Society. No other than A. Campbell was thought of for its president so long as he lived—until 1866.

The mind of the brotherhood had been prepared for larger plans of work. The great need, the many appeals for destitute fields, the splendid opportunities for planting the cause, with but little help, forced the fathers to see the need of co-operation, and Mr. Campbell in the Millennial Harbinger, D. S. Burnett in the Christian Age, Benj. Franklin in the Reformer, urged the brethren to meet and plan for united effort. Two years were spent in discussion; the place and date for the Convention, Cincinnati, O., October 23–26, was carefully fixed.

Pursuant to the call, the Convention met in the church at the corner of Eighth and Walnut Streets, was called to order by Vice-President David S. Burnett in the absence by illness of Alexander Campbell, and is appointed secretary. On motion of John T. Johnson it is voted: "That a missionary society, as a means to concentrate and dispense the wealth and benevolence of the brethren of this Reformation, in an effort to convert the world, is both Scriptural and expedient. That a committee of seven be appointed to prepare a Constitution for said Society."

The character and reputation of the men engaged in the organization and the early management, are, in themselves, an assurance of their loyalty to the great principles of the Reformation. In all their work there is no trace of an unholy personal ambition, but consciousness of the great responsibility resting upon them.

The spirit of the gospel is a missionary spirit, and we should all be baptized in this spirit until the same mind shall be in us that was in Christ Jesus, to seek and win souls to the love of God.

The movement originated in the interest of those that remained at the hearthstone, for those that had wandered forth into the wilderness of the West, and love for those in distant lands who knew not our God and his Son our Saviour.

The headquarters of the Society were fixed at Cincinnati, where they have always remained.

Great care was taken that in no way should the Society take any authority over the churches, or legislate in any manner, and we have the record of fifty years of co-operation without the first sign of an ecclesiasticism.

Our people were not organized for any united aggressive work. Out of this formless brotherhood came the American Christian Missionary Society, leading our hosts into concerted action, gradually forming a people that have kept the faith pure and unsullied, and united their efforts to send the glorious light far and wide over the land. Out of this has come the organization of other societies—the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, the Board of Church Extension, the Board of Negro Evangelization and Education, and the Board of Ministerial Relief. During the fifty years our God has given us the help of men and women who feared God and counted it a delight to serve him; the list of officers, the corresponding secretaries, the missionaries who have wrought under the direction of the Society, contains names that are worthy to be held in everlasting remembrance.

The Constitution was discussed item by item, and was approved only when brought into the best condition. The first Board of Officers was as follows:

President:

A Campbell, Bethany, W. Va.

Vice-Presidents:

D. S. Burnett, Cincinnati.
Dr. Wm. J. Irwin, Cincinnati.

When the fullness of time was come, the American Christian Missionary Society was organized—in 1849; its charter was granted by the Legislature of Ohio, Session 1851, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, that A. Campbell, D. S. Burnett, William J. Irwin, Walter Scott, James Challen, George Jenkins, A. Trowbridge, T. J. Melish, George Tait, S. S. Clark, B. S. Lawson, T. J. Murdock, H. Hathaway, L. Wells, Thurston Crane, with their associates, be, and are, hereby constituted and made a body corporate and politic, with perpetual succession, by the name of the American Christian Missionary Society, and by that name may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, in all courts of law and equity, and are hereby invested with all the powers and privileges necessary for conducting Home and Foreign Missions in advancement of the Christian religion.

SEC. 2. Said corporation shall have power to acquire and hold as much real estate as may be necessary and convenient for carrying out the purposes of its creation; may enact by-laws for said Society, which shall not be inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States and of this State.

SEC. 3. All laws or parts of laws inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

There have grown out of this Society the following societies: Christian Woman's Board of Missions, Foreign Christian Missionary Society, Board of Church Extension, Board of Negro Education and Evangelization, Board of Ministerial Relief, Board of Education.

Our missionary work suffered from excessive controversy; however, inexplicable as it may be, controversy and missionary work are antagonistic; one is expulsive of the other. For many years the conflict was in the tents of the army; it should have been in the territory of the enemy; our moral cowardice was measured by the difference.

We faced two destructive forces, disputation and apathy; in direct proportion as Israel is thus assailed, she fails to make excursions beyond her own limits.

When we recovered from excessive controversy we went to work, and since that day our mission work has grown yearly to larger proportions. The growth in the work is shown in the diagram on the opposite page.

The outline on opposite page will serve to help the reader to hold in mind the steps in the development of our present missionary status. Many other features of worthy Christian enterprise besides those noted might be shown to have received their great stimulus from this, our parent missionary organization. We trust these brief hints will suggest what is plain to all who are familiar with our history, that this our first missionary society has had a noble part in making us what we are. The amounts credited to the General Society are sums raised through its own treasury, and do not include what has been raised for Church Extension and Negro Evangelization, etc., since the organization of separate departments for these lines of work.

Our brotherhood owes a large part of its unity to the influence and work of our co-operative mission work. We had no center, no organization, and the churches from one part of the country did not know what the churches in another part of the country were doing. There are certain names that should be held in everlasting remembrance for their work in upbuilding this co-operative work.

David S. Burnet was the father of co-operative work among our people; he led our leaders and brought our brethren to a decision in this matter. Near the close of his life he wrote: "I consider the inauguration of our society system, which I vowed to urge upon our brethren if God raised me from my protracted illness of 1845, as one of the most important acts of my career."

James Challen, the first corresponding secretary of the Society, who served the infant society without price, a strong man in Israel.

Isaac Errett, who, as corresponding secretary, redeemed the Society from littleness and gave it large plans and purposes, and who, with tongue and pen, was ever ready to advocate the claims of our mission work.

Thomas Munnell, the faithful corresponding secretary during the time of the test and failure of the Louisville plan; he was faithful in his generation.

R. M. Bishop, who served as president of the Society for seven years, and as chairman of the Acting Board of Managers for twenty years; he loved the cause of missions, and gave freely of his means in its advancement.

Alva I. Hobbs, who stood for all that advanced the cause of primitive Christianity, and who ably advocated the claims of missions all his life long. A strong, earnest minister who purchased a good degree by his loyal service.

This Jubilee Year should not pass without recalling the name of Otis A. Burgess, at one time a corresponding secretary, and always a lover and helper of missions; he was a strong defender of the faith once delivered to the saints—he loved God and his brethren.

These and many others like-minded sowed the good seed of the rich harvest we are enjoying to-day.

Entered into the Life Everlasting.

(Rev. xiv. 13, 14.)

Heaven grows richer year by year. The faithful, having borne the heat and burden of the day, are entering into rest.

WILLIAM KIMBROUGH PENDLETON. Among those who have entered into life immortal during the past year we name first, W. K. Pendleton. From dear old Bethany came the news of his passing away, Sept. 1, 1899. William Kimbrough Pendleton, son-in-law of Alexander Campbell, his successor as president of Bethany College and editor of the Millennial Harbinger, passed over the river Sept. 1, 1899. His name is written large in our history; he was Mr. Campbell's personal representative at our first Convention in 1849, and was largely influential in the formation of the American Christian Missionary Society. He was one of the first vice-presidents, the first man who subscribed for a life directorship, and was interested in all the years in the growth of missions. As one of the few surviving members of the first Convention of the American Christian Missionary Society, it was the earnest wish and fixed purpose of Pres. W. K. Pendleton to attend the Jubilee Convention. To those who asked him, he replied that if he spoke at that great gathering it would be like Jacob leaning upon his staff. His last days were full of this thought, and in this connection, full of renewed regret that his heavy financial losses in Florida, in the last five years, had made it impossible for him to make his customary annual contributions to the organized enterprises of the church. Since God has called him, with his feet almost upon the threshold of this great Convention, to a vaster and mightier assembly of saints, his wife and children desire, at this time and place, to offer, as a small tribute to his name and memory, the sum of $400, which he desired, but was unable, to contribute to the four great missionary societies of the church, during the last five years of his life. As president of Bethany he made a large impression on the body of students, and, through them, on the church at large. The writer saw him in June last; he said he had come to Bethany to husband his strength to come to the Jubilee Convention and enjoy its fellowship. He anticipated this great Convention with keen delight; and yet our God had prepared some better thing for him. He was permitted to go to the general assembly of the saints of the First-born in heaven. And to-day, if the redeemed are interested in the affairs of this life, he, in co npany of the immortals—the Campbells, with David S. Burnett, the father of our mission work; with James Challen, our first great secretary, and Thomas Munnell, with R. M. Bishop, and Isaac Errett, and others who counted nothing too precious for this great work—are regarding us to-day with lively interest, and, doubtless pitying our small plans, are praying that our eyes might be opened to see and understand the marvelous opportunities that are open before us to win and hold this goodly land to be Immanuel's land, that through America we might win the world.

HAMILTON DOOK.—West Virginia mourns the departure of Hamilton Dook, elder of the church at Arnold's Creek for forty-two years; he walked uprightly before God and men.

J. H. BAUSERMAN.—Kansas mourns the departure of J. H. Bauserman, a pioneer in that great State. He was employed by the American Christian Missionary Society to do missionary work in 1863, 1864, 1865 and onward. He laid the foundations of many churches in that State. He afterwards served as corresponding secretary of the Kansas State Board. He was early left a widower and gave himself fully to the work.

MRS. PARDEE BUTLER.—From Kansas comes the note of the going of Mrs. Pardee Butler. With her brave husband she endured the trials of the pioneer work; her husband was known nationally for his unswerving devotion to the cause of abolition, and yet he loved New Testament Christianity more. Mrs. Butler stood by him with unfaltering trust and courage; now into the life immortal she has followed her beloved husband.

FRANK D. PETTIT.—Kansas and Missouri join in mourning the early departure of Frank D. Pettit, long Sunday-school evangelist of Kansas, graduate of Drake University, minister for the Church of Christ at Chillicothe, Mo., which church continued his salary long after the dread consumption compelled him to give up his work. His passing was in the prime of manhood, while the shadows were still in the west. His faithful wife is continuing his life-work, serving one of the churches in Denver.

J. S. KENDRICK.—The church at Danville, Ky., is mourning the loss of her beloved and ever-faithful J. S. Kendrick, a graduate of Kentucky University, a faithful minister of the gospel of the grace of God—loyal, true-hearted, and successful. Out of a severe struggle in his orphan days he developed into a splendid manhood. As a preacher, he excelled. There were few better preachers among our people; strong, clear, tender, Scriptural. The injunction, "Preach the word," seemed to be constantly before him. Free from dangerous speculation, he urged full obedience to the whole gospel. Christ was the central thought in his sermons. He was a good student, and, of course, a growing preacher. He was constantly on the lookout for new books. He read along all lines. He was not a narrow man in any sense, but large in thought, and his sympathies were with the suffering everywhere, as wide as the erring children of the race. When he found that death was near, he quoted Paul's great saying, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day."

F. M. BRUNER.—From Iowa we hear of the going home of Francis M. Bruner, who entered into rest May 5, 1899. During the last forty years he stood a tall figure in our ministry. A man of extensive scholarship, his gifts gave him pre-eminence. He was educated in American colleges and continued his studies in Europe; he served as officer in the army during the Civil War; was a member of the Illinois Legislature; was president of Abingdon College, and head of the Bible Department of Eureka College. Five years of patient suffering crowned his life with the beauty of patience. Like the sun fading at evening, at last it sank behind the hills of time.

A. MCFADDEN, of Henderson, Ia., left the scene of seventy years' service, Dec. 7, 1898. For twenty-five years he was a faithful and loyal minister and evangelist.

WM. G. SPRINGER, one of nature's noblemen, and a minister of the gospel, died at Des Moines, Ia., April 26, 1899.

S. H. THOMPSON, a medical graduate of Drake University, and a member of the Students' Volunteer Band, died suddenly at Omaha, Neb., November, 1898.

FRED PAUL WILLIAMS was drowned at Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 22, 1899. He was a minister, and gave rare promise of a brilliant future as a servant of our Lord.

From Ohio there passed away during the year, A. M. Forshee, a faithful minister who had lived in Columbus; W. L. Van Vorhis, greatly beloved among the churches of central Ohio; J. W. Cassell, of Hopedale, who made bequests to the Southern Christian Institute, to Foreign Missions, to Church Extension, and to Drake University; A. C. Fenner, the faithful officer of the church at Dayton, and Mrs. Jane Sloan, widow of R. R. Sloan, and a mother in C. W. B. M. work. Also Mrs. Elmira Winslow, of Mentor, passed away. She was loyal in her life, and in her death remembered the church by special bequests to the church at Mentor, and the general cause by a gift of $300 to our treasury. Her memory is blessed. Doubtless many others have entered into the eternal life during the year, whose names are not here recorded, who are beloved for their work's sake. As we note their departures let us note the end of their faith, even the salvation of their souls, and beside these new-made graves let us consecrate our lives to the great work to which they gave their lives.

NATHAN W. SMITH.—Georgia reports the departure of the pioneer, Nathan W. Smith, born in 1813, baptized into Christ in 1832; doing the work of a pioneer; entered into rest August 10, 1899. Few know the trials and privations endured in those early days; the faithful wife caring for the home, looking after the farm; Bro. Smith away for weeks at a time evangelizing; the largest salary he received in those early days was $400 per year. After a faithful ministry of sixty years he has fallen asleep.

BENJ. SUMMY, Washington, D. C., passed away Dec. 24, 1898, at a ripe old age. Was one of the founders of our work in Washington City. He sustained it in its weak beginnings, and was known and loved by all for his faithfulness, his hospitality, his strong and loyal convictions, his charity to the poor, and his liberality toward all our missionary interests. He was a disciple, indeed, in whom there was no guile.

THE FIELDS AND THE WORKERS.

Our God has ordained that by the preaching of the gospel men shall be saved; it is the supreme purpose of the American Christian Missionary Society to preach this gospel and win.

"And Joshua said unto the children of Israel, How long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the Lord God of your fathers hath given you?"

ALABAMA.

E. V. Spicer, Corresponding Secretary, Selma.

Population, 1,700,000; number of churches, 216; number of members, 12,000—one member to every 141 of the population.

We assist the State Board in its work, and hope to increase our help.

There are thirty cities of more than 2,000 population where we have not a congregation that is simply Christian.

Of the State, S. R. Hawkins, the State evangelist, writes: "We have not a church building of any pretensions in the State; Birmingham, our strongest church, meets in an upper room; Selma has a small house not adequate to the demands upon it. We have thirty cities where the cause we love should be planted. We had eighty-two additions at Selma, seventy-six at Anniston, and many others at various points; by the help of God, and the aid of the American Christian Missionary Society, we expect to plant new Testament Christianity in Alabama." S. R. Hawkins has organized four new churches since February.

S. RIPLEY HAWKINS.

ANNISTON.

Our Board has been helping Anniston. It is expected that she will honor herself by taking her place among the self-supporting churches soon.

ARIZONA.

Population, 79,000; number of churches, 3; number of members, 325. One member to every 243 of the population.

The Board has been helping in Tempe and Phœnix, Ariz. R. A. Hopper, in much weakness, labored faithfully at Tempe; he gathered the material for a meeting-house, and, as long as strength permitted, he toiled for its upbuilding. He pleads for a continuance of help as follows:

R. A. HOPPER.

SEVEN REASONS.

Please give prayerful attention to the following reasons why the Christian Church should give special attenton to Arizona at this time.

1. The work in Arizona has been overlooked by our people in the past, while other religious bodies have been wide-awake and active in its interest.

2. It is a new field, and has all the advantages that usually belong to a new field.

3. Arizona is a rich country, and is growing richer every year. Whoever commands its wealth will be able to command many good things, to build meeting-houses, asylums, orphans' schools, orphans' homes, etc., and to send the gospel to the destitute at home and abroad.

4. Arizona is not only rich, but is a large country, as large as all the Philippine Islands together. To come nearer home, it would make fifty-five States as large as Delaware and have 270 square miles left, or ninety States as large as Rhode Island and have 520 square miles left. In all this vast, rich region we have but three small churches, but one small indifferent house of worship, but one feeble preacher.

5. This is to be the home of the enterprising sons and daughters of the East. In helping Arizona, then, you will be helping your own sons and daughters, and will be providing them church homes that will prevent many of them from falling away and being lost, and many others it will save to the work of the Christian Church.

6. Tempe is the strategic point in the Territory. The Territorial Normal School is here, and is always to be here, and with its tuition free it will always be full. The large, fine brick building was not completed until this year, and there were 168 matriculations (not counting the small children) and seventeen graduates this session. The number, no doubt, will increase from year to year. As the teachers of this vast region are to be educated here, whatever influence is generated here, intellectual, moral or religious, will spread throughout the Territory and into the region beyond.

7. Last, but not least, Providence seems to be leading in the work and richly blessing the efforts at this time. This is the golden opportunity; some say the only opportunity they ever had. By the aid of a benevolent man we have a lot paid for in a fine location, but we are not able to build without aid from abroad. Who will come up to the help of the Lord? Who will help us in our need?

Our Father who art in heaven, bless this paper, bless the mail that carries it, the eye that reads it, the ear that hears it, the heart that feels its power, and the hand that helps in the glorious work; in Jesus' name. Amen.

PHŒNIX.

The Board has been helping L. O. Ferguson at Phœnix. He has been doing heroic work this year, including the building of a new meeting-house. The cause takes on larger and more hopeful life with this accomplishment. The church will soon walk alone. The work done in Phœnix can be duplicated in many other places at little expense of mission funds.

There are large counties where a Christian preacher's voice has never been heard. There are places where for months no preaching whatever is heard. They have an energetic and progressive people, and welcome with delight every public enterprise. The Immigration Commissioners for Mohave County, in which there are eighteen saloons, say: "It is regrettable to state that there is but one church in the county." Society there is plastic and growing, and the first Protestant church in any community absorbs the members of all the others. Then, in the name of the Master, who prayed for unity, let us hasten to carry the plea for undenominational Christianity to this rich and ripened harvest-field. The inexhaustable mineral wealth, and the phenomenal success of irrigation, are rapidly filling the country with home-seekers. These are golden opportunities that will soon pass, never to return. Men are ready and anxious to do the work. Every dollar you give will call forth other dollars in the field. Then, will you not "give heartily, as unto the Lord"?

ARKANSAS.

E. C. Browning, Corresponding Secretary, Little Rock.

Population, 1,128,178; number of churches, 425; number of members, 37,000. One member to every thirty of the population. We have thirteen missionaries at work. Arkansas paid $323.46 into the treasury of the Society. There are forty-six cities of more than one thousand population where we have no Church of Christ.

In Arkansas we have assisted in supporting George Clark in the Southwest District; T. N. Kincaid in Hot Springs; E. S. Allhands in Arkadelphia; J. H. Jones at Mt. Ida; Frederick Wyatt at Mena, and E. C. Browning as State corresponding secretary.

The State secretary writes:

The General Board has used about $500, while the C. W. B. M. has contributed $250. All the missionary funds used in this State have amounted to $1,300, exclusive of what has been gathered in the field. Results: fourteen new churches; thirteen new houses; baptisms, 265; other additions, 406; drawn into active Christian work, over $13,000, the greater part of which would have been idle.

Every $100 of missionary money has resulted in organizing a church, building a house, obtaining a preacher for from one-fourth time to all the time, while enlisting in Christian activity over $1,000.

These estimates are not designed, nor should they be used, to disparage the work of other fields. Conditions differ and hence results differ. They do show the fruitfulness of the field.

PINE BLUFF.

The Board has continued its aid to Pine Bluff under the care of S. W. Crutcher. The church building is completed and the church is in a fair way to grow. The appropriation will be withdrawn after this year, when Pine Bluff will stand alone.

S. W. Crutcher writes:

We have grown, and with a little more help will be able to stand alone; we are very grateful for the help of the Board. The audiences are good. I organized a church at Dumas. Held a meeting at Morill, with twelve additions.

ARKADELPHIA.

We have continued our help to Arkadelphia, through the treasury of the State Board. Of this field E. S. Allhands, the missionary, writes:

Arkadelphia is the seat of two colleges with an enrollment of about six hundred students, including many children of our brethren. Now is the time and this is the place to make a favorable impression on many who will be leaders in the State. Your help has greatly aided us, and if the amount could be increased to $200 per year a minister could be sustained here all the time, which is essential.

SOUTHWEST DISTRICT.

George Clark was the missionary of the Southwest District of Arkansas, and was sustained in this field by the ladies of the church at Mayslick, Ky. He has done faithful service and his reports are excellent in tone and contents. He has been succeeded by Henry B. Hughes, who will continue the good work of Bro. Clark.

Arkansas has the largest per cent. of American-born citizens (or the lowest per cent. of foreign-born) of any State in the Union; here our plea should flourish.

CALIFORNIA.

Guy W. Smith, Corresponding Secretary of Northern District, Oakland.

G. W. Pearl, Corresponding Secretary of Southern District Artesia.

Population 1,500,000; number of members, 14,399; number of churches, 125. One member to every 107 of the population. We have 6 missionaries at work.

During the year California has sent $1,036.28 to our treasury.

Of the work in Northern California, Guy W. Smith, the corresponding secretary, writes:

By the help of the General Board we are doing work at Alameda, A. R. Hathaway, missionary; Palo Alto, with D. A. Russell; and Santa Cruz, with R. L. McHattan. The work is growing, and we are grateful for your help. We solicit your continuance and enlargement, believing that we can do better work in coming days.

ALAMEDA.

We have assisted in the support of A. R. Hathaway at Alameda. He writes:

Alameda is the main resident suburb of San Francisco; it is a city of homes with 16,000 population, and but the one church of our people, and that a mission. The heart and brain of San Francisco can be reached here, and a strong, useful church is the desideratum. We must have help from without. We have a neat church building, centrally located, with a band of about forty disciples who, at this crisis, need the encouragement of the help f the brotherhood. We are receiving this support from the American Christian Missionary Society. and are rejoicing in the jubilee, ecause we feel the mother-love of the Society.

PALO ALTO.

Palo Alto is the seat of the Leland Stanford University, with an endowment of twenty millions; this is to be one of the great universities of the world. We have a small, faithful band of brethren, for whom D. A. Russell ministers. To keep our own children who will go there to school to win many more to the simple gospel of the Son of God, we must build up, a strong church. It is one of the strategic points of California.

SANTA CRUZ.

R. L. McHattan has made a brave struggle at Santa Cruz. On recommendation of the State Board, help was extended there, and we expect the church will soon be on its feet and walking alone.

Southern California.

Population, 265,000; number of churches, 40; number of members 5,000. One member to every 53 of the population.

We have assisted the Board of Southern California. H. Elliott Ward has served as the indefatigable secretary. Work has been done at Redlands, by Paul McReynolds; Riverside, by R. A. Hopper; at Riviera, San Louis Rey, Escondido, by H. Elliott Ward San Jacinto, by J. W. Ingram; Chino and Ventura, by Cal Ogburn; Azusa and San Bernardino, by Jas. Small. We have but few churches in Southern California; we must stand by them until the morning of their day of strength shall come.

PACIFIC COAST.

Our entrance upon the possession of the islands of the Pacific has greatly enlarged our national life, and will increase the power and population of the Pacific Coast. With the early building of the Nicaraguan Canal the entire Pacific Coast will leap forward rapidly, and in the future the prophecy of Secretary Wm. H. Seward will be fulfilled, when "the commerce and the activities of the East will sink in importance, while the Pacific Ocean, its shores, its islands, and the vast regions beyond, will become the chief theater of the events of the world's great hereafter." The opening of the East will tend to transfer to the Pacific the activities which for three centuries have made the Atlantic the chief ocean in the world's life. Why should we not sow in this new soil with bountiful hand the seed of that simple New Testament gospel which we believe has so much to do with the future triumphant Christianity? The Society fully appreciates the possibilities of that great Pacific slope, and hopes to be permitted to pour men and means into that region; sowing bountifully that we may reap bountifully.

CANADA

Canada is becoming more and more appreciated. A magnificent empire with 488,766 more square miles than the United States; with natural resources of almost limitless extent; with a population that is intelligent, hardy and progressive; with a future that shall rival and reflect that of the United States, Canada appeals to us with power as one of the most promising fields in the world for our plea.

Your Board has heard the cry for help, and we are assisting the brethren at Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Pictou, N. S.; Halifax, N. S.; the Board of Co-operation of Ontario, and the brethren of Rat Portage, Ont.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

Robert F. Whiston, Missionary.

We once had a flourishing church at Charlottetown, but the great question as to whether the Anglo-Saxon race was the lost ten tribes of Israel was injected, and over this all-important question the church quarreled itself to death. A few souls were left who longed for the peace and rest of a simple faith in New Testament religion; on the appeal of these brethren, seconded by the recommendation of Donald C. Crawford, the pioneer of our Israel in the island, the Board decided to help them build up the waste places of Zion. They will at once build a house of worship.

PICTOU, N. S.

This is the home of Bro. David Fullerton, who built a house for the Lord, and then asked us to help build up a church to occupy the house. W. H. Allen, a recent graduate of Kentucky University, was sent there, and we are hopeful of results.

HALIFAX, N. S.

Of the Halifax Church, E. C. Ford, missionary pastor, writes:

The church in Halifax has been aided by the American Christian Missionary Society for about six years. In this time there have been over fifty additions by baptism, and about twenty-five by statement and from other religious bodies. A meeting-house, conveniently situated, has been built, costing about $5,000, on which there is still a debt of $1,500. The church is alive to all our missionary interests, and to the work of the Sunday-school and Endeavor Societies, and active in every good word and work. Whatever success has attended the labors in this city, by the blessing of God, would not have been possible without the timely aid, so freely given, of the American Christian Missionary Society. While there is much reason for encouragement and thankfulness, he church has sustained a severe loss in the removal of many of its faithful workers, which has left it weaker numerically than it was a year ago. This has been a serious loss to the cause in this field, for but for the removal of so many of the leading members from the church, it would have been now easily self-supporting. In the last ten months twelve have been baptized, all coming one by one at the regular services. The church is united, earnest, and anxious that the work of the Lord shall prosper in this, the metropolis of Nova Scotia, from which so many go out to different parts, carrying with them the knowledge of our plea that they have learned while here; thus the influence of the American Home Board is being felt in other fields through their work in this city.

CO-OPERATION WITH ONTARIO BOARD.

Contract was entered into with the Board of Co-operation of Ontario, similar to our contracts with various State Boards of Missions, as follows:

American Christian Missionary Society.

CONTRACT.

MEMORANDA of agreement between the Acting Board of the AMERICAN CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY and BOARD OF MISSIONS, OF ONTARIO.

WITNESSING: 1. That the Acting Board of the A. C. M. S. agrees to pay, in quarterly installments, to the said State Board of Missions, _____ Dollars for advancing Mission work in the State of _____ for _____ months, beginning _____, 189 .

2. That the said State Board of Missions agrees to disburse said money in Missionary work, under the advice and consent of the American Christian Missionary Society, in the State of _____ for _____ months, beginning _____, 189 , and to receive the aforesaid _____ Dollars as the full obligation of the A. C. M. S.

3. The American Christian Missionary Society agrees that all Mission work done by it within the State of _____ will be with the advice and consent of said State Board of Missions.

4. The said State Board of Missions agrees to make regular reports, as directed by the Corresponding Secretary of the A. C. M. S., embracing days in the field and at home, the names of places visited, the number of sermons preached, the number of baptisms and other accessions, the number of churches assisted and organized, the amount of money collected by said State Board from all sources, and any other matters of general or special importance necessary to inform the Board of the condition of the field of labor. Said State Board agrees to assist in making collections of money, as directed by the Corresponding Secretary, for the American Christian Missionary Society within the State of _____

5. It is agreed that either party to this agreement may cancel the same, by giving three months' notice.

Cor. Sec'y in behalf of Acting Board.

Dated, _____ 189 .

Cor. Sec'y State of _____

Under this contract we are uniting with our Ontario brethren in supporting M. L. Jennings at Hamilton, Ont. His reports are favorable.

Of Ontario as a mission field, R. W. Ballah writes:

Much might be said to show the importance of Ontario as a mission field. British North America contains an area about equal to that of the whole United States. The larger part of this lies in our great Northwest, stretching to the Pacific Coast and north to the Klondyke region. This new country is the scene of a rapid influx of emigrants from the East and South, and from Europe. Our religious neighbors, awake to their opportunities, are already in possession of the whole vast field, and are working it with a zeal and self-sacrifice worthy of imitation. Ontario is certainly the natural gateway by which our work of reformation can best reach the northwest, and yet we are so weak in Ontario as yet that we felt unable to help the one point (Swan River) from which an appeal came to us from that part of our land. In this Province only about one in five hundred is a professed disciple, and yet this seems such congenial soil for Christian union, one of our strong points that some of our religious neighbors have united their different sections here in a way to be found nowhere else. We have many cities, scores of towns, hundreds of villages and townships where our plea has not been heard right here in Ontario. We are doing what we can, though so weak. Let us hope that with the help received from our American brethren and under God's blessing we shall, ere long, be able to reach out strongly to our great Northwest and also eastward to French Canada.

RAT PORTAGE, ONT.

George Fullerton, of Rat Portage, wrote us that if we would assist him he would provide a meeting-place and take care of all expenses, and keep the preacher at his home, and add a contribution of five dollars a week toward a protracted meeting which should lay the foundation of the church at Rat Portage. We accepted this very liberal proposition, and the result was the sending of J. K. Hester to Rat Portage; he remained from April until Aug. 15, 1899, organized a church of twenty-one members; it is growing. We will continue to help them a little while; then we expect so brave a little church to walk alone. Joseph Keevil has been called to the work, beginning his labor Aug. 15, 1899. There are many other doors of opportunity open in Canada which we could profitably enter if our treasury permitted.

COLORADO.

Leonard G. Thompson, Cor. Sec., 524 Thirty-eighth Avenue, Denver.

Population, 560,000; number of churches, 36; number of members, 4,200. One member to every 133 of the population.

Colorado is under the missionary care of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions.

FLORIDA.

F. J. Longdon, Jr., Corresponding Secretary, DeLand.

Population, 500,000; number of churches, 9; number of members, 307. One member to every 1,275 of the population.

Florida is one of the most needy States. The State Board says:

In 1892 the Florida Missionary Society was organized for the purpose of establishing the cause of Christ in this needy field. In the winter of 1894-95 occurred the disastrous freeze which crippled all our work. We have paid several hundred dollars into the treasury of your work and have received but $100.80 in return. We have about twenty congregations that are unable to maintain regular preaching. As the result of the second freeze in 1899 many of our churches will need outside help or will disband. Let the crops fail in a Western State for a single year and the appeal for help is immediately heard and heeded; in many instances our brethren have lost the savings of a lifetime, and we make no cry except for help to carry on the work of the Lord. Appropriations have been made by you in fields not one-tenth as promising as is this State. Other religious bodies, recognizing that a splendid future awaits us, are not slow to expend large sums each year to strengthen their work and extend the same. Come to our rescue; it will not be long until our gratitude will be shown in liberal returning offerings.

Your Board offered a contract to the Florida State Board carrying an appropriation of such an amount as our treasury would justify; the amount was not as large as the Florida Board of Missions thought should be appropriated; they measured by the standard of their great needs; we were compelled to measure by the very different standard of the condition of our treasury; the Florida Board refused to permit the secretary to sign the contract; it is hoped the matter will soon be adjusted.

GEORGIA.

J. P. Downing, Corresponding Secretary, Atlanta.

Population, 2,000,000; number of churches, 130; number of members, 10,000. One member to every two hundred of the population.

H. C. Combs, the State evangelist, writes:

Georgia is the Empire State of the South; we have entered upon a new era of prosperity and development; her cities are growing, farm lands are being opened, and every mark of prosperity is coming to the State. Now is the time to enter with the gospel; we have fifty towns of more than one thousand inhabitants which have never heard our plea for New Testament Christianity; one hundred county-seats have no church that is simply Christian. We have the most urgent calls; the old conservatism is breaking down; doors heretofore closed are thrown wide open; we are grateful for your help, and covet its continuance and enlargement.

IDAHO.

The Board is helping the work in Lewiston, Boise City and New Mexico

LEWISTON.

J. O. Davis, the missionary pastor, writes:

Lewiston is the chief commercial city of Idaho. It is situated at the confluence of the Clearwater and Snake Rivers. The Oregon Railway & Navigation Co., and the Northern Pacific Railway Co., each has large river steamers plying on these rivers. Each of these companies is actively engaged in construeting new lines of railway in the Lewiston Valley. Lewiston is the oldest and wealthiest town in Idaho, and has a population of between 5,000 and 6,000. The Nez Perce Indian Reservation, in Nez Perce County, of which Lewiston is the county-seat, was opened to settlement four years ago, and has already become a rich and prosperous farming country. Our people organized a congregation here in February, 1897, with a charter membership of about fifteen. The American Christian Missionary Society took up this work Nov. 1, 1898. Our greatest need being a house of worship, we immediately commenced active work to that end, and on June 11, 1899, dedicated a neat and well-built house with a seating capacity of a little more than two hundred. We secured a loan of $500 from the Board of Church Extension, which is our only indebtedness. The outlook is very bright indeed. W. F. Cowden, of Tacoma, has promised us a meeting in November of this year. Bro. Cowden has visited Lewiston, and has a strong hold on the public. We have every reason to believe that our people have taken, and will hold, an important place in this city. Living expenses are very high here. Board and lodging can not be had for less than $30 per month. Your missionary receives a salary of $500 per year--$200 from the Home Board and $300 in the field. It will readily be seen that no missionary money is wasted in this field.

J. O. DAVIS

BOISE CITY.

G. L. Surber, the missionary pastor at Boise, writes:

Boise is the capital of the State of Idaho. It is the largest city in the State; has fine city school; two colleges; the Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterianshave fine brick church, edifices, and are making tremendous efforts to establish their religious views. Our people have a small frame church, with a debt of about $2,000. We must lift this debt, and then change our location to a more sightly locality before much can be done. Shall this important city, this most strategic point in this great State, be permitted to drag along for years in its present struggle for a mere existence, or will help be extended so as to get a start with the present great improvements in this place? It's now settled that we'll soon have two more railroads, this making Boise the railroad center of the State. A strong church here would have more influence for good than a dozen churches in any other part of the State. May God in his providence send the aid needed here.

MOSCOW.

Ernest Thornquest is the faithful worker at Moscow. He writes:

Idaho needs more preachers—preachers who have learned of Jesus the priceless value of a man; preachers whom the love of Christ constrains; preachers of a full gospel, not only doctrinally, but practically. None others are needed. For such preachers here is a great field. The outlook is bright, for the people generally are teachable, and prejudice is not so deep-rooted as in older communities. Given such preachers, and this State as yet only well entered, will in a few years become a stronghold for the New Testament.

ILLINOIS.

J. Fred Jones, Corresponding Secretary, Stanford.

Population, 3,826,851; number of churches, 780; number of members, 119,776. One member to every thirty-one of the population.

"There are thirty-six large towns with over two thousand population in Illinois that have no church that is simply Christian; twenty-six county-seats and eight counties without a single church of the Disciples of Christ."

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS.

In 1898 the southern part of Illinois formed a Board of Missions of Southern Illinois, with William Bedall as corresponding secretary; an appropriation was made from our treasury toward the work in that district. There is, in southern Indiana and southern Illinois, in southern Missouri and southern Kansas, a large number of brethren who do not work through missionary boards, and who do not co-operate in sending forth the gospel. To reach these brethren and interest them and enlist them in the larger work of the brotherhood is most desirable; to this work Bro. Bedall gave himself, but the failure to support him compelled him to give up the field and accept the work at Cowden, Ill. In August the Southern Illinois Board of Missions disbanded, and the territory again passed under the care of the State Board of Illinois.

INDIANA.

W. E. M. Hackelman, Cor. Sec., 314 Majestic Building, Indianapolis.

Population, 2,192,404; number of churches, 820; number of members 110,000. One member to every twenty of the population.

Indiana has forty towns of over one thousand population where there is no congregation of our brethren.

In southern Indiana the same condition prevails as in southern Illinois. There is a large number of brethren who do not co-operate in mission work. At the earnest call of the corresponding secretary, Bro. T. J. Legg, an appropriation of one hundred dollars was made to assist in work in that region. Work was done by H. C. Patterson in Seymour, and resulted in the organization of a church of fifteen members and the building of a church-house. W. H. Luck went to Williamsport and worked fifteen days and revived the church, baptizing twenty-two persons, and helped the cause forward. Some work was also done in Aurora, where we have a small, struggling church, "helpless and ready to die." The work at Aurora was strengthened and will be still further looked after.

T.J.LEGG

At the State Convention of Indiana the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we greatly appreciate the aid given to the State by the American Christian Missionary Society, and we trust that enough enthusiasm and interest have been aroused among our one hundred thousand members that will cause them to take care of their own work henceforth.

We understand this to mean that Indiana feels abundantly able to care for its own fields, and we congratulate the Indiana brotherhood upon this strong stand. The Indiana brotherhood is a resting giant; when he shall arise in the full realization and exertion of his latent powers, he can do a mighty work for God.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

F. G. Roberts, Corresponding Secretary, Vinita.

Population, 350,000; number of churches, 47; number of members, 4,000. One member to every 87½ of the population.

Four large towns of over two thousand population in the Indian Territory are without a church organization of the disciples.

The Board has assisted in doing work in Vinita, Stillwell, Fairland, Pryor Creek, Clarence, Bristow, Bartleville, Miami, Afton, Nowata, Olagah, Caddo, Chicotah, Ardmore, Purcell, Davis and S. McAlester.

F.G.ROBERTS

In 1884 the Board sent Isaac Mode into the Indian Territory as our missionary; since that time a number of men have preached in the Territory, until now we have forty-seven congregations. During the past two years F. G. Roberts has been our missionary; he has organized in the last year nine churches and received 532 persons into the church; there has been raised in the Territory for self-support, $2,000.

F. G. Roberts writes: "We are now facing a crisis in our work for lack of sufficient means to follow up our success; we face the problem, 'Shall the Territory be taken for the simple New Testament gospel, or shall our sectarian neighbors capture it for denominationalism?'"

IOWA.

B. S. Denny, Corresponding Secretary, 206 Fourth Street, Des Moines.

Population, 2,058,069; number of churches, 551; number of members, 52,200. One member to every thirty-nine of the population.

The secretary puts the cry of Iowa for mission work as follows:

OUR GREAT NEED.

1. There are fifteen counties in which we have no church, and thirty-six in which we are practically unknown.

2. There are thirty-eight county-seats in which we have no congregation.

3. There are 1,500 towns and post-offices in which we have no church; seventy-one towns of from 1,000 to 40,000 population.

4. We have from ten to sixty members in each of ninety-seven towns where we have no organization.

5. In the fifty-four northern counties the population is 700,000 and our membership only 12,000.

6. The cry for help is coming from every part of this great field. Read Rom. x. 13-15.

Iowa does not ask the General Board for help.

KANSAS.

O. L. Cook, Corresponding Secretary, 1221 Clay Street, Topeka.

Population, 1,427,096; number of churches, 401; number of members, 40,656. One member to every thirty-five of the population.

We have been helping the State Board do its mission work, also helping E. N. Phillips at Ottawa. Kansas is a garden for the Church of Christ, and wherever cultivated gives back an abundant harvest. Ottawa is confessedly a hard field, but the Board has confidence that Bro. Phillips will do them excellent work.

ARMOURDALE.

Elmer Davis, the minister, makes an earnest appeal for help to the church at Armourdale, and it should certainly be granted if the treasury will at all permit.

KENTUCKY.

H. W. Elliott, Corresponding Secretary, Sulphur.

Population, 1,858,635; number of churches, 840; number of members, 108,000. One member to every seventeen of the population.

South Kentucky.—J. W. Gant, Corresponding Secretary, Elkton.

LOUISIANA.

J. B. Cole, Corresponding Secretary, Cheneyville.

Population, 1,150,000; number of churches, 15; number of members, 1,200. One member to every thousand of the population.

Your Board assisted in supporting J. E. Spiegel as State evangelist. He has visited to help sixteen different places, with thirty-four additions. There is no more needy field than Louisiana, where, among 1,150,000 people, we have only fifteen churches and these are very small.

NEW ORLEANS.

The church at New Orleans has had a checkered career. The history of the city has reflected itself in the history of the church; the Civil War, foes without and fightings within, the returning epidemics of the yellow fever, the prostration and revival of business—all these have repeated themselves in the history of the church. S. R. Hawkins, the minister, resigned to become State evangelist of Alabama, and M. Pittman has taken up the work. Your Board feels that New Orleans is a point of strategic importance, and that we should stand by that work until the cause is self-supporting. We ought to have several churches in New Orleans.

J. E. SPIEGEL.

SHREVEPORT.

Claude L. Jones is the self-sacrificing and earnest pastor at Shreveport. The effort to establish a church at Shreveport, the second city of the State, is worthy of all commendation, and, we believe, will succeed. On account of the continued ill-health of his wife, Bro. Jones will have to remove to another climate; the church at Shreveport needs some one who will devote himself to it for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ; none but a heroic soul should undertake that work.

CLAUDE L. JONES.

MARYLAND AND DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

J. A. Hopkins, Corresponding Secretary, Clayton.

Population, 1,272,782; number of churches, 27; number of members, 4,059. One member to every 313 of the population.

We have assisted the Maryland and District of Columbia Board; and work has been done at Washington, D. C., by W. J. Wright; at Snow Hill and Good Will, Md., by H. J. Dudley; at Baltimore, by M. H. H. Lee; at Vienna, Va., by J. W. Moody.

The Third Church, Washington, D. C., is completing its new church home.

J. A. HOPKINS.

EASTERN SHORE.

Of the Eastern Shore of Maryland H. J. Dudley writes:

This field is an open garden; this is the greatest gardening region of the East, in closest touch with the greatest markets of the world. It is a new field for primitive Christianity; there is not a church of our people on the main line of railroad from Norfolk to Philadelphia; this road passes through eight county-seats where we have no congregations. Wilmington, Del., has 65,000 inhabitants and no Church of Christ; there are ten other towns of more than five thousand inhabitants in which we have no organization. This field is ready for our plea; denominationalism has had its full trial, and the people are weary of sectarianism; the statistics show that the denominational churches are losing their hold upon the people. I have been here under the National and State Boards for eighteen months; two congregations with forty and forty-eight members and two church buildings are the result, besides helping other points by protracted meetings. Every church on the Eastern Shore helps our missionary work. Two years ago none of them contributed to missions. A minister can live here cheaper than almost anywhere else. He can easily secure half his salary from the field. A little missionary money expended here will produce most excellent results.

H. J. DUDLEY.

Five hundred dollars will support a man in Wilmington a year; less amounts will support missionaries in smaller towns.

BALTIMORE.

M. H. H. Lee has been supported by the F. M. Drake Fund as missionary pastor of the work on Fulton Avenue. A new mission has been organized under the care and oversight of the Harlem Avenue Church. With the help of that church, a building has been purchased.

MARYLAND AS A MISSION FIELD.

1. Her needs are great. There is a great population, especially in Baltimore, with 300,000 unconverted, we are told. There are twenty-three counties in the State. In but four county-seats we have Churches of Christ. In but seven counties, anywhere.

In Delaware conditions are similar; three counties. But one church, and that in the country. Wilmington has 60,000 people.

2. Difficulties. The type of religion is strongly sectarian. The simplicity of the gospel of Christ is new to the people. American evils abound as elsewhere: Violation of the Lord's Day, gambling, the spirit of sport, and saloon influences.

3. Opportunities abound. People can be reached with the gospel. They will listen to it in most fields. There seems to be a feeling that something is wrong. They hardly know what it is. There is now a grand opportunity to establish a national assembly on our coast.

4. The promise is good. Whenever the disciples of Christ have really tried to establish the cause, they have done so. Their influence in Baltimore is said to be beyond the per cent. they constitute of the population. The churches are becoming more aroused to the needs of the field, and are liberal, evangelistic, aggressive, and desire to do more work. Four church buildings were erected in the past year. We need all the help the American Christian Missionary Society can pour into this great field at once.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

This is also a great mission field. Brethren found there seventy-two squares with no Protestant church of white people, also 128 squares with no church of white people who practice the New Testament doctrine of immersion. Opportunities seldom come to any people such as recently came to the Washington disciples and to our brotherhod, when a union mission of twenty years' standing, in a promising field, was turned over to our brethren at Vermont Avenue, with a property worth more than $7,000. With Ira W. Kimmel as pastor, it is to organize October 8, with about thirty members. The promise is good for more openings. There are difficulties—all the attractions of the Capital of one of the richest of nations—yet with more earnest workers, such as are there now, we can, and should, make this great head of the nation a great center of influence for New Testament Christianity.

J. A. HOPKINS, Cor. Sec.

MICHIGAN.

Alex. McMillan, Corresponding Secretary, 518 S. State Street, Ann Arbor.

Population, 2,241,454; number of churches, 109; number of members, 10,072. One member to every 203 of the population.

We have assisted the State Board of Michigan; work has been done at Kalamazoo, by H. D. Williams; at Mt. Pleasant, by H. E. Rossell; at Shepherd, by G. P. Coler; Fourth District, by B. D. Bright; and various protracted meetings have been held in the State. Michigan is a splendid field and will yield an abundant harvest for any work done there.

MINNESOTA.

J. K. Shellenberger, Corresponding Secretary, Madelia.

Population, 1,301,826; number of churches, 40; number of members, 3,625. One member to every 359 of the population.

We have continued the help of our treasury to Minnesota, and the reports show the field to be needy and fruitful. Work has been done at Worthington, Luverne, Dundee and Madelia, by C. C. Atwood; at Eden Valley, Maine Prairie and Litchfield, by C. M. McCurdy; and at Dundee, by J. S. Vandewalker. The State Convention passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Convention extend heartfelt thanks to the American Christian Missionary Society, for their support in days gone by given to our State, and for its promise to assist us in days to come; we appreciate the fraternity existing between the Minnesota Christian Missionary Society and the American Christian Missionary Society, and we recommend that the churches of the State give earnest support and attention to the appeals of this mother society. Let us make this a Jubilee Year, indeed. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of the above resolution be forwarded to the secretary of the American Christian Missionary Society.

E. T. Gadd, the retiring corresponding secretary, writes:

We began the year with a determination to win five hundred souls by missionary effort — we have won 513. We have had a very good year; but Home Missions will never get to the front until Minnesota receives more aid from our Home Board. We have one and a half millions of people with only three thousand disciples, and these are mostly in isolated bands; there are forty congregations, making an average of seventy-five in each congregation. We have forty-one cities with more than two thousand population with congregations of our brotherhood in only six of them. We cry for more help to evangelize Minnesota!

E. T. GADD

ST. PAUL.

A. D. Harmon, the missionary pastor, writes:

The St. Paul Church is steadily growing in numbers, missionary zeal and spiritual power. The internal grievances which for years thwarted its progress have completely disappeared. We have paid the last installment of $4,500 on our first mortgage. We raised $2,100 on current expenses, $180.40 on missions. All of this $6,880 40, except $900, has come from the 135 members of the St. Paul Church the past year. This indicates the spirit of the church. Twenty-eight have been added to our membership. This is the kind of disciples that the gospel of Christ and the ozone of the Northwest makes. St. Paul and Minneapolis form the commercial center for the whole Northwest. In the light of their future now is the time to lay the base. We are now planning to construct a modern, modest building in 1900, and then provide for our own support, but remember our gratitude to our foster-mother, the American Christian Missionary Society.

A. D. HARMON

MISSISSIPPI.

John A. Stevens, Corresponding Secretary, Jackson.

Population, 1,289,600.

The Board has continued the support extended John A. Stevens as State evangelist in Mississippi. His report shows a very successful year's work, including the organization of three churches, and the baptism of 170 persons into Christ. Bro. Stevens writes enthusiastically of Mississippi as a great mission field, giving thirty reasons why Mississippi has no equal as a mission field.

JOHN A. STEVENS.

In the Delta of the Yazoo Bro. Kilby Ferguson has established twelve congregations in the last ten years. We have one member to every 128 of the population, white and colored. Within the the last year we have had over one thousand additions. There are sixty out of the seventy-five county-seats in the State where we have no church. In the cities of Vicksburg, Natchez, Water Valley and Yazoo we have no church. While the Southern people are not so ready to rush in as others, yet we are not so ready to rush out. The strong moral sentiment of Mississippi makes it a most inviting field. In the new day that is coming to our home mission work, Mississippi rejoices abundantly, for we see in the great uplift that has come great hope that Mississippi may be helped in fuller accord with her opportunities.

JACKSON.

The church at Jackson suffered severely in the death of the minister, Walter A. Neal, in 1898. This was followed by the yellow fever epidemic, and the loss was heavy. The Board has assisted in the support of J. E. Willis as its missionary. He found the work demoralized, the church records lost, the membership discouraged. He writes:

At one time there was, in other days, the strongest church in Jackson; some unfortunate mistakes were made which have been buried with those who made them. M. F. Harmon came here in 1894 and gathered the scattered flock, and built a neat, modest church building. Walter A. Neal succeeded M. F. Harmon in 1896; he made many friends for the cause, and, had he lived, would have done a good work—his fruitful work is still in evidence; but while the shadows still pointed to the west, he entered into rest. My work began March 26, 1899. We have had six additions. My work is just beginning, and I am warned, "He that girdeth on his armor should not boast himself as he that taketh it off." Being the capital, this is the most important field in the State; success here will make itself felt all over Mississippi. We are at peace; we are grateful for help.

MERIDIAN.

The Board is helping Meridian, where Ira C. Boswell is the missionary pastor.

MISSOURI.

T. A. Abbott, Corresponding Secretary, 1123 Oak Street, Kansas City.

Population, 3,000,000; number of churches, 1,600; number of members, 165,500. One member to every 18½ of the population.

The General Board does no work in Missouri, except the work of city evangelization in St. Louis; for that work see "City Evangelization."

NEBRASKA.

W. A. Baldwin, Corresponding Secretary, Ulysses.

Population, 1,530,910; number of churches, 185; number of members, 16,000. One member to every ninety-five of the population.

W. A. Baldwin writes:

Nebraska is no longer an agricultural and industrial experiment. She has sailed prosperous waters, and ridden the waves of financial panic. Her future is assured as among the States. But we are young yet; hundreds of towns have never heard our plea. In many there is already a hopeful nucleus for a church, and the people are generally glad to hear. We need sustained missionary effort by men of character, brains and piety. Spasmodic evangelism has accomplished something, but systematic, well-followed efforts are what the situation demands. People want to know that the new organization is to be a permanency; they stand aloof otherwise. Much territory has been given over—churches built and then left. Many are dead; the field is wide and very promising. Nebraska need not be a mission field if the right sort of work is done now, in sufficient amount.

LINCOLN.

The church at Lincoln lost its building and divided. In the effort to save as much as possible, your Board assisted in maintaining T. J. Thompson as missionary pastor of the First Christian Church. He writes:

Lincoln, the seat of State government, and the center of Nebraska's educational interests, is a strategic point for missionary effort among the disciples of Christ. With a population of over 50,000, with the State university having an enrollment of over 2,000 students from all parts of the world, and all the other advantages of a capital and educational center, Lincoln needs our plea. After six months' labor here with the First Christian Church, I am led more and more to appreciate the value to the cause of the help from the American Christian Missionary Society, which has enabled us to gather together an earnest band of Christians who are certain to succeed. The first six months closed with a total of thirty-three accessions to our ranks. I am firmly convinced that the expenditure of $100 per year by the American Christian Missionary Society, for a period not exceeding two years more, will place us in a self-sustaining condition. Where could $100 be so profitably expended?

OMAHA.

Omaha is a superb field for aggressive mission work. A splendid opportunity is presented us to save the Walnut Hills property. Your attention is called to this field under the head of "City Evangelization."

NEW ENGLAND.

S. M. Hunt, Corresponding Secretary, Box 644, Springfield Mass.

Population, 5,500,000; number of churches, 25; number of members, 3,000. One member to every 1,850 of the population.

Work has been done by our help in Springfield, Mass., by E. C. Davis; in Princeton, by Winfield Thornton; in Swampscott, by E. F. Randall; in Machias, by R. E. Jope; in Brockton, by G. A. Reinl, and in Everett, by R. H. Bolton. S. M. Hunt writes:

New England has, at the present time, the best corps of preachers and missionary pastors ever known in her history. They are educated, self-sacrificing to a fault, devoted and true. The brotherhood, for all-round men, can scarcely produce their equal. There is Bro. Nichols, of Worcester, who has wrought a great work in that city; Bro. Mohorter, of Boston, who is resurrecting the church and firmly establishing the work there; Bro. Teagarden, of Danbury, Conn., who has succeeded in building up one of the largest churches in America. Bro. Minnick, of Lubec, Me., the eastern extremity of the United States, has built and paid for thirty-one houses of worship during his ministry, and added many converts. Bro. Reinl, formerly a Presbyterian, lived and studied in an attic, on $2 per week, in order to build up a church and complete and pay for a house of worship in Brockton, Mass. The readers of the Standard will notice that scarcely a week passes that he does not report additions to his church. Then there is young Bro. Picton, who is laying down his all to complete a house and build up the work in Everett, a residential suburb of Boston. There is also a self-sacrificing young man at South Gardiner, Me., by the name of Jope, who left a good-paying business to enter the ministry, and is doing wonders in the Kennebec River region. Besides these, there are the rising young preachers, Randall of Swampscott, Davis of Springfield, Flinn of Haverhill, and Monroe of Bridgeport, Conn., all doing a great work in their several fields. New England has done probably better than any other locality in the country for missions, comparatively speaking. The most of our ministers get less than $700 a year, and are worth twice the amount they get. We have only two churches in Vermont. They are both self-sustaining, and have Bros. Witmer and Tanner as pastors. We have no church in New Hampshire. There is no more productive field on earth than New England for our plea, and this is the verdict of every thoughtful disciple who visits this section. "Come over and help us."

S. M. HUNT.

NEW YORK.

C. M. Kreidler, Corresponding Secretary, North Tonawanda.

Under the support of the Board J. M. Morris, the State evangelist, has done work in Lansingburg, Brooklyn, Tonawanda, Buffalo, Pompey, Niagara Falls, Syracuse and Clarence. During the year he has baptized seventy-four persons.

New York contains about 10 per cent. of the entire population of the United-States. Among these six and a half million, the disciples of Christ have about 8,000 members, with only forty-seven organized churches. We have gained 80 per cent. in the last six years. The field is white. The members contributed $7,225 for missions last year, nearly one dollar each. New York disciples lead the brotherhood in the average amount contributed to missions. We have forty-four counties with over two million inhabitants where we have not a church. Greater New York, with four million people, has only six little churches and one mission. Albany, the State capital, with 125,000 inhabitants, has no congregation of our brethren. This is the largest city in the United States where we have no church, except Providence, R. I. We have six cities with from 25,000 to 50,000 population without a Church of Christ; we have three hundred towns of more than one thousand inhabitants that are without our churches. Yet in many of these there are groups of disciples that only need a little help and encouragement to go to work and organize the church. If "America for Christ" is to be our battle-cry, we must expect New York State to be our largest battlefield.

THE EASTERN COAST.

A conference of disciples living on the Atlantic Coast was held at Philadelphia the first week of May, 1899. About one hundred delegates attended this conference from seven States. After a faithful consideration and discussion of all phases of the matter, the conference unanimously adopted a memorial to the American Christian Missionary Society to sustain a general evangelist in the territory represented in the conference, the conference agreeing to co-operate in selecting, supporting and directing the evangelist. An Executive Committee was chosen, of which Dr. E. E. Montgomery, of Philadelphia, is chairman, and S. T. Willis, of New York, is secretary. Of this great field S. T. Willis writes:

> We have here on the Atlantic seaboard twenty-six million of people, more than one-third the population of the United States, and practically our people have nothing among them. We ask your Board to assist us in sustaining a man who can plant and foster new work in the populous cities of the Atlantic Coast. We should like to have a statement from the Board of your willingness to unite with us in this great work.

The conference expects to meet annually.

NEW MEXICO.

S. K. Hallam has been the faithful worker in New Mexico. He has been at Roswell, supported by our Board, for over a year, and has developed that field into self-support. He now goes to Lordsburg, and from that point will look after the whole territory and do general evangelistic work.

OPEN DOORS IN NEW MEXICO.

A broad and fertile tract of land, fanned by the cooling breath of the Rockies, unsurpassed in natural resources by any section of the West, New Mexico, yet largely undeveloped, bids fair to become a star in the constellation of States. A hundred thousand souls in this sunny land sit under the shadow of a power that only with ignorance can continue its oppression. When shall these people come forth and learn as did Luther, "The just shall live by faith"? The introduction of an open Bible, the inspiration of gospel songs, the love and sympathy extended by the missionary to the lonely and destitute, are agencies that are bringing about a new existence, new hopes and aspirations to many of these people. Though ignorance and superstition prevail among the poorer classes, and in many of these homes there is apparently little but animal life, yet these are they for whom Christ died.

MRS. ANNA KENT.

NORTH CAROLINA.

B. H. Melton, Corresponding Secretary, Wilson.

The Board has assisted in doing work in North Carolina at the following places: Trenton, by W. G. Johnson; Plymouth, by M. S. Spear; Winston, by H. C. Bowen; Elizabeth City, by M. Pittman, and Grimesland, by J. R. Tingle.

NORTH DAKOTA.

L. S. Bottenfield, Corresponding Secretary, Fargo.

Work has been done under our Board bv H. T. Morrison, at Ellendale.

L. S. Bottenfield writes:

We have six church organizations in North Dakota, viz.: Langdon, Casselton, Beaulieu, Ellendale, Fargo and Valley City. We have in these organizations a total of 165 members, an average of 27½ for each congregation. There are scattered brethren all over the State. No preaching has been done, except at Beaulieu, and meetings at Casselton, Langdon and Ellendale, all without additions. Our helplessness and our weakness make our plea to the great brotherhood to come and help us. North Dakota needs the pure gospel of the word of God. "Ye that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak. Save us or we die."

OKLAHOMA.

W. A. Humphrey, Corresponding Secretary, 417 East Washington Ave., Guthrie.

Population, 12,000; number of churches, 101; number of members, 7,500. One member to every 41 4-7 of the population.

Oklahoma has been accepted by the Central Church of St. Louis as the special field for her home missionary work. Bro. Humphrey will be put into communication with the church, and the field and the church will come to know each other intimately. It is recommended that this example be followed, and other churches select special fields for their work.

OHIO.

S. H. Bartlett, Corresponding Secretary, 14 Fair Court, Cleveland.

Population, 3,675,000; number of churches, 539; number of members, 70,281. One member to every fifty-two of the population.

There are thirty county-seats in Ohio without a church that is simply Christian. There are forty-five large towns of over two thousand population without any congregation of the disciples of Christ.

Robert Moffett gave up the work of secretaryship; S. H. Bartlett succeeded him. R. Moffett says that the Ohio State work is auxiliary to the American Christian Missionary Society, and the entire Ohio report should be embodied in the national report. Report of the Christian Missionary Society of Ohio from the beginning (1852) to and including 1899:

Number of churches organized (a large number reorganized and revived not included in these figures)	301
Number of persons baptized by missionary workers	27,664
Number of persons added otherwise	10,446
Total	38,110
Amount of money raised as included in published reports	$529,700.65
Amount of money disbursed	528,866.57
Balance in treasury	$894.08

TOLEDO.

The church property at Toledo, valued at $25,000, was about to be sold under mortgage, and be lost to our brethren. In this emergency an appeal was made to the Acting Board to help save the Toledo Church, and an appropriation was made to assist in paying the pastor's salary. C. W. Huffer is the minister of the Toledo Church, and writes very favorably of the work. He has held, with H. F. MacLane, some meetings in the suburbs of Toledo, and reports the prospect as good for another (the third) church in that growing city.

CLEVELAND

Is one of the finest fields for city evangelization in the whole country. With 400,000 inhabitants, growing rapidly, with fifteen churches to stand behind any mission that may be started, it appeals to every desire for successful mission work as one of the greatest fields in the world.

OREGON.

J. B. Lister, Corresponding Secretary, Eugene.

Population, 350,000; number of churches, 50; number of members, 7,500. One member to every fifty of the population.

J. B. Lister, the corresponding secretary, writes:

Oregon is a great and hopeful mission field. It must not be slighted. Geographically it holds that happy medium between the extreme North, with its barriers of snow and frost, and the South, with its heat that inclines to indolence. The natural resources of our State are unsurpassed. Many years ago, in the 50's and 60's, men came from the East in the wagon trains across the Mississippi Valley and the Rocky Mountains to Oregon and brought their religion with them, the principles advocated by the fathers in this current restoration movement or enterprise of our brotherhood. This was the seed of the present work in our State. We now number about 7,500; some 6,500 associated in the churches. In round numbers, about 1,000 stragglers or irregulars as to work and worship. None of the churches are strong; the best are only able to support the preaching of the gospel in their own locality. We have about one hundred churches that number from a dozen to 450 members. The membership is well distributed throughout the State. Nuclei of churches are in many places not yet evangelized. We have some cities of 5,000 to 8,000 where we are not represented, as Oregon City and Astoria; in these cities, as in many smaller towns, there are members enough, if brought into touch with work through the evangelist, to make churches. We need more evangelizing, very much more, by men sent to do the work. We have had evangelizing done by men not regularly sent, who, in working, if from no other cause than financial inability, have not been able to make the work stand. We need more money to evangelize with, in our State, and then help for missionary pastors—men to cultivate the planting. We have had a satisfactory, that is, a very promising, work done in this orderly way since your Board contributed to our treasury, in the past two years. It should be largely increased. Weak churches have been helped in many places by the evangelist, who has been preaching every night since you made the appropriation, except when passing on from field to field; and out of this planting has come an awakening to the brotherhood of the State. They have trebled their offerings to State work, which in crease has enabled us toget free from old debts, and employ missionary pastors to bring forward the work where churches in cities of some thousands could do nothing without the help; but as is the opportunity, the open door and the cries from the places to the one evangelist, what has been done (?), though so pleasant, hopeful and faithful, is "a drop in a bucket" to the State. Could not our gift from you for evangelizing be at least doubled, that we could have a second evangelist? There are a hundred places where our one evangelist ought to be to-day. It is like putting one man into a thousand-acre field of grain, to handle it alone, in the harvest month; he can only save a part, and do his best, while the rest must spoil. Oregon is just such a ripe field, wanting men sent into it. Send us more help now.

HOOD RIVER.

J. W. Jenkins, the missionary, writes:

We appreciate what the Board has done for us. We need your fostering care for another year. The tide of immigration has set in toward us, and the demand for mission work is greater than ever. The calls upon me from the neighboring places are more than I can answer. The time is opportune for us to lay the foundations of many churches. Please continue to stand by us!

PENDLETON.

C. A. Dotson writes:

To our friends in convention assembled, the church at Pendleton, Ore., sends greeting, with prayer to God for the success of the Jubilee Convention. We are bearing aloft the banner of Christ under conditions more hopeful than ever before. We rank fourth in number among the seven churches of this city. Our Sunday-school ranks second in the city. We are grateful to the brotherhood for their valuable aid in the past, and earnestly ask your continued aid until we can walk alone.

BAKER CITY.

W. W. Pew writes:

The church at Baker City is very grateful for the help of our brethren. We should have a church-house here. It is necessary that your Board continue your help and your direction of the church. This is a growing city, and bids fair to reach ten thousand inhabitants. It is the distributing city for eastern Oregon. This county is larger than the State of Delaware. The people are willing to hear our plea; we hope you will continue your aid to this needy field.

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

Chas. S. Long, Corresponding Secretary, Lock Haven.

Population, 3,000,000; number of churches, 53; number of members, 6,000. One member to every five hundred of the population.

By the help of this Board work has been done in eastern Pennsylvania at the following places: At Reading, by H. G. Weaver; at Le Moyne and Harrisburg, by H. F. Lutz; at Altoona, by E. E. Manley; at Sayre, by H. L. Maltman; at Philadelphia, by C. C. Garrigues; and in the field, by A. R. Miller.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

T. E. Cramblet, Corresponding Secretary, 351 Spohr St., E. E. Pittsburg.

ERIE.

The Board has continued the help to the Erie Church. M. B. Ryan, the missionary pastor, writes:

The church in Erie was organized March 3, 1889, with thirty-four charter members. In the ten years since, over three hundred names have been added to the roll. Deaths, removals and defections leave the present effective membership about one hundred. A church property has been secured, worth now $10,000 and steadily increasing in value. The location is central and accessible from all parts of the city. A part of the membership can not be surpassed anywhere in faithfulness. The field is a conservative one. It will require some years of patient work to build a self-supporting congregation. The Baptists have increased, in ten years, from one church to four churches and two missions, and from three hundred members to one thousand. A corresponding growth awaits us if the work can be supported and prosecuted for a number of years. Erie has about sixty thousand population, and is adjacent to a dozen counties in northern Pennsylvania and western New York, in all of which we have but this one church. The city is destined to grow, and the work should be faithfully prosecuted.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Dr. C. W. Erwin, Corresponding Secretary, Erwinton.

Population, 1,151,149; number of churches, 32; number of members, 1,200. One member to every 959 of the population.

Our Board has assisted the State Board in the support of Albert T. Fitts as general evangelist. For list of places helped, see report.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

A. H. Seymour, Corresponding Secretary, Arlington.

Population, 350,000; number of churches, 23; number of members, 1,000. One member to every 275 of the population.

The Board supported Milo G. Cummings, evangelist, in a meeting at Brookings. His report shows one church of forty-two members organized, twelve baptisms, and twenty-one other accessions.

TENNESSEE.

A. I. Myhr, Corresponding Secretary, Nashville.

Population, 2,000,000; number of churches, 545; number of members, 50,000. One member to every forty of the population.

TEXAS.

B. B. Sanders, Corresponding Secretary, Austin.

Population, 3,000,000; number of churches, 665; number of members, 75,000. One member to every forty of the population.

Texas is a magnificent empire, where great victories may be won for New Testament Christianity.

The State Board of Texas was organized in 1886. Since that time the missionaries of that Board have organized forty churches, and baptized 9,500 persons into Christ; and have added otherwise 3,250 persons to the churches, and raised and expended about $10,000.

Of Texas to-day B. B. Sanders writes:

In Texas there are 246 counties, with an aggregate area of 265,780 square miles. A population approximating 3,000,000. There are sixty-nine railways, including their various divisions and branches, giving easy access to no less than sixty towns, ranging in population from 1,000 to 12,000, where the disciples have no church organization. We have in this State 675 church organizations, and perhaps 75,000 members. We have about one member to every forty of the population. In the southern and eastern portions of the State, including some one hundred counties, we have only about one hundred church organizations, not averaging over one church to the county. In this district there is a population approximating 1,250,000, or nearly half the population of the State.

The Board has continued the aid to the churches of Galveston, San Antonio and El Paso.

GALVESTON.

Jesse B. Haston has been the faithful missionary pastor at Galveston He writes:

This city is to be a great center. If the business of the port of Galveston continues to grow for only five years more in the same proportion in which it has grown during the last four years, it will pass in volume beyond that of the seaport of New Orleans, and also Baltimore, and will stand next to that of the port of New York City. It seems that this growth is to be realized. The city is rapidly becoming the favorite seaport for the country, from Nebraska south.

JESSE B HASTON

The A. C. M. S. has shown strategic wisdom by inaugurating work at such a point. The work began in 1895. We now have a beautiful house and lot, valued at $8,000, nearly paid for, one hundred active members, a live mission in the West End, and a good standing in the city. The work was, and is, impossible without the aid of the Missionary Boards. The field is exceedingly difficult, but the work is growing. Thirty were added without a meeting the past year. The little church is grateful for aid received. An enduring monument to the labors of our beloved Home Society may be located at Galveston in this glad Jubilee year.

SAN ANTONIO.

George B. Ranshaw has continued at San Antonio. His work has prospered, and it is felt that better days are coming to the church at San Antonio. He writes: "The work is more promising than at any time since I came here. The church is hopeful and loyal. We shall win success!"

GEO B RANSHAW

Mexican Mission in San Antonio.—Last spring some Mexican people came to Geo. B. Ranshaw and asked about the Christian Church. They were weary of denominational rule and sought larger liberty. They had read their Bibles and read themselves out of Roman Catholicism, and wanted a resting-place. Mr. Ranshaw visited their little meetings in a private house. He preached to them through an interpreter, and as the result he baptized a number of them, and a little church was organized. Your Board helps them a little. Y. Quintero is their preacher, and is represented as a faithful man. This mission may be the means, under God, of developing Mexican preachers to carry the pure word of God over the border and southward to the souls bound in the chains of Roman superstition.

EL PASO.

R. D. Shults is the faithful minister at El Paso. His work prospers. He writes:

I would request, in behalf of the church here, that you continue to assist us for another year. I am almost positive if you will assist us for one more year we will be self-supporting.

The prospect for our cause is at least 50 per cent. better than it was this time last year. By close study of the location of El Paso, you will find that it necessarily becomes one of the most, if not the most, important field in the United States for our great plea. It is the coming city in the great Southwest, having now a population of 22,000, and is rapidly growing. To show the importance other people attach to this field, there is not a Protestant church in the city that is not a missionary church. We stand second now, and judging from our growth, as compared with others, the time is not far distant when we will be the strongest Protestant church in the city. We have had during our nine months' labor here as many accessions from all sources as any church in the city, and more baptisms than all the churches put together.

A Special Mission in Northwest Texas.—The church at Gainesville, under the lead of J. B. Sweeney, has taken a large district in northwest Texas as its special field. By its contributions J. M. Morton is maintained in that field. He is doing efficient work.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE CITY.

...IN UTAH: (1899.)

240,000 People (about 200,000 Mormons).

241 Post-office Places without the Gospel.
Only seventy with any stated form of Christian work.

120,000 People in These Places;

80,000 Mormons in Other Places; all Mormons trained not to attend Christian worship. Hence, 190,000 Mormons without the Gospel!

Mormonism Increasing, in spite of all Christian work so far. (See below.)

1,700 Mormon Emissaries Now at Work outside of Utah—their homes mostly here. One thousand in the U. S. alone.

Polygamy Constantly Practiced and Increasing.

A Polytheistic, Sensual, Heathen System of belief: people blinded by superstition and ignorant of Christianity and the Bible, tools for priestcraft.

Mormon "Church" Politics control elections.

The Danger Spot of America, civil and religious: actively seeking to infect the whole country.

his Convention should go on record as protesting against the seating of Congressman Roberts. May the Head of the church give us larger plans for Utah.

W. H. Bagby has continued in the service of the Salt Lake Mission. The pressing need of the work is the completion of their church building. If that could be done for them, the church could plan to walk alone. He writes:

Salt Lake is a prosperous, growing city of 70,000 population. It is situated in the midst of one of the most important sections of our country, seven hundred miles west of Denver, nine hundred miles east of San Francisco, one thousand miles south of Portland, and twelve hundred north of Los Angeles. It is now, and will ever remain, the commercial center of this vast territory. It is in the very heart of all the vast and vastly rich mining regions of the great West. It is such a strategic point as would have been seized and held at any cost by the great apostle to the Gentiles. It makes me sick at heart to think of the possibility of our people failing to meet the demand that this most unique of all miss on points makes upon them. May the God of missions help us to see and seize this opportunity!

"Why has not Mormonism died out long ago? Many people believe that it has practically done so; but the truth is that it has perhaps never been so alert and active as now, with 1,700 emissaries in the field. A few of the facts are grouped below, showing at once somewhat of the entrenchments of the system, the difficulties and hindrances which reclamatory work must surmount, and the urgent need of the New Movement.

"1. The control of the so-called 'priesthood' over faithful Mormons is almost absolute, so far as it chooses to be thus. It reaches to every department of life, but touches most the domestic, civil and religious aspects, and generally keeps Mormons from going to any place or using any means by which the true gospel might reach the heart. Clearly the truth can have little power over a life to which it has no direct access. Multitudes would leave the system forever were it not for this control, or in spite of it, could the truth only reach them.

"2. The exalted opinion of itself and its adherents which the system holds is a vital obstacle. Any "good" Mormon will say to the Christian, "We have all that you have, and much more, too. Why should we go to your church?" And Mormons are all taught to believe themselves the most moral people in the world—a belief which is exceedingly far from the truth.

"3. False definitions and materialistic conceptions also greatly hinder, largely by changing the very meaning of such fundamental Christian words as 'God,' 'Christ,' 'Holy Spirit,' 'faith,' 'sin,' the 'Atonement,' etc. Alike whether in Scripture, sermon or conversation, these words almost always carry untrue ideas to the Mormon mind.

"4. Political, social, sensual and financial reasons for becoming and continuing to be Mormons are often the ones which prevail, in spite of some knowledge of the truth. This shows the system to be more akin to Mohammedanism than perhaps to any other form of religion which has ever existed.

"5. Statehood for Utah, furnishing opportunity and immunity for polygamy and civil interference by the priesthood, besides increasing its power in general, has been a great hindrance. Just as was expected, it has put new courage into the whole Mormon system. Christian work is far more difficult than before, and less fruitful; and the chains of the priesthood are riveted far more securely upon the people.

"6. The new educational movement among Mormons is similar in its effects. "Church academies" are being planted in every Mormon "stake," and both here and elsewhere the common facts of science, etc., are being so distorted and interwoven with the false fables of Mormonism as to buttress the latter mightily in the minds of the young. Colored Sunday-school wall-rolls, illustrating the Book of Mormon, just as we do the Bible lessons, are an item in point among many.

"7. Misunderstanding of Mormonism by Christian people and workers has often hindered the intelligent concern and well-directed effort which are necessary. Polygamy is not the worst feature of Mormonism, awful as that is. Instead of being an erratic form of Christianity, as many have thought, the doctrines of Mormonism prove the system to be only a modern heathenism, expressed partly in Christian terms. It must be treated as such, though always in all forbearance and Christian love for its victims.

"8. The gospel has not directly touched the Mormon people as a whole. This is partly for the foregoing reasons, and also partly because more than three-fourths of the Utah settlements have never had any stated gospel privileges whatever!

"In view of even these few facts, it is no wonder that Mormonism has not ceased to live. While these great barriers have kept Christian truth from reaching most of the people in Utah, hundreds of Mormon emissaries have been abroad every year, deceiving more uninformed people into its toils. The fault is not in Christianity. The truth will conquer error everywhere, if it is given a chance, for God is behind it. To give it this opportunity, in ways which long experience has shown to be necessary, and which are not otherwise feasible, is the aim of the new Utah work, of which a recent home missionary superintendent in Utah says that he believes 'it will yield larger results than any other form of effort,' necessary as all are; and twenty-four Utah ministers say, 'Especially would we urge such work in the great number of religiously destitute places in Utah and surrounding regions.' And the time for it is now ripe"

VIRGINIA.

E. N. Newman, Corresponding Secretary, 1615 Grove Street, Richmond.

Population, 1,655,980; number of churches, 225; number of members, 18,000. One member to every ninety-two of the population.

FREDERICKSBURG.

Cephas Shelburne has been our missionary pastor at Fredericksburg. His work has been faithful. He has remodeled the church property and made it very neat and attractive. He writes:

The little band of disciples with me has labored under serious disadvantages. The building in which we worship was erected in 1832, wrecked by the Civil War in the battle of Fredericksburg, and for years has been an "eyesore" to the town and a disgrace to the cause we represent. Fredericksburg is an important manufacturing town of some six thousand people, midway between the cities of Richmond and Washington, and the center of a large scope of country in which we have no organization. The point is, therefore, strategic, and in time ought to become the center of operations for our people in this northern section of Virginia. Nothing, however, could be accomplished without a better building. The builders are now at work, and we shall have the old building changed into one of pleasing design.

WASHINGTON.

F. B. Sapp, Corresponding Secretary, 1215 N. Seventh St., Tacoma.

State Work.—F. B. Sapp has done excellent work as corresponding secretary and evangelist.

Wm. F. Cowden is the superintendent of the Northwest District. He has done splendid service. His salary is paid by T. W. Phillips, and thus these two strong brethren labor together with God for the upbuilding of the kingdom. Bro. Cowden is a tower of strength in the field and in counsel. We prize his work very highly. The following is h s report:

Discourses and sermons delivered 152; churches visited and addressed, 71; conventions, State and district, attended, 25; houses of worship dedicated, 1; colleges visited and addressed, 2; cash collected from individuals, $1,070.80. Five months in the Pacific Coast and Northwest. Seven months in the East and Middle States.

The work in the Pacific Northwest District for the past seven months has bee i under the management of the State evangelists, F. B. Sapp, of Washington, and J. B. L'ster, of Oregon. The progress of the work has been greatly encouraging and satisfactory. The West is recovering slowly from the great financial depression, and, with the revival of business prosperity, our churches are taking on hope and strength; while the marvelous enlargement of our national domain and power westward and across the Pacific Ocean into the heart of the Oriental and heathen nations emphasizes many-fold the importance of our missionary enterprises on the Pacific Coast, and should be heard by our people as the voice of God calling us to plan and to undertake greater things than ever before. May God enable us to come to our full strength in this era of sublime opportunities.

Of Washington, F. B. Sapp writes:

No other State in the Union offers more flattering opportunities to the disciples of Christ than Washington. Her intelligent and aggressive people are ready and willing to receive the truth. Puget Sound is the gateway to Alaska and the Orient. Our revised treaty with Japan means much Her timber, mining, fishing and agricultural industries are teeming. Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, and Belgium, all placed in Washington, would leave enough land upon which to grow 852,000 bushels of whea'. The disciples of Christ have a plea for Washington, America and the world. The supreme need is educated and consecrated ministers of the Word. The morning twilight has come. The sun will soon rise. Send forth laborers into the harvest. We covet the continued support of the American Christian Missionary Society.

SEATTLE.

J. N. Smith, missionary pastor, has continued at Seattle. The work is very difficult in some respects. The congregation sold their meeting-house and paid their indebtedness. They have been meeting in union services with the Protestant Methodist Church.

J. N. Smith writes of their great desire for a new church home, and of their efforts toward securing one. His work is faithful, and Seattle should be helped in a large way until our cause is firmly established in that coming emporium of the Northwest.

TACOMA.

B. F. Lingenfelter, missionary pastor at Tacoma, writes:

I take pleasure in submitting to the brotherhood a statement of our work at the Central for the year 1898–99: The days have been full of labor and anxiety. Our growth has been steady and substantial. Our membership has increased, and our missionary offerings are more than double that of any previous year. During the panic we lost heavily by removals, but the tide has turned, the old members are returning to their places, and new ones are coming with them. The city is enjoying an era of prosperity, which means growth to the church. We are at peace among ourselves, and united in all our efforts. We also have the confidence and high esteem of the best people of Tacoma. We beg your further assistance till we are able to carry our own burden.

NEW WHATCOM.

W. S. Crockett, missionary pastor at New Whatcom, writes:

Every missionary thinks his own field the most important. Declarations to this end fall unheeded. I will present in figures a few facts concerning the field in Washington: In 1898 the output of Washington in wheat was $12,000,000; in coal, $12,250,000; in lumber, $10,000,000; in fish, $2,110,000; in fruit, $1,000,0 0; in butter and cheese, $590,000. In Washington are 18,570,000 acres of unappropriated land. Her industries are comparatively undeveloped; her resources can not be estimated. Every train and every boat coming this way bears emigrants—homeseekers. Now is the time for the sowing of the seed, the Word of God. Our churches are twenty-five, fifty, and one hundred miles apart. These are facts. Comment is unnecessary.

WALTER S. CROCKETT

WATERVILLE.

E. W. Powers was the missionary pastor at Waterville, but he found the field unsuited to him, and he resigned within a month, and returned to California.

WEST VIRGINIA.

A. Linkletter, Corresponding Secretary, Moundsville.

A. LINKLETTER

Population, 1,000,000; number of churches, 176; number of members, 12,000. One member to every eighty-three of the population.

We have helped the State Board of West Virginia in Moundsville, Big Run, Wayman's Ridge, New Bethel, Huntington and Morgantown.

Your Board assisted in a special meeting held at Morgantown, the seat of the State University, under the auspices of the State Board. I. J. Spencer was the evangelist; the result was the organization of a church at that important place. A new building has been secured, and with a little help the cause will soon be self-supporting.

HUNTINGTON.

Your Board is helping the church at Huntington. The church was about to be sold for debt, when the Extension Board came to their help on condition that the Acting Board assist in supporting the minister for a little while. A. E. Ziegler is the efficient minister, and the work is growing slowly but surely. He is faithful and true, and will doubtless soon place the church at Huntington on a safe footing.

A. E. ZIEGLER

MORGANTOWN.

We united with the West Virginia Board in sending I. J. Spencer to Morgantown. The State University is located here, having an attendance of about eight hundred students. The result was the upbuilding of a church, the dedication of a neat house of worship. This brave little church will receive the help of the Board until it can walk alone.

WISCONSIN.

C. G. McNeill, Corresponding Secretary, 370 Thirty-third Street, Milwaukee.

Population, 1,500,000; number of churches, 20; number of members, 1,125. One member to every 1,342 of the population.

Work has been done by the help of our Board in Bloom City, Richland Center, Lynxville, Footville, and other places.

In connection with the C. W. B. M., we have supported the State Board of Wisconsin.

Of the field C. G. McNeill writes:

Every church in the State except one has been visited, some of them several times. Our main work has been with our weakest and pastorless churches. We have had nine men in the field various lengths of time. The total number of days' work, to September 1, is 662; number of sermons, 376; number of baptisms, 73; other additions, 14; total additions, 87; eight protracted meetings have been held; 1,674 letters and postal cards have been written; 1,382 other parcels sent by mail; two conventions held. We have sought to co-operate with all our general Boards in developing interest in their work, and securing offerings for them. We have sought to foster and quicken the work at places other than those where we were actively engaged, giving oversight and encouragment throughout the State.

Now, as to the results of work done. Every church in Wisconsin gave for Foreign Missions this year. Several gave larger gifts for Home Missions. Three auxiliaries to the C. W. B. M. have been organized. A total of $6,217.05 has been raised for various work. The church at Lynxville had not met in three years; we added thirty-four to their membership, and placed them where they are, the leading church in the village, a railroad town. We changed one Norwegian church into an American one, at Chippewa Falls; organized two Sunday-schools, Lynxville and Merrill, one other also being organized at Chippewa Falls, and organized one Y. P. S. C. E. at Lynxville. The State Board is free from debt.

This work has been done by your help. Without your help it could not have been done. Our State Board and our State Convention have both adopted resolutions of gratitude to you. Both the Board and the Convention appeal to you for the continuance of your aid in the same sum as given last year. We could use more to advantage, but do not ask it now.

The Baptists spend $10,000 annually in this State from their home missionary funds. We had $1,000 last year—$500 from you and $500 from the C. W. B. M. The Baptists reported 153 additions, with $10,000. We reported eighty-seven with $1,000—more than half the increase, with just one-tenth the expense. They also have fifteen times as many members to back up their work. We hope to equal them in results, or better, next year. We pray for your continued help. We pray that our work thus far may meet your approval, and the approval of Him who is above us all, and that the future may have still better things to unfold to us.

WYOMING.

Wyoming is an unorganized State, in which we have only four churches, with 360 members. It has some growing cities, where we should have strong churches. We have urgent appeals from Cheyenne and Laramie to come quickly to their help.

Extent of Our Work.

The extent of the Society's work is continental, extending not only throughout the United States, but into Manitoba and the Maritime Provinces, to Porto Rico, Canada, and, as soon as the means shall permit, into Alaska, and then on to Mexico.

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

The work of city evangelization continually grows upon our hands; it is a work of patriotism as well as Christianity; it is a work that grows more costly and complex as it reaches farther out; here Home Missions and Foreign Missions interlock each other as nowhere else; the city is the center of the nation, and thus one of the centers of the earth. An American city, with its heterogeneous mass of population, reaching by blood relationship to all the lands of the earth, is a field of missions never surpassed, perhaps never equaled, in all the history of gospel effort.

Your Board is helping the local forces in the following cities: Altoona, Pa.; Anniston, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; Baltimore, Md.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Chicago, Ill.; El Paso, Tex.; Erie, Pa.; Everett, Mass.; Fredericksburg, Va.; Galveston, Tex.; Halifax, N. S.; Huntington, W. Va.; Lansingburg, N. Y.; Moscow, Ida.; New Orleans, La.; New Whatcom, Wash.; N. Tonawanda, N. Y.; Pendleton, Ore.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Phœnix, Ariz.; Rochester, N. Y.; Roswell, N. M.; St. Paul, Minn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Seattle, Wash.; Sioux Falls, S. D.; Springfield, Mass.; Swampscott, Mass.; Tacoma, Wash.; Washington, D. C.

ALBANY, N. Y.

J. M. Morris writes:

I appeal for Albany, N. Y., our State capital, which, with its immediate suburbs, has about 125,000 people. It is the seat of one of the oldest and greatest State normal schools. We should help to teach its thousands of teachers sent out to educate the nation. It is making a new growth—is making good openings for missions. This is the nick of time.

Albany is the most commanding city in America in which we have no church; there is but one larger—Providence, R. I. It is estimated that there are at least fifty scattered disciples, of whom sixteen have been found, sufficient in number and quality for a vital nucleus of a church.

Many brethren of the State are anxious for the church to be planted in the State capital, and have expressed their willingness to help. If we commence now, the new church can be made a "Jubilee Memorial" for the State, and all the churches of the State will help in the work.

BOSTON.

On the 13th day of January the corresponding secretary dedicated the new church building at Boston, and the brave little band assumed the burden of self-support. J. H. Mohorter has accepted the work of serving them in the gospel, and we note any sign of their prosperity with pleasure. The church at Boston would not exist to-day were it not for the support given to the work of Home Missions. We should not cease work in Boston, but should select another part of the city and lay the foundation of another church; indeed, if we could organize a church a year in Boston, it would only be a small impression that we could make upon its population of 800,000.

CITY MISSIONS IN CHICAGO.

The Board of City Missions of Chicago reports:

The American Christian Missionary Society has continued its co-operation with the Chicago Christian Missionary Society, contributing two dollars for every dollar raised by the Chicago churches for city missions up to the limit of $1,000. As a whole, this work is in good condition, and the outlook never more hopeful in the history of this city.

E. W. DARST.

At the beginning of the year, E. W. Darst's services were divided, giving only one-fourth of his time as superintendent of missions, while the other three-fourths was to be devoted to one point, Evanston, with the hope of housing this congregation. His physical collapse, however, came at a critical time for this enterprise. He writes:

"Notwithstanding all hindrances, the success of this work during the year has been gratifying. The Chicago Board has reduced its indebtedness $600. Three new churches have been organized and one mission established. One mission church building and one tabernacle have been erected during the year. Also one $6,000 building is now under construction, while two mission churches are collecting funds with which to build.

The churches organized in Chicago by aid of the American Christian Missionary Society, in the last five years, are reported as follows in order of their inception:

Hyde Park.—Errett Gates, pastor; 115 members; twenty-six additions during the year. This congregation is now building the walls of a $6,000 building, which will be free from debt on completion.

Douglas Park.—G. W. Infield, pastor; fifty-five members; nine additions during the year. There has been an actual loss in their membership owing to removal.

Evanston Church.—W. C. Payne, pastor; 107 members; ten additions during the year. They meet in Odd Fellows' Hall.

West Pullman.—W. H. Hanna, pastor; eighty members; sixteen additions during the year. They have their own house of worship and only a small indebtedness.

Garfield Boulevard Church.—Ministered to by city evangelist; forty members; ten additions during the year. Arrangements are now being made for a meeting by Bro. Darst.

Garfield Park Church.—No pastor at present; twenty-six members; two additions during the year. Here is also a decrease in membership, owing to the fact that the former pastor has withdrawn and organized an independent mission.

Humboldt Park Church.—F. Nelson Glover, pastor; eighty members. They have bought a fine lot and have a growing building fund. The City Board assists in carrying the expenses of church.

Austin Church.—George A. Campbell, pastor; eighty members; fifty additions during the year. They built a tabernacle for the Scoville meeting, which resulted in thirty-eight additions to the church. Meet in a hall.

Irving Park Church.—George A. Ragan, pastor; 104 members; thirty-four additions during the year. They have a new church home.

Ashland Avenue Church.—H. W. Hoover, pastor; sixty-five members; sixty-five additions during the year. They are now in their second meeting with E. W. Darst. The church was organized by J. F. Finley.

First Christian Church, F. G. Tyrrell, pastor, with a membership of 150, and the South Side Christian Church (colored), with a membership of sixty-three, under the pastoral care of D. R. Wilkin, have been organized during the year without appropriation from our treasury.

The Northwest Mission has been organized under the care of A. Larrabee, consisting of a Bible-school of two hundred members, mid-week prayer-meeting and Ladies' Aid Society. They break the loaf Sunday afternoon.

The Englewood Church also conducts a mission Sunday-school at Halsted and Sixty-ninth Streets.

These mission churches are well organized, having Bible-schools, Christian Endeavor Societies (most of them Junior Societies), Ladies' Aid Societies and Christian Women Bible Missionary Auxiliaries. The tabulated report does not include moneys raised and expended by the auxiliary organizations of the mission churches.

Our older, debt-burdened and handicapped churches are gaining in the conflict. The West Side Church, Bruce Brown, pastor, builds their auditorium this year. The Union Church, J. H. O. Smith, pastor, has one thousand members. The Monroe Street Church, C. C. Morrison, pastor, raised $6,000 of their indebtedness this year. The North Side Church, W. B. Taylor, pastor, has built a comfortable house. The Englewood Church, has liquidated the indebtedness, and is thinking of building a new house. Pray for our cause in this great city."

The Church of Christ nowhere exhibits greater heroism and self-sacrifice than is manifested in these churches in Chicago.

GREATER PITTSBURG.

Of Greater Pittsburg too much has not yet been said. Here is a hive of industry not equaled in America. Of it our own brother, the Hon. W. H. Graham, said in Congress:

CONGRESSMAN GRAHAM'S SPEECH.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—Having the honor to represent in Congress a section of Allegheny County adjacent to Pittsburg, I desire to call attention to the importance of this portion of our great country, and I state, without fear of successful contradiction, that this is the center of the greatest hive of human industry on the face of the earth; as I will demonstrate by the following statistics collated from State and national bureaus. To impress these facts more forcibly, I have put them into comparative form.

"Pittsburg is the center of greatest population in the United States, outside of New York and Philadelphia. Within a radius of sixty miles around Pittsburg reside 1,608,964 people, a greater population than Chicago and a similar radius. The capital, surplus and deposits of the banks, national, State and savings, of this one county exceed the combined banking capital, surplus and deposits of eight Southern States. The tax valuation of property in the county is $490,000,000; real estate exempted from taxation, $64,000,000.

"Allegheny County produces 47 per cent. of all the steel made in the United States, 56 per cent. of all steel rails made in the United States, 75 per cent. of all plate glass, 27 per cent. of all pig iron, 40 per cent. of all window glass, 50 per cent. of all table glass ware, 50 per cent. of all harness leather, 25 per cent. of all bituminous coal mined in the United States, 33 per cent. of all paper sacks, 75 per cent. of all wrought iron and steel pipe, 20 per cent. of all clothing made in the United States, 25 per cent. of all nails and spikes.

"Has 2,483 mills and manufacturing establishments, with a capital of over $200,000,000; value of annual products, $244,525,875; paying out in wages over $60,000,000 annually.

"Has sixty-two blast furnaces and rolling-mills, employing 82,000 workers. Also over 250 miles electric street railway, with a combined capital of $54,000,000. One thousand miles of iron pipe is used in conveying natural gas to the manufactories and buildings

"Pittsburg stands sixth among the cities of the United States in comparative volume of bank exchanges.

"The Pittsburg coke district produces 65 per cent. of the entire output of coke in the United States; the Pittsburg oil district produces 60 per cent. of the entire output of oil in the United States. The daily output of coke, if loaded on one train, would be ten miles long, and yet, notwithstanding this immense product, survey shows 75,000,000 acres of coking coal yet untouched in this section.

"The above figures show only a few of the leading industries that far surpass those of other sections, but in addition to this there are hundreds of other lines of manufacture which I have not time to dwell upon.

"While Pittsburg is famous the world over as the manufacturer of the most unyielding products of man's labor, namely, iron and steel, yet it stands first in the manufacture of glass, that most brittle and perishable article of trade. Pittsburg can present annually to every man, woman and child in the United States a glass bottle, and she sends out with them annually 20,000,000 tumblers.

"To provide for other cravings of the stomach she has one firm that sends out pickles enough to present every human being on the face of the earth with one.

"Pittsburg has a greater railroad and river tonnage than any other city in the world, her railroad tonnage being three times that of New York or Chicago, twice that of London, and four times that of Paris. Imagine a railroad tonnage in excess of the combined railroad tonnage of New York, Chicago and Boston. Two hundred and fifty passenger trains enter and depart daily from Pittsburg. Five thousand loaded railroad cars enter and depart daily. Including the Connellsville coke region, over 2,000,000 railroad cars are loaded annually.

"The trade of a single firm in iron ore, limestone, fuel and finished product amounts to a greater tonnage than the combined cotton product of the Southern States, the combined rail and river tonnage being one-half as much as the combined commerce of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

"Allegheny County consumes during the winter months over one hundred million cubic feet of gas per day. This is a greater consumption than at any time since the discovery of natural gas, and certainly does not indicate that the supply is becoming exhausted

"Within the county is located the largest Bessemer steel plant in the world, the largest crucible steel plant in the world, the largest plate-glass plant in the world, the largest chimney-glass plant in the world, the largest table-glass plant in the world, the largest air-brake plant in the world, the largest steel-rail plant in the world, the largest pickle works in the world, the largest cork works in the world, the largest tube and pipe works in the world, and the largest steel freight-car works in the world, and includes the largest coffee-roasting establishment in the world.

"Pittsburg's achievements, however, are not confined to such productions as those enumerated. It has the finest courthouse in the United States, splendid business blocks, miles of costly residences, and magnificent public parks. Its educational and art institutions take high rank. It has probably given more and greater men to scientific research than any other city of its size in the country. Its astronomical observatory is famous the world over. Its wealth has bloomed out into libraries and art galleries and music. Its art exhibits draw the best critics of New York, and attract some of the finest products of the easels of Europe. Its strategic position, its boundless agricultural and mineral treasures, its inventive genius, grit and grace, have combined to crown the Iron City as queen of the greatest hive rank of human industry on the face of the earth. This is its attainment and rank to-day, and its present development is only the bud of its future greatness. The twentieth century will here see one of the great cities of the world. Paul was proud of the fact that he was a citizen of no mean city, and Pittsburgers may be pardoned if they occasionally overcome their modesty and show a touch of the same pride."

Into this field the Board has entered, as yet, in a very small way, in uniting with the Board of Western Pennsylvania, in supporting Earle Wilfley as missionary evangelist. He writes:

EARLE WILFREY.

I entered upon my work as superintendent of city missions the latter part of May, and began at once in a tent meeting at Turtle Creek, with the especial co-operation of Bro. O. H. Philips and the Braddock Church. I spent the months of June and July at this place, with the result that a band of disciples, numbering about thirty-five, has been prepared for a forward movement, a suitable lot has been secured, and about $800 raised to pay on the same. The month of September I have spent at McKee's Rocks. We had about twenty brethren there, who were brought together as a nucleus. At this writing, our meeting is still in progress, with about fifteen additions to date. The prospects for this field are bright, and we confidently expect that these brethren will have their own church home before Christmas. This is a great field, and many more workers needed. So far, we have only been playing at city missions, the great mass of our work being untouched. Large gifts and many consecrated workers are needed to win the cities. With such, it can be done. May the Lord of the harvest grant our prayers.

OMAHA.

Omaha offers special inducements as a field for city evangelization. There is a population of 150,000. We have two churches and a defunct mission, called the Walnut Hills Mission. A gentleman, much interested in our cause, offers to move the Walnut Hills building to a location in the choice residence part of the city, and subscribe $100 per year toward the support of the missionary pastor. We ought to be able to take advantage of this generous offer.

PHILADELPHIA.

Our treasury has been helping the Philadelphia "City Board of Missions." The report is as follows:

BRETHREN:—Some years ago a missionary movement was started by the First Church, under the direction of A. B. Philputt, in the northwestern part of the city, which has been conducted continuously since. In this work, with the assistance of the Home Missionary Board, C. C. Garrigues was continued for some years, having been paid quite largely from the balance of a fund of the First Church, known as the Mark Richards Legacy, in addition to subscriptions from the church and contributions from the members of the mission. This mission has recently organized a church known as the Kensington Christian Church, with some sixty members. They have secured a more favorable location than they ever have had heretofore, in a hall from which a Presbyterian church has just gone out. They have at present the services of Cal Ogburn, formerly of the State of Washington, who is working for them very satisfactorily, and with an exceedingly hopeful outlook for the future. The church itself is able to do little more than take care of its hall. The other churches in this city, which have been co-operating in the association work, are deeply in debt, and require to strain every effort to carry on their individual work, so that they are unable to longer contribute to the support of this church. Under these circumstances it is necessary that they should look to the Home Mission Board for a larger appropriation to save the work that has already been accomplished, from disintegration and loss.

A second movement has recently come under the direction of the Missionary Association in this city, and that is the work instituted by David Millar at Newmarket and Brown Streets. This work is of special interest for the reason that Bro. Millar had, in ignorance of the existence of our people, groped his way from the Kirk of Scotland originally, through the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches, to a stand which placed him in complete harmony with us. He became aware of the work of the Christian Church, and at once proceeded to investigate its position, and did not hesitate to place himself immediately upon its platform. By taking this stand he has cut himself off from support which he was receiving from Baptists and others in his missionary work. He is an earnest, faithful man; has a church of over twenty members, which is known as the Beth Eden Christian Church. This is a movement which we should by all means assist.

In my judgment neither one of these struggling churches should be permitted to go down for want of a moderate support. A generous appropriation for one or two years would place these two movements upon an independent footing, in which they could be self-supporting. Hoping that you will consider this as an urgent appeal for work in this city, I am Most sincerely your brother, E. E. MONTGOMERY.

SAN FRANCISCO.

For many years the denominations have regarded San Francisco as a very profitable mission field, into which they have put thousands of dollars, and where they have found many precious souls for the Lord Jesus. Out of these missions have grown many strong churches, and from them Chinese and Japanese ministers. They have sent most successful workers back to the home lands, bearing the precious gospel to their relations and friends. In missions, as everywhere else, if we sow bountifully, we shall reap bountifully; if we sow sparingly, we shall reap sparingly.

We number about the same number of members in the State of California as do the Presbyterians, the Congregationalists, the Baptists and the Episcopalians; but in San Francisco the Presbyterians have seventeen churches; the Congregationalists, thirteen churches; the Baptists, seven churches; the Episcopalians, nine churches; while the disciples have only two churches, and neither one of them is strong numerically or financially. Our treasury has been so poorly supplied with means that we have sown sparingly and reaped in the same measure.

The opportunities to plant a Japanese mission in San Francisco "is a great door and effectual" which the Lord has opened to us.

ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis Board of City Missions writes:

To understand the work we have undertaken in this city, under the auspices of our City Mission Board, it is necessary to understand our present strength and surroundings. In this city of now nearly three-quarters of a million souls we have thirteen congregations, twelve houses of worship, and a total membership of but little over three thousand souls. Of the houses of worship four are but chapels, nine have a debt, and but six sustain preaching without outside assistance. The weaker churches are the Carondelet, Lindenwood, Ellendale, Tuxedo, Fifth and Second. A co-operation has been maintained between all of our churches in this city through the agency of our City Mission Board for some years; and much assistance in this way has been rendered to various churches, but it has been manifest for some time that our resources were inadequate to the growing interest of the cause in the city. We had weak churches that needed strengthening, missions that needed developing, and new doors constantly opening that needed entrance; but for all of these things we were not equal. We sorely needed a general evangelist for the city, but could not employ one.

This was our condition when a proposition from the American Christian Missionary Society came to us offering to assist in the maintenance of an evangelist. A contract was soon signed, and, after due care on the part of our City Mission Board, A. J. Marshall, of Onawa, Ia., was employed. The next thing was the plan upon which he should work. The City Mission Board had for some time held to the view that it would be unwise to continue the doctrine of expansion, for a season at least. The thing most needed was to strengthen some of our well-located, weaker churches and mission points; and even in this, that it would be best to take these places seriatim. Consequently, after due deliberation, it was decided that Bro. Marshall should begin in Carondelet.

Carondelet is the southern point of St. Louis, and has a population of twenty to twenty-five thousand inhabitants, a large per cent. of whom are Americans and Protestants. In this district we had a few members as the result of a few feeble efforts by various persons to establish a Christian Church. Here Bro. Marshall found about three dozen persons, the remnant of a once larger number, who were willing to go to work. These Bro. Marshall set in order, and since May 1 good progress has been made toward their establishment as a church. There have been numerous additions, greatly enlarged audiences at each service, and the usual church activities inaugurated, so that on the whole the City Mission Board feels that commendable progress has been made.

One of the great wants of this congregation has been a suitable house in which to meet. Bro. Marshall has taken the matter in hand, and this week a payment will be made on a good building that can be easily converted into a neat and commodious place of worship.

Just how long Bro. Marshall will continue at this point can not yet be determined, but as soon as the wants of the congregation can be otherwise provided for he will begin the reinforcement of some one of the other weaker churches. In the meantime he has been extending his acquaintance with each of the congregations in the city, and occasionally assisting with a visit, a sermon or a meeting. He assisted O. A. Bartholomew in a two weeks' meeting in the West End Church during the summer, with excellent results, and to the delight and edification of the church. He is now just beginning a meeting with W. F. Hamann in the Fifth Christian Church, which is also in the southern part of the city, but several miles north of the Carondelet Church. On the whole, the City Mission Board is pleased with Bro. Marshall's ability, methods of work and present results. All that he has done has been done during the summer. The best season for results is now just approaching, and he is planning for greater things for the Master.

The City Mission Board is also pleased with the timely and prompt assistance of the American Christian Missionary Society, without the aid of which it could not have undertaken this great work in this great city.

With great hopes of large results from this co-operative work, we remain,

THE CITY MISSION BOARD OF ST. LOUIS.
Per W. W. Hopkins, Sec.

Protestantism, in its divided condition and with its present methods, is losing ground in the cities. The churches are not keeping up with the growth of the cities. Thoughtful men are looking for a remedy. "Federation of churches," "Institutional" and "Open" churches and other plans are being tried. The Old World is pouring thousands of its people through our ports, and most of them find their homes in our cities. Is city evangelization a factor in the problem of "America for Christ"? Then the cities demand our consideration.

If the disciples of Christ in America have any strength to help in time of need, they are under the profoundest moral obligation to throw forward their supporting columns of missionaries now.

The "front of battle," the "firing-line," is in the cities of the land, and in most of these the disciples of Christ are doing nothing. "Let us go up to the help of the Lord against the mighty."

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The importance of Washington, D. C., as a point to be won and held for Christ's simple gospel can not be estimated. There is a population of 275,000 souls, and it is growing. We have two churches; a third church is struggling to secure a home; a fourth mission is being assisted by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. "There remaineth yet much land to be possessed." We ought to have a score of churches in Washington, D. C.

Porto Rico.

J. A. Erwin went from the Chattanooga Convention to "view the land" of Porto Rico as a mission field. He passed on horseback through the island, studying the people and their needs, and filed a report urging the Acting Board to begin work in the island.

At a special meeting of the Board, Jan. 6, 1899, J. A. Erwin and wife were elected missionaries to Porto Rico. They sailed from New York April 18, 1899, and reached Ponce, P. R., April 23. Went at once to San Juan and began the study of the Spanish tongue, preaching in the Y. M. C. A. Building in English. Bro. Erwin has rented a centrally located house, which will be used as a meeting-house and schoolhouse and dwelling. Tracts in the Spanish tongue have been secured and distributed.

"We are the first Protestant missionaries on the island. Except the Protestant Episcopal Church in Ponce, this is the only Protestant church that has ever been on the island. Its services are in English; it is exclusively for the English people residing there, and is not missionary, making no effort to convert the natives. We find the people very ready to receive our books and tracts. Our Testaments, being in both Spanish and English, are being used as text-books by those who wish to study English. Large numbers of the people can neither read nor write; those who can, read the tracts we give them, to others. We distribute such tracts as these: 'What Persons are to be Baptized?' 'The Baptism of Believers,' 'The Gospel of John,' and others of like character. We secure them from the Baptist Board of Publication. They are in Spanish. They read them and listen to them with much eagerness. On Monday morning a very intelligent man and woman came to us and asked us to baptize them into the Christian religion. They had never heard of Protestantism until a few days before. We were convinced that they were only converted from Romanism; that is, they were ready only to renounce the Pope. They were willing to become Protestants, but we believe they did not know what that meant—that they were not taught as Christ in his commission commanded us, and hence were not ready to be baptized. We told them, therefore, that they should wait, and if they still desired to become Christians, they would have an opportunity at a future time. I cite this to show the willingness on the part of the people, not only to hear the gospel, but their readiness to accept it. Romanism has never done them any good. They realize that. Their religion is nothing but a form—that has become apparent even to them, and hence they are ready to give it up for anything else that promises something better. Wherever we go we find this same disposition on the part of the people. The priests have lost their influence over them. It is, therefore, a most opportune time to present to them the claims of the gospel. The bishop of the island, at the capital of San Juan, has requested the Pope to recall him from Porto Rico because he can no longer do any good under American rule. The people do not hesitate to tell him—some of them—that they are no longer Catholics. They must be won to Christ from Rome or all religion will cease to have any influence upon them. We have heard recently of a class of unfortunates for which there seems to be no charity. While in every district there is located a hospital, yet there seems to be a class that they will not receive.

"We heard of some persons down at the cemetery upon whom the authorities were waiting to die, that they might bury them. We visited the cemetery to find what it meant. After a second effort, we secured admission through the gate. We observed a peculiar house right by the cemetery gate. It was without any windows, great double doors in the end, very much like barn doors, securely fastened by a large hasp and strong padlock. Hearing groans upon the inside, I inquired what it meant. The cemetery-keeper thereupon invited us to enter. He took the keys from his pocket and unlocked the door and swung it open, and lying upon the hard cement floor, without so much as a pallet under him, lay a man almost black, eyes glassy, frame rigid, and almost wholly nude—so nearly dead as to make our presence unnoticeable to him; at least, he did not pay any attention to us when we entered. Lying on a hard bench on the other side of the room was another man covered with rags, who arose to a sitting posture, soon after we came in, and in a most piteous manner held out his hand and began to beg from us. I, of course, was touched by his condition, and put my hand in my pocket and was in the act of giving him a piece of money when the guard forbade me, and said, 'No, he must have no money.' I put the coin back in my pocket, asking him why. About this time the man began to moan and cry and extend his hand again and ask for money. The guard, with a stamp upon the hard stone floor, and in as severe and cross a tone as he could assume, cried out to him, 'Nothing, nothing, nothing.' Then I insisted upon knowing why he could not have a few pennies. The keeper said he would only abuse himself; he would buy things that were not good for him to have. His condition was wretched every way. He had not the least comfort. There was not a thing in or about the building to give it the appearance of even a hospital. Death would have been preferable to him, and I could not understand on that account why they were so careful about his buying a little nicknack, or even brandy, for fear it might do him some harm, but I was enlightened presently. After trying to take a photograph of the place (but it was so dark I could not do it), and looking upon another inmate in a similar condition to the two already described, we were about to leave, and the keeper said if I had any charity to bestow upon these people, I should give it to him, and he would see that it was not spent to their injury. We then visited the cemetery: and when we were about to leave, I offered the guide a silver piece for his services and trouble. He vehemently refused. I insisted that if he did not want it for himself, he should give it to the poor. With a shrug of the shoulders, indicating submission, he held out his hand for the money. It went into his pocket, from whence I am certain it never came to buy anything that would do the poor unfortunates any injury or good. These people were not only poor and diseased, but friendless. There was no room for them in the world, therefore they were carted to this dismal cell at the cemetery gate until they would die, that they might be buried out of sight.

"Numbers of young men and women told me that if a school were started, they would immediately avail themselves of the opportunity of learning English; and while they were learning English they would be learning other things that would be of more value to them. San Juan, as well as the other cities I visited upon the island, offers excellent opportunities for mission and educational work. It is my conviction that of necessity educational work must be started cotemporarily with religious teaching. There is nothing that the people clamor so much for as schools. They are very anxious to learn to read, and those who do read are very anxious to learn English. I believe in a very short time a school, properly managed, would become not only self-supporting, but would yield a revenue for mission work besides. San Juan, it seems to me, is the most desirable beginning-place

"On my arrival at Ponce, I was confronted with a circular, issued by the vicar of the church of that city, warning the people against us and the work we were doing among them. The following is a translation of the same:

TO THE CATHOLICS.

Separate yourselves entirely from the Protestants, and leave them in peace. None of you go, on any account, to their meetings. Avoid all religious conversation with them. Should any of them come to your houses and speak with you about salvation or religion, in the act throw them out of your house. Do not, on any account, receive their Bibles or papers. Watch, with great care, that none of the young Catholic children should go to any Protestant meetings—that they should not receive from them any books, presents or toys.

First. Because Protestantism is truly a heresy, and the worst of all.

Second Because Protestantism does not emanate from Christ. The first Protestant did not appear until 1,507 years after Christ.

Third. Because the Protestants falsify the Bible in many points. They twist it, and when they explain it, they present it only in words which favor their errors.

Fourth. They indignantly stamp on the Apostolic Creed, which says Christ was born of the Virgin Mary, and they deny the virginity of the Holiest Virgin Mary. The Creed also says, "Believe in the Catholic Church," and they defy it.

Fifth. At other times they contradict the words most clearly put by Christ, "My flesh is your meat, my blood is your drink."

Puerto Ricans, be firm in the faith of your fathers. Live and die in the Catholic faith, which is the only divine, the only one which comes direct from Christ, and is, therefore, the only true one.

THE VICAR.

PONCE, 19th Nov., 1898.

NOTE.—This date we inaugurated the publication of a series of pages of great interest to the Puerto Ricans, which will be distributed gratis every Sunday in the Holy Temple.

The divine aid accompany them, with the help of the most immaculate Mary, under which protection we put them.

"My attention was called to this circular first by an intelligent Puerto Rican, who is clerk in the post-office, saying that the Catholic Church was showing its narrowness in opposing us in the work we were doing. I asked him what effect it had upon the people. He said they simply laughed at the vicar and the priests when they gave them these circulars and ordered them to have nothing to do with the Protestants. I went to my room, gathered up a number of tracts and Testaments that I had left, and went on the streets to see if the people would take them, and I was surprised to find them more eager to receive them than upon our first visit. I would ask them if the "Curo" would allow them to read the Protestant Bible. They would laugh and take the Bible and say they would read it. It was not long until boys and men would come to me on the streets and ask for Bibles, and I had no trouble in giving away all I had left. I put several thousand tracts, such as I have already mentioned, in the hands of this Puerto Rican in the post-office, who said he would see that they were circulated among the best and most intelligent people of the city. It clearly demonstrated the fact that Romanism has lost its power over the people in Puerto Rico, and that if there ever was an open door for the gospel, it is there and now. I never received an unpleasant word; never was looked at in an unpleasant way, except the haughty and austere, scornful look of the priests where I was known to be a missionary."

It is to this great field we have sent Bro. and Sister Erwin as missionaries. We should re-enforce them as teachers; we should buy or build a church property, and in every way labor for success. In missions is the saying true, "If we sow sparingly, we shall also reap sparingly; and if we sow bountifully, we shall also reap bountifully." The Board has instructed Bro. Erwin that it is our policy to invest some of our Annuity money in church property, and save the heavy rent; but we thought it wise to wait until the boom in prices that followed the advent of Americans on the island should subside. The Porto Rican mission should have a large place in our hearts and our prayers.

Our Forces.

"For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!" (I. Cor. ix. 16).

With great pleasure the Board calls attention to the increased list of missionaries sustained in whole or in part by appropriations from our treasury; they are out on the firing-line of service for God and his church; they are loyal to the New Testament faith, and devoted to the plea for the restoration of the church of the New Testament. The Board takes pride in presenting their names to the brotherhood.

The public eye and the public sympathy follow him who bids adieu to friends and native land to publish the salvation of God on distant shores. There is a moral sublimity in his work which gives inspiration to poetry, and his enterprise becomes the theme of song and story. But those who go to the lost sheep of the house of our American Israel, and make equal sacrifices, and receive meager compensation, lose themselves from the public gaze; no multitude gathers to weep at their departure—a few tears may fall unseen; no poet celebrates their deeds; they endure fatigues and suffer their privations alone; they spend and are spent; they constitute

"The noiseless band of heavenly soldiery,
From out the armory of God equipped."

The Fields That Wait.

FLORIDA.

Florida is helpless without the help of the brotherhood, but if we can once get our cause on its feet, Florida will bring forth bountifully in the harvest of souls. Help us to plant the primitive gospel in Florida.—F. J. LONGDON, Jr., De Land, Fla.

OREGON.

We are thankful for your help, and we plead for its continuance. If the Board will help us with $100 for each place, we can locate four more preachers. If the Board does not help, these places will be taken by tramp preachers or anti-missionary preachers, and those four churches will be ruined. We plead for this much additional help.—J. B. LISTER, Cor. Sec.

PORTLAND.

We are trying to build in this most important city. Without an adequate building, our cause in Portland can not grow. If the Board will help us $500 a year while we are building, we can go on all right. If you can come to our rescue, it will save us from failure. Please let me know at once.—J. F. GHORMLEY, Minister.

GEORGIA.

We have the Empire State of the South, with only 130 small churches. It is ripe and ready for our great plea for the gospel of the New Testament. Fifty towns of more than two thousand each, and one hundred county-seats, have no churches that are simply Churches of Christ. We plead for the help of the Board of Home Missions —H. C. COMBS, State Evangelist.

LOUISIANA.

We have only fifteen congregations in Louisiana, with a population of 1,150,000. We are ready to do all we can to plant our plea. Will the Board help us in this great, hungry home mission field?

CALIFORNIA.

Our Mission Boards ought to pay more attention to the Pacific Coast. Very little money is being expended on the field. The extension of our possessions into the Pacific has greatly magnified our national life. With the completion of the Nicaraguan Canal the Pacific Coast will grow with marvelous rapidity. Our cities should be entered at once; we appeal for help.—A. C. SMITHERS, Los Angeles.

WYOMING.

We, the undersigned members of the Christian Church at Cheyenne, Wyo., would, in a humble and Christlike spirit, petition our Home Missionary Board for assistance to enable us to support, for a year at least, a preacher of the gospel, to be with us and hold out the bread of life to thousands around us who have no church homes. One year ago we lost our place of meeting, and since then have had no services. Our people are poor, not able to do much, but willingly sacrifice for the cause of our primitive Christianity. We have 10,000 people—large railroad shops. If the Board could assist us $500, we could have preaching every Lord's Day.—W. MONFORD AND TWENTY OTHERS, Cheyenne, Wyo.

GENERAL.

In New Hampshire we have not a church; in Nevada we have not a church; in Rhode Island only one church; in Vermont only two churches; in New Jersey only three churches; in Delaware only two churches; they are small and in the country. In New Mexico only six small churches; in Arizona only three small churches; in Idaho only six small churches; in Wyoming only four churches. Indiana alone reports 810 churches. Lift up your eyes to the white harvest-fields.

KANSAS.

KANSAS CITY.

I heartily endorse the appeal of the church at Armourdale. Elmer T. Davis is doing a fine work there. The United States has no finer field for mission work than that in Armourdale, and I hope you will help them.—R. H. WAGGONER.

NORTH DAKOTA.

We have only six churches in North Dakota. There is not in the Union a State more ready for our great plea. If your Board would appropriate $1,000 to this State, the outlay would do more good than if expended anywhere else under heaven.—H. S. MORRISON.

We call for help in North Dakota. Without the help of the Board we can not succeed in planting the primitive gospel in this great country. The needs are great, and we are very, very weak. Help us all you can. I will gladly go to Fargo if you will support me in doing so.—H. S. MORRISON.

ROCHESTER

The Official Board would respectfully ask for $200 from your Board. Our appeal is heartily endorsed by the State Board of Missions. Rochester is capable of becoming one of our strong churches, but it must have help now; with a little help it will soon be self-supporting.

V. B. HARRISON, Clerk.

Home Missions will never get to the front until the Board does much more for Minnesota; here is a great and growing State, and we are not doing a tithe of what we ought to do to win and hold Minnesota for Christ and his gospel.—E. T. GADD.

MISSISSIPPI.

Dear brother, I am a very old woman, eighty-five years old. For fifty-seven years I have lived away from any church with which I could conscientiously worship; my letter is in my trunk. I have been compelled to see my children join the denominational churches. No Christian preacher came to our county; no evangelist has thought us worth saving. I read our church papers. For our dear Master's sake I beg you to send us an evangelist. Listen to an old woman, on the verge of eternity, who has begged for years for the sound of the primitive gospel. Don't waste money paying salaries or singers, but take the money and pay for the preaching of the gospel.—ANNA M. BEACE, Attala County, Miss.

These appeals could be multiplied a hundred-fold did space permit.

Foreign Populations.

"MEN OF EVERY NATION UNDER HEAVEN."

From the beginning America has been inhabited by a mixed multitude. Discovered by a Spaniard, coveted by Spaniards, Dutch, French and English, it has had the foreign element in all its history. In fact, we are all foreigners. From the time when Peter Minuit purchased Manhattan Island, where New York City now stands, for twenty-four dollars, down to the settlement of the Klondike, the men who have developed the country have moved into it from abroad; the impulse of improvement comes from without. The position taken by many foreign people concerning the public school question, the use of intoxicating liquors, the non-religious observance of the Lord's Day, has created grave apprehension in the minds of many of our countrymen as to the ultimate influence of the great influx of foreign people in the land. Especially is this true of our cities; more than half the population of Chicago is foreign; two-fifths that of New York, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Milwaukee and Cincinnati is foreign-born. It is a problem whether our civilization shall continue Christian. If we arise to our great opportunity, we can send forward the glorious cause by "leaps and bounds"; we can mould America toward Christian thought and Christian aggression in the conquest of the world. We have the foreign mission field transferred to our own shores. It seems as if our Lord, wearying of our failure to go to the distant shores, has brought the strangers to our gates, to challenge our service in their behalf. The following table shows the number of people in America from foreign lands:

British Empire	3,122,911
Germany	2,784,894
Scandinavia	800,715
Russia	182,649
Italy	182,580
Bohemian, Poland	265,546
France	113,174
China	106,682
Mexico	77,853
Japan	33,000
Other Countries	1,567,455

We have here a mission field in which the love of Christ constrains us to win souls for him; in which patriotism impels us to win to love this good land; and in which the law of self-preservation compels us; for from the congregated mass of foreigners in our cities comes the greatest danger to our liberties and our institutions of Church and State. Of course the gospel gives liberty and develops individuality; but its liberty is not license; it inculcates reverence for law, secures the holy day, and through it Christ Jesus becomes the statesman that can successfully solve the grave problems that may be before this country. These people need help. A recent publication says:

"A plan by which it is sought to revolutionize the social customs of Bohemians in the United States has been undertaken among the 100,000 members of that race in Chicago by the Bohemian Brotherhood of America. The brotherhood, which is a secret organization and represents a variety of religious beliefs, makes the bold declaration that the prevalence of Ingersollian agnosticism among Bohemians has resulted in suicides in such numbers as almost to threaten the extermination of their race. Necessity for action is emphasized by the brotherhood in a circular sent throughout the country calling on Bohemians to co-operate in altering the unwholesome mental attitude of their countrymen. More than 50,000 of the circulars have been distributed in Chicago. To the appeal for co-operation in the work of preventing suicides are appended statistics going to show that one-third of the deaths among Bohemians are by suicide. The figures which show the proportion of suicides among Bohemians, as compared with suicides among persons of other nationalities, are taken by the brotherhood from the reports of insurance and fraternal societies."

The evangelization of our cities, and preaching the gospel to the foreign populations, is the great step we must soon take in the advance of our home missionary work. We have one man preaching the simple gospel of the New Testament in the German language. There are scores of men among us who are capable of doing this work, if we could only sustain them and send them out among the German people; there are five and a quarter million German immigrants in the United States.

We have two Scandinavian congregations. We could easily have a hundred within five years if we could support the missionaries. These Scandinavian people coming from the Old World bring with them religious habits, and are easily won to our presentation of the New Testament faith; this renders the planting of churches easy. Thousands may be saved by our missionaries going to these people and proclaiming to them the simple gospel. This foreign work at home should be inaugurated with vigor. To the complete Christianizing of these commingling races the providence of God is now calling us with a voice which, without guilt, we can not decline to hear. All about us are the representatives of races for whom the gospel is to do a better work than they have ever had done for them. Whenever has the trumpet-call of duty sounded as it is sounding to us now, here, that America might be made Immanuel's land? When was it ever easier to do his royal will? When was it ever more disloyal to his will than if we fail to win "home and native land for God"?

Relative Claims of Fields.

The relative claims of the various fields receiving the Society's attention have been carefully weighed during the year; each field thinks it is entitled to the precedence; no rigid rule can be adopted. Area can not determine the matter, numbers alone can not determine it; the conditions and tendencies of the people must enter largely into the account. Each section is sure that too little attention is given to it.

The population of the needy mission fields beyond the Mississippi is about twelve million. In this region we have a large number of scattered brethren; churches are easily founded and usually grow rapidly. In this region we have about 970 organized congregations; all our income could easily and profitably be spent here.

In New England there are 6,500,000 people. We have only twenty-five congregations with only 3,000 members; one member to every 1,850 of the population. That is a most needy and important field.

In the twelve States of the South we have 16,000,000 population, 153,600 members, about 2,000 congregations, and many of these need training in missionary service. They have a large claim.

"Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits" (Cant. iv. 16).

The colored population is about 7,470,040; the foreign population about 15,000,000. We must enter all this field if we would do what our Lord would have us do. Some of these fields are white, and others are whiter, but the harvest can not be forced; where we find the largest interest and the largest willingness to help themselves, there we enter most quickly.

The Board is reluctantly compelled to refuse appeals simply because the money is neither on hand nor in sight, and sometimes because brethren seem to think that because a man is out of employment the Mission Board should at once put him to work, without regard to efficiency. Frequently ministers who have just come among us from other religious bodies are recommended to us for employment; the Board would much prefer that these new men should go to work for some well-established church, rather than in charge of a weak mission. "Not a novice" should be put in charge of our missions, where a mistake in care and management might easily prove fatal.

Financial Work of the Year.

This year has been characterized by the largest receipts that have ever come to our treasury in the same length of time. We have received $100,550.99, divided as follows:

From Churches	$33,963.32
" Sunday-schools	1,352.66
" Endeavor Societies	1,864.27
" Ladies' Aid and other societies	474.81
" Individual offerings	55,049.02
" Other sources (interest, subscriptions, etc.)	7,846.91

MEMBERSHIP.

The basis of membership is like that of many other similar organizations.

The first Constitution provided for two classes of membership—Life Members, $50; Life Directors, $100. Any church could appoint an annual delegate for an annual contribution of $10.

The present Constitution provides for Life Directors, $100; Life Members, $50; Annual Members, $5; Church Delegate, $10 contribution; and delegates from States, provided that no person shall be entitled to a seat in the General Board of the Society who is not at the same time a member of the Church of Christ.

The Life Directorship and Life Membership idea has not been to throw the control of our mission work into the hands of the moneyed few, but is in line with the theory of church representation in missions. To whom should the control of our missionary interests be intrusted but to those who manifest an interest in this work by contributing of their offerings to its ongoing?

During the year 154 churches have made their ministers Life Directors or Life Members. We have written every church that has paid $10 or more into the treasury of the Society during the past year to appoint a delegate to represent it at this Convention.

DIRECTORSHIPS.

During the last year there have been taken 102 Life Directorships and 103 Life Memberships. A Life Directorship is $100, payable in five years. A Life Membership is $50, payable in five years. A Life Director is a Life Member of the General Board as well as the General Convention. A Life Member is such for the General Convention, but not for the General Board. One hundred and fifty-four churches made their ministers Directors or Members for life, as a part of their Jubilee Offering.

BEQUESTS.

An increasing number of bequests is being made to the work of missions. In 1898 the Congregational Board of Home Missions received $234,451.77 from bequests; the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, $107,133.93; the Baptist Board of Home Missions, $57,489.33. Our people are just beginning to make their wills in favor of the benevolences; during the year the office has been notified of the writing of nine wills leaving bequests to the Society. This is a legitimate source of income — surely pastors and friends are wise in making efforts to secure bequests in the wills of our brethren.

We have received the following bequests during the past year:

NAME.	AMOUNT.
Mrs. Baldwin, Plevna, Mo	$ 100.00
Mrs. N. N. Gallatin, Connellsville, Pa	200.00
Ephraim Otto, Harrison, O	500.00
Ann Eliza Reno, Hiram, O	206.00
Mrs. Harriet Jackson, Harrison, O	850.00

Special Named Funds.

"Verily, I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her."

Permanent Funds.—These funds are invested, and by their support the gospel will be preached through all the years.

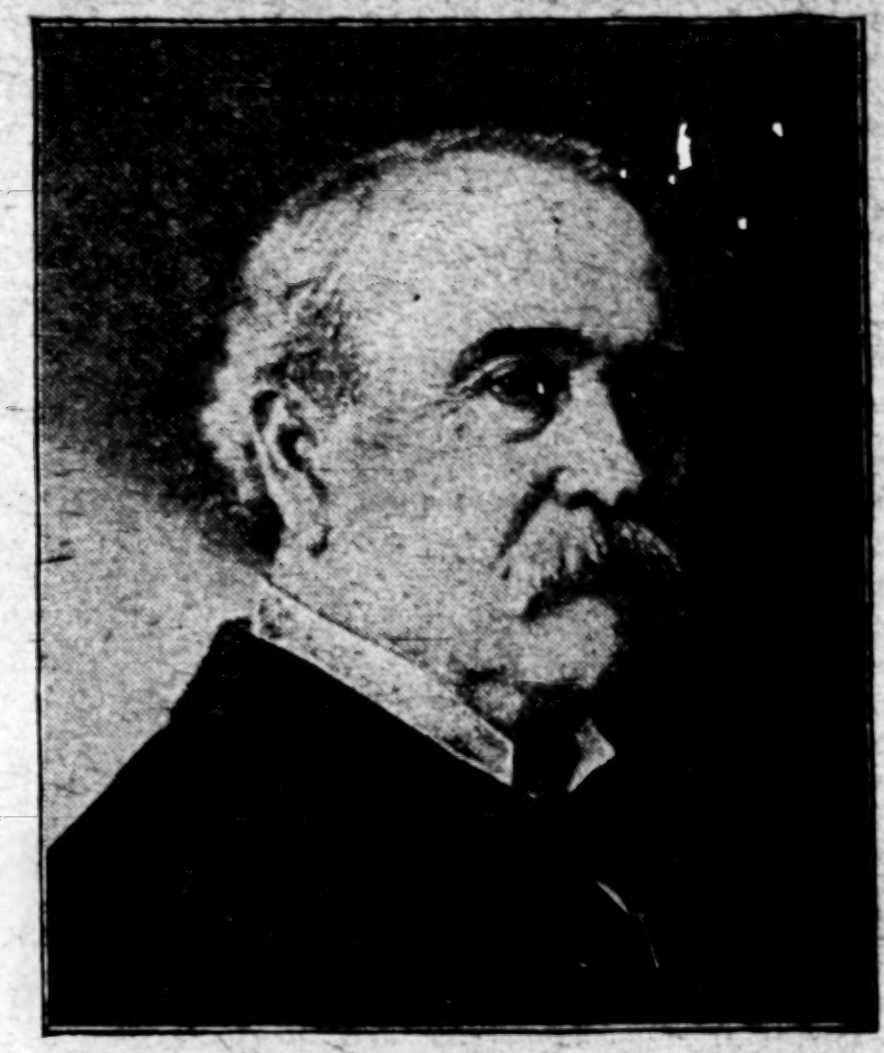
Annuity Funds.—This money is carefully invested, and interest is paid to the parties giving it during their lifetime.

In real estate we have received property, at a low valuation, $6,000.

Bequests.—$1,856.

What better memorial can we erect than a Named Memorial Fund, in whose name the gospel shall be preached by a home missionary through all the years? Nothing can be more enduring, nothing will do more good; when established, it outlasts generations, and abides, like the eternal sunshine, giving light and warmth, life and joy. To link one's name with such an institution as the American Christian Missionary Society, by giving it a fund of $5,000, in whose name the Society agrees to maintain a home missionary through all the coming years, is one of the surest ways to be held in everlasting remembrance.

We have received four Named Funds of $5,000 each during the year, viz.: the F. M. Drake Fund, "A Friend to Home Missions" Fund, Margaret Oliver Fund, and Lathrop Cooley Fund. These funds are received as permanent memorial funds, and the Society agrees to use only the income of each fund to maintain a missionary preaching the gospel throughout the years.



GEN. F. M. DRAKE.

F. M. Drake Fund.—The income of the F. M. Drake Fund was appropriated to the mission church at Baltimore. Of this church Milton H. H. Lee is the pastor. The report is as follows:

No field in the city of Baltimore has a more promising outlook. We are located in a growing residence section of the city. Within the last six months there have been no less than 150 dwelling-houses built in our immediate vicinity; these, of course, will be occupied in the near future. Our church property has advanced no less than a thousand dollars in value. We could not ask a better outlook for church and Sunday-school than that which opens up to us. There is no church of any denomination in this immediate section. We are thoroughly equipped with all things necessary to the function of a church. Our contributions have enabled us to meet the necessary running expenses, both in the church and Sunday-school, and we look forward to the not distant future when we will be able to stand alone and render help to the Board that is now helping us. We are grateful to the Board and to General Drake for the help we have received.

This church will be a monument to the help given by the Name Fund of Gen. F. M. Drake.

"A Friend to Home Missions Fund."—The income from this fund has been used to support M. F. Harmon in Atlanta, Ga. He has organized a new church and reports as follows:

ATLANTA.

Marion F. Harmon has been assisted by our treasury under the auspices of the special "A Friend to Home Missions Fund," in work in the "west end" of Atlanta. He began there Jan. 1, 1899, with thirty-seven disciples; organized a church, and now has a membership of eighty. A corner lot has been purchased and materials gathered for a neat church building. "With the help of the Board continued a year or two, we can have a good church, thoroughly missionary in all lines; as soon as we are safely on our feet we will help plant other churches in Atlanta and the South."

MRS. MARGARET OLIVER.

The Margaret Oliver Fund.—The Margaret Oliver Fund was received in August and September. It was given by the children of Sister Oliver as a memorial of their mother.

LATHROP COOLEY.

The Lathrop Cooley Fund.—Our beloved brother, the pioneer preacher who helped to lay the foundations of our movement in the Western Reserve, Lathrop Cooley, is anxious that his work of preaching the gospel of the grace of God shall be continued after his departure, and to insure this he has recently placed in our hands the sum of $5,000 as a Lathrop Cooley Fund. Its income will insure the support of a missionary for the coming years.

John Reed Memorial Fund.—John Reed, of Shrewsbury, Mass., has given the Board $3,100 toward a $5,000 Memorial Fund; he will complete the payment of the entire amount in the near future; he does this that the gospel may be preached after he has retired to rest. We commend this to our brethren as one of the good ways of helping forward God's cause.

The Presbyterian Board of Home Missions supports thirty missionaries by the generosity and in memory of people who have gone to their eternal homes, and to-day they, being dead, yet speak through these missionaries.

The Congregational Home Mission Board supports twenty-eight such missionaries; one man, who is now dead, supporting nineteen missionaries.

The Baptist Board of Home Missions has $234,723 of trust funds; the interest to be used for the work of Home Missions.

Let us hope that many of our brethren may see in the fact that the interest on $5,000 will maintain a missionary through all the years in the ripe field of America, a great opportunity to do good that can only be measured in eternity—a work that will go before them and meet them at the judgment-seat, and will follow them when they shall rest from their earthly labors.

No Deficiency, yet a Debt.

["For I am a debtor."—Rom. i. 14.]

The Society is entirely free from financial obligation; there has been careful, prudent management, and a deficiency has been avoided; but on the balance-sheets of duty a great debt faces us, the solemn obligation to preach the gospel of the Son of God. The work has suffered and continues to suffer, and while our hearts are glad to be free from financial obligation, yet there is a tinge of sorrow for many opportunities that we are compelled to let pass unimproved; many appeals, unanswered, have died in silence; we can not recall them. We shall only meet them at the judgment.

The enlargement of the work has kept pace with the increase in the receipts; we are helping support many more missionaries than ever before in the history of the Society.

The offering for the last year is as follows:

Permanent Named Funds	$23,100.00
Annuity Funds	12,600.00
Special Funds	8,688.62
Real Estate	6,000.00
Total	$50,388.62

These funds are not spendable, leaving us $50,162.37 to be used in the work of the year. After the necessary expenses are met, one-fifth of this sum goes to the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization, still further diminishing the income available for the work of evangelization.

We desire to make this statement, for many brethren asking for appropriations assume that the Acting Board has $100,000 in its treasury available for expenditure at once, whereas we have about enough on hand to pay our missionaries for thirty days.

Total Collections for Missions.

American Christian Missionary Society	$100,550.99
Foreign Christian Missionary Society	152,727.38
Christian Woman's Board of Missions	101,343.54
Church Extension	39,647.06
Board of Ministerial Relief	6,682.48
State and District Boards of Missions	165,000.00
Grand Total	$565,951.45

The Work of the Office.

The work of the office has been greatly enlarged during the past year. Our mail has very largely increased; the demand for literature is far beyond previous years; the accurate keeping of the books has taken great care and thought. The secretaries work in the office all week and are generally away every Lord's Day, presenting the interests of the work to the churches. Special mention should be made of the services of Wm. F. Cowden; by the consent of T. W. Phillips he was detailed to come East and help in the field work. He has acted as field secretary from April 1 to October 1, and has done splendid service in presenting the work of Home Missions to our churches and conventions.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The successful issue of the year was accomplished only by the greatest effort of those connected with the work; the increased expense for postage will indicate the increase in our correspondence, which brought in return the enlarged offering. In almost every instance letters emanating from our office brought appreciative responses. It is a source of strength and comfort to know that there are thousands all over the land, men, women and children, who are interested and praying for the success of the effort to redeem our home missionary work from littleness of plan and meagerness of result, and place it as the pillar of cloud and fire before our Israel, to lead us into the possession of the promised land.

Methods of Working

OFFERINGS.

Church Offerings.—The Board asks only one offering from the churches—the first Lord's Day in May. It is with pleasure that we announce that 650 new churches took the offering this year, a net gain of 500 over last year.

THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' RALLY DAY FOR AMERICA.

This day is being welcomed by our live, aggressive superintendents, because they see that it is going to become one of the great days in our Bible-schools. It appeals to the sentiments of thanksgiving and patriotism, as well as to the deeper sentiment of the desire to save souls in the ripest harvest-field in the world. It can be made Decision Day, when our boys and girls will decide first to give themselves to Christ.

Mrs. Jessie Brown Pounds prepared, as an exercise, "Columbia's Call," with music by J. H. Fillmore, both of these giving their services free of cost to help make Boys' and Girls' Rally Day for America a great day in our Bible-schools. Our State Boards are taking hold of this day with earnestness, and we believe their treasuries will be materially helped by the offerings of this day.

The Chattanooga Convention decided that 20 per cent. of the offering should go to Church Extension, 40 per cent. to the treasury of the State Board of Missions of the State from whence it comes, and 40 per cent. to the treasury of the American Christian Missionary Society, all money to be sent to Benj. L. Smith, Cincinnati, and the division made there.

The brethren of Missouri and Kentucky decided that their percentage of the receipts of this day be given their State Sunday-school Boards rather than the State Boards of Missions.

FOREFATHERS' DAY.

"Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord: Look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged" (Isa. li. 1).

To make our young people acquainted with the lives and work of such men as Thomas Campbell, Barton Warren Stone, Alexander Campbell, Walter Scott, Benjamin Franklin, Isaac Errett, and others who wrought for the restoration of New Testament Christianity, the Springfield Convention inaugurated Forefathers' Day. It is proving a great educator to our young people; it reviews and enlarges their knowledge of our place and purpose as a religious people, and deepens their loyalty to the distinctive teaching that we are trying to give to the world. The number of societies that observe this educative day is increasing, and those that do observe the day take pleasure in making an offering to the American Christian Missionary Society, to send these teachings all over our good land. We have had offerings from 409 Endeavor Societies, a gain of 158 over last year.

There is a growing amount of literature that may be studied concerning the men and times of the beginning of our movement that will enrich the lives and minds of our people.

ANNUITIES.

In addition to the Permanent Named Funds, mentioned elsewnere, we have the Annuity Plan. It is growing in favor with our people. It secures to the donor the income of his property during his lifetime, and then, at his death, without the need of a will, or the danger of its being diverted from its purpose, it becomes the property of the Missionary Society, to do his full work of advancing the kingdom.

WHAT IS THE ANNUITY PLAN?

Many friends desire to help the work of Home Missions who need the income from their money during their lifetime. The Annuity Plan permits their giving that money to the Society and receiving six per cent. interest (five per cent. if under fifty years of age), payable semi-annually. 1898

The Society issues the following Annuity Bond:

No.---------- $----------

American Christian Missionary Society.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Secretary.

The Board of Negro Evangelization has a similar bond; if it is desired, the money shall go to that work.

The Advantages of the Annuity Plan are:

I.—You are free from anxiety in regard to your property; the investment is absolutely safe, no expenses for repairs or danger of bad investments. An Annuity Bond is issued by us to you, securing the prompt payment of semi-annual interest.

II.—You are free from anxiety about taxation; money so placed is free from taxation.

III.—You are free from anxiety about the final disposition of your property.

IV.—You are free from anxiety about making a will; you have disposed of your own property, and executed your own will.

V.—You have the joy of advancing the kingdom of our Lord in your own land, and in your own lifetime.

During the year we received the following annuities:

Nearly 75 per cent. of the churches are thus shown to be non-contributing to the work of Home Missions. If a census could be taken of the individual members of the churches, the result would be surprising. Your Board firmly believes that 800,000 of our boasted million members are woefully in debt to this great work of Home Missions.

Christian Endeavor.

The Chattanooga Convention passed the following resolution.

"In view of the valuable experience which the present national superintendent has gained in the work, your committee believes that the best interest of Christian Endeavor would be served by his retention as national superintendent, provided the Board of Managers can see its way clear to secure his entire time for the work, and can arrange for his support, either from its treasury, or through the Endeavor Societies."

On Dec. 6, 1898, J. Z. Tyler met the Board in special session and the situation was carefully gone over.

At a meeting of the Board, held December 7, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That J. Z. Tyler be requested to continue as National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor on the same plan as heretofore, in accordance with his suggestion in his letter of Dec. 1, 1898."

At another meeting, held Dec. 16, 1898, the following resolutions were adopted:

"WHEREAS, The Convention at Chattanooga adopted the report of the Christian Endeavor Committee, containing the following: 'In view of the valuable experience which the present national superintendent has gained in the work, your committee believes that the best interest of Christian Endeavor would be served by his retention as national superintendent, provided the Board of Managers can see its way clear to secure his entire time for the work, and can arrange for his support, either from its treasury or from the Endeavor Societies'; and,

"WHEREAS, The matter has been before the Board and Bro. Tyler, being present, stated to the Board that he very much preferred the pastorate, but that he would accept as a matter of duty, and the Board agrees with Bro. Tyler that it is not opportune to create another salaried office; and,

"WHEREAS, His health is such that it would be a hardship to send him away from home; and,

"WHEREAS, The work planned by Bro. Tyler is not missionary, but rather educational, and it would require the withdrawal of ten of our missionaries from the field to provide the salary and expenses of Bro. Tyler, and at Bro. Tyler's own suggestion, the Acting Board, at a special meeting held Dec. 6, 1898, passed the following resolution: 'Resolved, That J. Z. Tyler be requested to continue as National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor, on the same plan as heretofore, in accordance with his suggestion in his letter of Dec. 1, 1898'; and,

"WHEREAS, Bro. Tyler, in response to this action, says he can only accept this until arrangements can be made by the Board for his entire support; therefore:

"(1.) Resolved, That the Acting Board does not see its way clear to devote any part of its income to carry out the recommendation of the National Convention with respect to the employment of a National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor.

"(2.) Resolved, That we believe that any appeal made for this object at this time would injure our Jubilee offering more than its results would justify, and that we are not in favor of making any such appeal for any purpose that is not strictly missionary."

In February, 1899, J. Z. Tyler presented his resignation as national superintendent, which the Board accepted, and appointed a committee to present a minute expressing the appreciation of the Board for the work done by Bro. Tyler as National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor. That minute was as follows: "Bro. J. Z. Tyler became our National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor at the National Convention held in Nashville in 1892, and served the brotherhood in that office until April, 1899. Under his care and direction the Christian Endeavor movement prospered and became strong. The period of his administration was marked by great growth, and under it our people became a most important factor in the great Endeavor movement. As an executive, Bro. Tyler was a tireless servant of the cause, and gave voluntarily an amount of time, talent and energy such as those only give who render a labor of love. No effort was spared by him to further the interests of the trust committed to his charge, and as a Board we tender him the grateful thanks of an appreciative people."

On April 14, John E. Pounds, of Indianapolis, was elected National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor, and entered upon his duties at once; his report will be presented to the Convention.

Census of 1900.

Our Secretary wrote to the Director of the Census for 1900 concerning the plan and scope of the religious census. His reply is as follows:

DEAR SIR:—Under the provisions of the Census Act, a copy of which I inclose, the Director of the Census is authorized to collect statistics relating to various subjects, including statistics of religious bodies (see Sec. 8), after the completion and return of the enumeration, and of the work provided for in Section 8 of the same Act. The census reports proper, provided for in said Section 7 must be published, under the law, not later than the first day of July, 1902, and until these reports are practically out of the way, no preparation can be made for the collection of the special statistics provided for in Section 8.

Your letter will be placed on file, and will receive due consideration at the proper time.

Very respectfully,

W. C. MERRIAM, Director of the Census.

The above letter indicates that the census for the religious statistics will not be gathered until after the completion of the returns of the work provided for under Section 7 of the same Act. Section 7 provides that the twelfth census shall be restricted to inquiries relating to population, to mortality, to the products of agriculture, manufacturing and mechanical establishments. The remaining part of Section 7 directs how these statistics shall be gathered and for their publication. Section 8 says that after the completion and return of the enumeration of the work upon the schedules relating to the products of agriculture and manufacturing and mechanical establishments, provided in Section 7, "the Director of the Census is hereby authorized to collect statistics relating to special classes, including insane, blind, dumb, to crime, to pauperism and to benevolence, to public indebtedness, to valuation, taxation, expenditures, to religious bodies, etc., etc. The manner of taking the census is committed to the Director of the Census, in such manner as his judgment shall decide best adapted to elicit the information required. For the purpose of taking the census the Director may appoint special agents, to receive compensation as hereinafter provided."

From the above it seems that the religious census is not to be taken until after the more general census. It is thought by some that the law concerning the census will be very greatly modified and its scope enlarged by the next Congress. It should be the pleasure of this Convention to provide for the true representation of our peop e in the religious census whenever it shall be taken.

Larger Income Needed.

Your Board desires to express its profound conviction that there ought to be a very large addition to the annual receipts of the Society. The history of the past fifty years is ample warrant for the claim that the affairs of the Society are administered economically and efficiently. As to the results achieved, they speak for themselves more eloquently than any words. The American Christian Missionary Society has been one of the great factors that has helped to change the course of church history on this continent. That this is a Christian nation, exerting a Christian influence, is due in large part to the work wrought by this and similar organizations. God has most signally honored this Society, and the people whose servant it is, in using it for the advancement of his kingdom in this country. The money which has passed through its treasury has brought forth abundant and abiding fruit.

The work which is now being prosecuted by the Society is no less important or urgent than any that has been done in any former period of its history. Indeed, it may be questioned whether the work of the Society has ever been quite up to the present standard of efficiency and usefulness.

The most urgent call comes for an increase of work in every direction. There ought to be a larger amount of work expended in the Western fields, almost every portion of which is eloquently pleading for larger appropriations. There is a demand that is almost irresistible for more vigorous work on an enlarged scale among the Germans, the French, the Poles and other foreign nationalities. The time is at hand when the Society must meet its great responsibility of prosecuting a vigorous evangelical campaign among the Italians thronging to our shores, who are eager for the gospel.

The work of the schools in the South is slowly, but surely, creating a revolution, stupendous and magnificent. The work calls for enlargement. Any intelligent man who will spend a single hour in a careful study of the work that is being done by these schools, its cost, and the resources at the command of the Board, will recognize forcibly the need of more money.

Your Board desires especially to emphasize the urgent need of endowments for these schools if they are to be made permanent and are to accomplish their full mission.

An addition of $50,000 annually to the current receipts of the Society, available for educational and missionary purposes, would enable it, with very little increase of administrative expense, to greatly enlarge its activities.

Fifty Years.

Fifty years ago, in this city, our organized missionary work had its inception. It was realized on all sides that little could be done in the way of evangelizing the world without co-operation. Experience had demonstrated this. The Harbinger confessed and lamented that the existing system was inefficient and inadequate. The truth is, there was no system. Churches were calling for preachers and for financial aid, and there was no way to answer these calls effectively. Wolves in sheep's clothing were making havoc of the flock. Great and effectual doors were opening at home and abroad, but there was no one to enter.

One hundred and fifty delegates from 120 churches met to consider what ought to be done. They resolved that a missionary society, as a means to concentrate and dispense the wealth and benevolence of this Reformation, in order to convert the world, was both expedient and Scriptural. These men felt that the time had come to decide whether they were to co-operate and make the truth they held effective, or continue without co-operation and come to naught. One of the strong men of that day said: "Our existence as a people is involved in some general co-operation for the conversion of the world. The present is a momentous crisis." That Convention organized the American Christian Missionary Society

These men embodied our plea; they understood it if it was understood on earth, and they were loyal in every fiber of their natures to our great plea for the restoration of apostolic Christianity, and they planned for organized mission work under the direction of the American Christian Missionary Society.

We can say of that first Convention that it was thoroughly representative of the brain and the piety of our movement; that it was a careful, conservative body attempting to interfere in no way with the liberty of the congregations, and assuming no function of legislation. All the following Conventions have observed these limitations.

Since that time the American Christian Missionary Society has received and disbursed $860,500. The supplemental funds swell the amount to $2,400,000. Had it not been for the existence and leadership of the Society, the greater part of these funds would not have been raised. The figures given do not include $264,000 raised for Church Extension, $69,000 raised for Negro Education and Evangelization, and $25,000 for Ministerial Relief. Other results are more significant than the amount of money raised. The agents of the Society have baptized nearly, if not quite, 100,000 souls, and have organized 2,321 churches.

The different State societies, which are theoretically auxiliary to the A. C. M. S., report 193,371 baptisms and 101,787 other additions, and incomes aggregating over three million and a half dollars. So far as can be discovered, the whole number of baptisms reported by the A. C. M. S. and State societies is 283,805, and the other additions, 127,066; and the whole amount raised is not far from five millions. If to this we add $764,000, the amount raised by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, and $1,293,000, the amount raised by the Foreign Society, we shall have some conception of what has been done since the organization of our first missionary society.

It is safe to say that nearly one-half of our present churches have been organized by the missionary societies. Hundreds of other churches have been fostered and have been saved from discouragement and from dissolution. In times of trouble they have been aided in settling their difficulties. In their weakness they have been helped to secure buildings and to pay off their debts. Preachers have been put to work. Evangelists have been guided and sustained in destitute fields. A missionary atmosphere has been created. The cause of God has been furthered and his name honored.

Our missionary work has been of untold value to us. We have been saved from bickerings and from contentions over trifles by the magnitude and the moral grandeur of the task in hand. We have been saved from dogmatism and from conceit and from division and from heart failure by the efforts we have put forth to plant new churches in the regions beyond, and by our efforts to strengthen those that are weak and ready to die. We have been driven to our knees and to our God for wisdom and for patience and for energy sufficient for the need. Our missionary conventions have been worth many times what they have cost. They have made for peace and good will. They have served to dissipate suspicion and to generate confidence and affection.

As men of differing types of thought met and became acquainted, they came to esteem each other more highly. They saw that the points in which they agreed were more numerous and more important than those about which they differed. Our conventions have made us conscious of our strength. Since we have been meeting in large numbers we are ready to tackle the cities and the ends of the earth and the devil and all his angels. The fears of ecclesiasticism which were entertained at the first have vanished. The missionary organizations have steadfastly adhered to their own business—that of extending the gospel everywhere. In no case have they sought to have dominion over the faith or the discipline of the churches, but to be helpers of their work and joy. They have been most signally owned and blessed of God.

The Next Fifty Years.

It would be a difficult task to prophesy as to the physical and material development of the country during the next fifty years. We will have one hundred and twenty-five or one hundred and fifty millions of people; the great Valley of the Missi-sippi will have a population of fifty millions; the Pacific Coast will have twenty millions; the Atlantic Coast, where there is now twenty millions, will reach at least thirty-five millions of people, all these with immortal spirits — many destitute of the gospel; to provide these with spiritual food is the task laid upon the Church of God.

The Society will become a rallying-point in which the great body of our brethren may meet in fraternal affection and united efforts for the upbuilding of the kingdom of our Lord; there will be far more concentration of effort of those who hold to one Lord, one faith and one baptism.

Home Missions and Foreign Missions will be recognized as the two wings of the growth, and, as the years come and go, they will be equally cherished and supported to win the great foreign populations. To mold our cities into the likeness of the character of our King, to teach our divided Protestantism the plan and platform of Christian union, causes us to enter upon a campaign that will continue for a century.

Hear our Father saying, "Enlarge the place of thy tent . . . spare not. Lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes: for thou shalt break forth on thy right hand and on thy left."

Who is prepared to say that the events of our country's history, growing out of the Spanish War, are not ordained in infinite wisdom as special preparation for the conversion of millions to Christ, and the ongoing of the gospel to the ends of the earth? The light of truth and righteousness is moving westward, and will in the next fifty years shed their light and luster upon the lands of death and darkness.

The cause of Home Missions has never assumed so important an aspect as it wears to-day. With our great foreign populations, with our cities standing pleading for the gospel, with our new island possessions, with the expansion on every side, our Home Society must become essentially foreign. We need many men that the gospel may be preached in different languages—in ten years we should preach the gospel in twenty different languages; in fifty years every man should hear the glad message in the tongue wherein he was born.

Fifty years ago our forces and resources were few. Our brethren numbered 180,000, now we number 1,100,000. The first year our receipts were $2,882; this year we receive for Home Missions alone, $100,550.99.

The anti-mission sentiment abounded; now we fear more the sentiment of o-mission.

There is yet much land to be possessed for the plea of apostolic Christianity; three-fourths of the United States is missionary ground; counting Canada, Manitoba and British Columbia, the field is not more than one-fifth covered by our great plea.

To assist in saving this good land, and through this land saving the world, is our high and holy calling.

To win men from the mastery of mammon, or the rule of baser passions, to the lofty service of Christ; to preoccupy the land before infidelity and error become entrenched; to win our cities to Christ; to convert our foreign populations to active Christian service; to lift up the colored population of the South; to overthrow Mormonism; to civilize and Christianize the Indian; to leaven the lump of our divided Protestant population with the plea for Christian union, and to lead them and ourselves out of our too narrow conceptions of the Christian life and doctrine, and into a glorious union in Christ Jesus—these are some of the things yet before us. 'T is a glorious vision of service. May we, with Pauline devotion, be obedient to the heavenly vision.

Let us hear the glad call! "Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by my name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the Lord, thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee. Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honorable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. Fear not: for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west: I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth" (Isa. xl. 1–6).

Unification with State Boards.

The growing intimacy between the National and State Boards is a matter of congratulation. We are able to present somewhat of a report from every State Board; it is not as full as we would desire, but it is an attempt at unification which is a prophecy of better things. Under the plan of unification adopted at the Springfield Convention, nearly every State Board has voted itself auxiliary to the American Christian Missionary Society. The following is the plan under which we are now working:

"1. We recommend that Article IV. of the Constitution of this Society be amended by adding the following words: 'The corresponding secretaries of the various State Boards shall be ex-officio assistant secretaries of this Society.'

"2. That Article VI. of the Constitution of this Society be amended by substituting for the words, 'The corresponding secretaries of the States, and the presidents of the State Boards or Societies contributing to the treasury of this Society,' the following words, 'all the members of State Missionary Boards.'

"3. That the various State Societies be requested to so amend their constitutions as to declare their organizations auxiliary to this Society, and that they require their corresponding secretaries to give to the corresponding secretary of this Society their assistance in securing generous offerings for our general home missionary work. Also that it be made one of the constitutional duties of such corresponding secretaries to report fully, every year, to the corresponding secretary of this Society, the statistics of all State, district, county, and city mission work done within the borders of their respective States, that these may be embodied in the annual report of this Board.

"4. That the corresponding secretary of this Society be instructed to render such aid as he is able to offer the State secretaries, in securing liberal offerings for the work in the various States, and that he endeavor to secure uniform dates, so far as possible, for the regular collections in all the States.

"While your committee does not believe that these recommendations, if adopted by this Board, and by our General Convention, will at once, or perhaps ever, remove all the obstacles to a successful prosecution of our home mission work, it is our confident hope that, if promptly and faithfully carried out by those responsible for their execution, they will remove much of the friction now existing, bringing larger contributions into our treasury, and insure more complete and accurate reports of our home mission work.

"All of which is respectfully submitted.

"W. F. RICHARDSON, G. A. HOFFMANN, A. J. BUSH,
"I. H. BAUSERMAN, J. G. WAGGONER, Committee."

Expenses.

Your Board takes pleasure in calling attention to the low expense account, remembering that this is the expense account of both the Board of Negro Evangelization and the American Christian Missionary Society, and that it has been the Jubilee year with a special effort to increase the income of the Society from $41,000 to $100,000. We say the expense account has received close attention throughout the year, and every expenditure has been carefully guarded.

Helping Toward Self-support.

We feel constrained to limit our appropriations for the next year, and our great purpose is to get as many churches as possible to assume self-support. We feel that outside help, beyond what is absolutely necessary toward keeping the work from failure, is a weakening help; churches should pride themselves in seeking self-support, and the Board is constrained to urge the adoption of the descending scale of appropriations, that each year shall witness the giving of a less amount than the preceding year, unless some emergency, like death or removal or faction, shall have weakened the mission. The hardest task we have is to induce the churches we have helped four or five years to consent willingly to any material reduction in the appropriation.

Home and Native Land for God.

We come now to tell the story of this gospel being preached and to show the seal of divine approval on the preaching. We have found that the consecrated man of God, going to the weak and religiously destitute, gathering and shepherding the scattered sheep, developing their spiritual lives, directing their energies—such a man, filled with the spirit of the Master, stands first among the means used by our God for the salvation of men. To promote the preaching of the gospel by the sustaining such missionaries is the first work of the American Christian Missionary Society, and it is to the reports of their services that we call your attention to-day.

The Board of Education.

J. H. Hardin, president, and Hiram Van Kirk, secretary of the Board of Education, met the Acting Board in special meeting September 25, and read a communication detailing the need of helping our educational work, giving a sketch of the organization and work of the Board of Education, and asking that we recommend the Convention to elect a secretary of the Board of Education, who shall be paid a salary from the treasury of the American Christian Missionary Society, who shall organize our educational work, and give an impetus to the movement for a more adequate endowment of our colleges.

An Evangelistic Movement to Close the Century

"Preach the word."

The subject of direct evangelistic work needs to be pressed to the front in our annual meetings; we need to cultivate the passion for saving men and women. There is an urgent call for judicious, consecrated evangelists.

The movement inaugurated at Chattanooga to secure "100,000 souls for Christ during the Jubilee Year" was not taken in charge by any one; the various State Boards have reported that additions have been secured to the churches to the total of 15,017. Doubtless, if full reports had been secured, the number would have been largely increased.

Your Board believes that the closing year of the century should be marked by strong evangelistic efforts. We received as an inheritance from the New Testament church, through Barton W. Stone and Walter Scott, an evangelistic temper and habit, which, under God, has been of great value to us in the growth and spread of our plea for New Testament Christianity. It will be a sad day if ever we permit this evangelistic spirit to depart from us; no other attainment or possession can compensate for its loss; we may well pray, "Take not this spirit from us."

Believing that the close of the century should witness a great revival of religious life among the American people, and believing that we should be workers together with God in the saving of souls, the Board recommends that a movement be inaugurated in this Convention pledging a thousand of our churches and preachers to hold a missionary protracted meeting during the year of at least ten days' duration, either under the auspices of the General or State or District Board of Missions, and that the results of this movement be reported at our next General Convention.

A missionary protracted meeting is one held at some weak point away from one's own church, the minister consenting to receive whatever compensation the brethren at such point may be able to give.

We hope this movement may receive the hearty support of the Convention, and that much good may come in the name of the Lord Jesus.

Our Watchword.

"In the name of our God we set up our banner" (Ps. xx. 5).

Next year shall make history and exhibit records; it will be a year to which we have long looked forward, and to which we and our children will look backward to get our instruction and our inspiration. What is done in 1900 will be the measure from which to note gain or loss. Our watchword for next year is, "No Steps Backward in Rounding Out the Century; Home Missions to the Front to Stay."

We are grateful for the words of interest and encouragement that we have received, and feel that the work of Home Missions has come to the front to find an increasingly larger place in the prayers and affections of our brotherhood.

To the cause of primitive Christianity we have devoted our lives, that this great plea shall be made effective throughout America, and, through America, to the whole wide world lying beyond. This Society was organized and has faithfully labored during the last fifty years; to-day we give praises to our God. We praise him that his promises are fulfilled to us; that his word does not return unto him void! We praise him for the souls that have been won to Christ through our labors together with God. We praise him for the mighty men who led us in the earlier and later days. We praise him that he has accounted us worthy to be led into this ministry.

We pray that our lives may be subservient to the good of man and to the glory of God.

Respectfully submitted, for the Acting Board,

C. C. SMITH, Asso. Sec.

Addenda.

At the meeting of the Acting Board of Managers when the above report was presented and accepted for the Convention, the Board passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the earnest thanks of the Board are hereby extended our secretaries for their arduous labors, and the congratulations of the Board upon their success in raising the one hundred thousand dollars for Home Missions in the Jubilee Year of the Society.

STATISTICAL REPORT.

The past is the judge of the future. This ancient, hoary-headed judge and prophet, when rightly understood, speaks with the voice of God. The evidence is before him. He has heard all the testimony. The verdict is rendered. Judge and jury have ordered that the word of God be restored and the Christ of the Scriptures be released from the bondage of human creeds. The Son of God has been set at liberty. He is no longer chained to dogma and the doctrines of men. He has truly become the light of men and is bringing warmth to the soul, light to the mind and joy to the heart. He is the way, the truth and the life. It is this truth that liberates men everywhere, and they flock to the standard of our Lord by the thousands. For this reason the army who accept Jesus only as the Captain of their salvation, who will have no other creed but faith in him, and who hear no other voice but the voice of the Master, is steadily and constantly growing.

The past year, as its predecessors, has been full of cheer and encouragement. Commendable gains have been reported from all quarters of our great brotherhood. It is a delight to sit upon the towers and behold the clans forming from afar and see them mustered into the army of the Lord. This host we have tried to number as they gathered from far and near and became identified with the Church of Christ. The results of our efforts indicate that we now have in the United States:

		GAIN.
No. Churches	10,298	210
" Communicants	1,118,396	42,781
" Bible-schools	7,765	315
" Enrolled in Bible-schools	732,642	32,597
" Ministers	6,399	317

		Gain.
Expended for all benevolences	$5,454,787	$184,202
Sittings in churches	1,566,653	50,000
Value of church property	$18,256,761	$1,059,264

These gains indicate that our people are growing twice as fast as the population of the country. If we go back to the beginning of the present decade, the reports show that we have gained nearly three times as fast as the population in proportion to our membership. Four per cent. for the last year and nearly six per cent. per annum for the last six years.

Our national missionary societies have made the most rapid perceptible gains of any part of our work. The liberality of our brotherhood has made a leap forward, which is truly commendable. The report for the—

Foreign Christian Missionary Society	$152,737
American Christian Missionary Society	100,551
Christian Woman's Board of Missions	101,343
Board of Church Extension	47,664
State and district missionary societies	165,000	$567,295
EDUCATIONAL AND OTHER BENEVOLENCES.
Buildings and endowments of schools	$100,000
Widows' and Orphans' Homes	21,550
Ministerial Relief	6,682	$128,232
LOCAL CHURCH WORK.
Ministerial support	$3,050,000
Incidental church expenses	725,000
Church buildings	675,000
Church and Bible-school literature	325,000	$4,775,000
Total for all purposes		$5,470,527

These reports are full of promise. The continuous growth from year to year is a promise of great things in the future. A single year may not show great gains, but when we look back over our short history we see the constant growth that has been made. As near as can be ascertained, the membership in the past has been about as follows:

1830	12,000
1840	40,000
1850	118,000
1860	225,000
1870	350,000
1880	475,000
1890	641,000
1899	1,118,396

If this growth is maintained, and there is no reason why it should not be, there will be over two million members before the close of the first decade of the twentieth century. If we shall always be actuated by the one sublime purpose of restoring the Church of God, the one ideal, the highest degree of spirituality possible to the followers of Christ and the one Christly mission of bringing the whole world to the feet of our Master, the church will increase and multiply. The Lord will be with his people and the children of God will become a mighty nation. They shall be as countless as the stars of the heavens and as numerous as the sands of the seashore.

G. A. HOFFMANN, Statistical Secretary.

OF THE

Board of Negro Education and Evangelization,

Including Board of Southern Christian Institute, for the Year Ending October 1, 1899. . . . .

C. C. SMITH, Cor. Secy.

The Board of Negro Education and Evangelization takes pleasure in reporting to the Jubilee Convention. This is the second report made since the consolidation of the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization with the American Christian Missionary Society. Last year the regular November collection was all given to this Board, as the union of the two societies did not take place until January, 1898. Notwithstanding this, the division of funds this year and special gifts to this work have made our receipts, available for current expenses, in advance of other years. The Southern Christian Institute has raised in cash from rents, tuition, sale of products, etc., $3,292.56, and from special gifts and dividends our cash receipts are $7,735.49; total amount raised to be used directly in the work, $11,038.05. With this we have been enabled to greatly enlarge our work at the Southern Christian Institute, and make many much needed improvements and repairs. Also to increase our appropriations to the teachers at the Lum school, and to purchase for $500.00 a cabin and a twenty acre plot of land adjoining the campus of five acres, originally donated for the school; to carry on the usual work at the Louisville Bible School, making some repairs, and to aid in evangelistic work.

We have added the accruing interest to our real estate fund, making it a total of $4,324.03. We are in condition to pay $1,000 on the bonded indebtedness of the S. C. I., and have a balance of $726.29 left in the treasury.

Special Need of the Work.

J. B. Lehman calls attention in his report to the special need of a hospital at the S. C. I. this year. The wave of yellow fever which has swept over that portion of the South for two successive seasons, and the prevailing epidemic of typhoid fever which followed this year have emphasized the need not only of a hospital, but of a training school for nurses. All this is incorporated in Professor Lehman's report. We called attention last year to the need of two dormitories. These must be built by another year. The three buildings will cost about $3,000 for material alone. These large improvements can only be made by special funds. We earnestly solicit the friends of this cause to contribute for the material for these buildings. The students will put them up, and our new mill will enable us to prepare the lumber.

The Southern Christian Institute has conquered a place in the South; we will not desert it now.

We call special attention to the report of Robert Brooks, in which he asks for furnishings necessary to an industrial department in the Lum School. The purchase of the land above mentioned will greatly aid this enterprise. This is the school where one hundred dollars, given by Daniel Mercer, purchased the material with which the school-house was erected; money contributed by Mrs. Mercer and other friends has enabled them to finish and furnish the same. When what has been accomplished with the money sent to this work is considered, surely any one will have good heart in helping to purchase equipments for the industrial department of the Lum Graded School.

New Work.

The call comes to us from different parts of the South to aid in evangelization. Our means are so limited that we are compelled to deny many needy fields.

There is a special opening for a school in southern Virginia. The negroes have for years been calling for it. They have sent money for this purpose to our Board. There are many reliable men there to give the movement strength, and the white people of the community will give it their hearty support. One year ago the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization authorized the opening o. the school in Martinsville, and W. A. Scott, who was specially trained for a work of this kind, was sent to take charge. He was taken violently ill with fever the day of his arrival. His sickness proved to be so serious that he was compelled to give up work and return home. Not having any one to take his place, the school was not opened. Again this fall the colored people of that section have sent us money for the work, and ask for a teacher.

There is a loud call from Kentucky for a school for colored girls and quite a sum of money has been collected by the colored women of Kentucky for that purpose, and as soon as a school shall be opened for them, the money will be turned over to the Board of N. E. E. We have no doubt but that such a school would be largely attended.

Recommendations of the Board.

The Board recommends—

1. That a special fund be raised this year for the purpose of erecting a hospital at once at the S. C. I,, and that all surplus funds which may come from this call be used in purchasing material for the erection of dormitories.
2. That a call be made on the friends of the Lum Graded School for funds with which to purchase needed equipment for an industrial department.
3. That the Secretary be instructed to investigate again the situation in Virginia and North Carolina, with a view to the establishment of a school for the two states.
4. That George Darsie, W. S. Giltner and A. J. Thomson constitute a committee to investigate the call for a school in Kentucky for young women, with a view to the establishment of the same as soon as possible.

Success Attending Our Work.

From the first we have been exceedingly fortunate in our workers. Not one of our paid evangelists has proven himself unworthy. Every teacher chosen has seemed especially adapted to the given work, and all, without one exception, have proven worthy missionaries. There has not been any misunderstanding at settlements, nor any trouble among the laborers.

Our work wherever it is carried on has gained the confidence of all good people. "There is none now to hinder or make us afraid." The only sorrow connected with this department of missionary labor was caused by the death of Miss Blanche Beck and William Allison. Professor Lehman has paid a fitting tribute, in his report, to their memory. In our blindness we can not see the reason for their removal, but we can see that our work has been greatly enriched by their sacrifice, and that they still live at Mt. Beulah.

We take great pleasure in presenting the following reports. Each report speaks for itself—of difficulties met and surmounted; and again we commend our work to the careful attention of its friends.

Southern Christian Institute.

TO THE BOARD OF NEGRO EDUCATION AND EVANGELIZATION:

The past year was an eventful one in our experience. Early in October the yellow fever epidemic swept over this section of the South, and although an effort was made to get our teaching force away before any should contract the same, Miss Blanche W. Beck succumbed to the disease, and died at her home at Newton Falls, Ohio. Miss Beck had especially equipped herself at Hiram College for this kind of work, and she was both by nature and purity of life admirably adapted for the work, and her loss from it is keenly felt, and has vividly brought before our minds the great sacrifice the people of God are continually making to spread the glorious news of the Gospel in every part of the earth.

After the school had closed in the spring and the work for the summer was begun, we found ourselves in the midst of a typho-malarial epidemic which extended over the Gulf States. But few of our teachers and students escaped it. On August 10th, W. T. Allison died of this disease. Professor Allison and his wife, Grace, came to cast their lots in with us on March 1st, of this year. In all our experience we never came in contact with a purer life and a more worthy example than in that of the departed Bro. Allison. This loss from our ranks is also keenly felt. By faith we look forward to the time when the Master shall have turned our present afflictions into blessing, and when these lives that now seem lost to us shall live again "in minds made better by their presence." The sickness we have had this summer has made us feel as never before our need of a hospital building. This building, to which we could remove all sick, should be entirely separate from any other building. This can be made the foundation for a nurse-training department. The "Black Mammy," who is so idolized throughout the South, has a grand-daughter who, if properly trained, will minister at the sick couch in a way that salvation will be wrought out for herself and her people. Nothing we have ever undertaken has more lasting promise in it. Our prayer is that some large-hearted man who has been touched by the sacrifice of our noble martyrs will institute this work in memory of them.

THE SCHOOL.—Last year when the school had been opened but two days, we were obliged to close it again because of the prevalence of yellow fever, and it was not reopened untll November 29th. But railroad traffic was not free until about Christmas, and consequently a large number of our students from abroad were kept away. However, a total of sixty-nine were enrolled, and the work of the year was so gratifying in every way that we were in a measure compensated for the interruption in the early fall. Financially it was hard on us, as tuition was cut off fully one-half, and the great depression and unsettled condition of business and the low price of cotton made our rents drop down about one-half.

The most gratifying part of our work is the marked development in the religious and general moral power of our young people. The strong yet unassuming addresses at the late convention, held at Edwards, were a revelation to the community.

All our young men and women study three things: The Bible, literary branches, and some iudustrial work. This instruction will enable them to accomplish great good in the community wherever their lot may fall.

In addition to our regular school work much was done by way of perfecting our various industrial departments, so that we are now well equipped for the coming year's work

The following improvements have been made during the past year: About two hundred rods of iron fencing were put up; the new school-building and surrounding campus were put in good condition; the laundry was finished; stables were built, and the tool-house and granary enlarged. Then seventy acres of fine corn and peas, and thirty acres of cotton, and ten acres of truck have been raised.

The prospects for the fall opening are good, and so many things have occurred to encourage us that we feel especially gratified.

Our force of workers for the coming year will be as follows: J. B. Lehman, Mrs. J. B. Lehman, J. S. Compton, Mary E. Monahan, Mrs. Grace Allison, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ross, A. L. Martin, Jennie E. Britton, and S. W. Compton, who will act as secretary.

Our prayer is that our loving Father will give us courage, and strength, and wisdom to accomplish more the coming year than ever before.

Fraternally, J. B. LEHMAN.

Louisville Christian Bible School.

TO THE BOARD OF NEGRO EDUCATION AND EVANGELIZATION:

It is gratifying to me to be able to make to you, and, through you, to the American Christian Missionary Society, an encouraging report of the Seventh Annual Session of the Louisville Christian Bible School.

The session began September 8, 1898, and ended June 8, 1899. Notwithstanding a somewhat serious small-pox scare, which prevailed in the city for several weeks, no case of the disease appeared in the school. The general health of teachers and pupils throughout the year was good. The attendance was the largest in the history of the school. More states were represented than in any previous year. The talent and progress of the school were never better. The students came from Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Kansas, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and the Island of Jamaica. Of the thirty-nine enrolled during the year, about twenty voluntarily took their regular turns at preachiug before the school. The daily Students' Meeting was well maintained throughout the year. The youngest of the students at time of enrollment was thirteen years of age, the oldest forty-two, the average age of all being twenty-four years.

At least three of those who remained in school till the close of the session have since that time entered upon their first regular pastoral work—R E. Pearson, in North Middleton, Ky.; J. H. Brooks, in Stanford, Ky.; and H. T. Wilson, in Georgetown, Ky. There had never been a Christian church of the colored people in Georgetown until this young man visited them at the close of the session and began to preach. His efforts have resulted in the planting of the church which has called him to its service. Already they are talking seriously of undertaking to build them a church home. Another student, who went to Virginia at the close of the session, writes that he has just closed a meeting at Tazewell C. H., where he preached twenty consecutive nights and added thirty-one to the church, twenty-five of them by primary obedience.

The school seems to be growing in the estimation of the colored people. Witness these sample quotations from them:

"Touching the Louisville Bible School, of which I have the pleasure of being a member, I would like to say that it is a school of its own kind.

"I mean by this, that no other school approaches it in doing so great a work for so needy a people at so little cost to the parties benefitted.

"For one, I must say that I was long desirous of knowing where such opportunities as are offered by this school might be found; and even when, in the autumn of '95, I left my Virginia home to attend this school, I had no adequate conception of the great benefit to be derived from spending a few years in such a school. I can never repay the benefit it has been to me; and whatever I may be in after-life, I must attribute, under God, to the Louisville Christian Bible School the principal credit of whatever good may come of that life.

"I write these lines thinking, perhaps, they may meet the gaze of some one who is in such circumstences as I was before coming to this school. The old maxim, 'Where there is a will there is a way,' may certainly now be easily verified by young men who desire a life-moulding and teaching knowledge of the English Scriptures.

"That many such may find their way to this school is my hope.

"C. H. DICKERSON."

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Colored Christian Brotherhood of Kentucky, as here represented in State Convention assembled:

"1. That we desire to express our gratitude to God, to the American Christian Missionary Society, to the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization, and to the brethren everywhere, white and black, who are co-operating with these in labors of love and sacrificing in behalf of our race.

"2. That we desire to express our grateful appreciation of and gratitude for the Christian spirit in which the Louisville Christian Bible School was conceived and inaugurated, and by which it has been from the first and is yet maintained.

"3. That we cheerfully pledge it our unqualified moral support and such financial support as we may be able to render it.

"4. That we desire to bear testimony to its worth and efficiency; to its inestimable value to our young men who have attended it; that their profiting may be seen and read of all their acquaintances; that we unhesitatingly recommend it to the hearty support and sympathy of our brethren everywhere; and that we urge our preachers to bring it more fully to the attention of the churches, and especially to the attention of such young men of their acquaintance as may give promise of increased usefulness in the public ministry of the Church by availing themselves of the help of the school."

Not only among the colored people is the school gaining ground, but it is growing more and more in favor among the white people as they become acquainted with its work. S. M. Bernard, pastor of the Parkland Christian Church, Louisville, writes of it:

"Many of our brethren and sisters are doubtless ignorant of the fact that we are making an effort to evangelize the negro population of this country, and this article is written with the view of opening the eyes of many on this subject. The American Christian Missionary Society has established a training school, known as the Louisville Christian Bible School. It is located at 1820–1822 Duncan Street in our delightful city. On Thursday night, June 8th, the writer laid aside his usual pastoral work, took a street car to the Central Christian Church (colored), and there attended the anniversary exercises of the school.

"The program consisted of stirring hymns, well-delivered declamations and eloquent seven-minute sermons.

"The young men showed marked knowledge of God's Word, and their delivery was superb, often throwing the audience into rapturous applause.

"The subject-matter of these addresses was fine, showing considerable thought and indicating to my mind that these men would be more than able to hold their own with colored sectarian preachers.

"Louisville should feel proud of having the 'Colored Christian Bible School' in its midst. The money expended by the Home Board in this enterprise is certainly well invested. Give the Negro of the South an intelligent faith in Jesus Christ, and that will solve the race problem.

"Prof. Thomson and his able assistant are doing a noble work in educating these men for the Christian ministry, and the result of their labors will be told only in eternity."

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. THOMSON, Principal."

TO THE BOARD OF NEGRO EDUCATION AND EVANGELIZATION:

Gentlemen:—It is with pleasure that your humble servant begs to submit the following report for scholastic year ending April 15. Total number enrolled, 128; boys, 58; girls, 70; per cent of increase, 24; number of teachers, 3.

Financial Report for the Year Ending April 15, 1899.

	To checks, Board of N. E. E. (for repairs)	$190.00
Nov.	To cash from sale of clothing	3.50
Jan.	To cash from public funds	40.00
April.	To cash from tuitions	38.45
	To cash received for salaries of teachers	370.00
	Total		$641.25

EXPENDITURES.

By cash for paints, labor, etc.	$ 82.26
By cash for furniture, desks, etc	52.65
By cash for lumber	50.00
By cash for salaries	448.95
Total		$633.96
Cash balance		$ 8.99

I hope no one of the members of our philanthropic host, North or South, will become discouraged at our financial record. We have many things to contend with in the South. Poverty glares us in the face, and while we can find scores of the black boys and girls who are anxious and ready to enroll their names, there are but few who are able to pay the small amount charged for tuition here. While we have the material upon which to work in the South, we have but little means to carry on this work.

This year, or the past year, has been an exceptionally hard year for us down here. It commenced raining early and rained all of the season for cotton picking and harvesting in general. The people could scarcely get the necessary things for the sustenance of life. But through all of these trying circumstances our school on the whole has been a success. Brother Smith, our energetic and efficient adviser and counselor, has ever kept our school in the hearts and minds of the good Northern people until it is now in good condition. Our school building is nearly completed, ceiled, painted and seated. The name of this great man will forever live around the hearth-stones of the people of Lum. The coming year we hope to have some industrial work in operation. We will have a house which we can use for sewing, laundrying, etc., for the girls; also a building we can turn into a shop. But a question of great importance asked me by the teachers is, "Where shall we get our sewing machines, irons, etc., for girls' department; and saws, hammers, planes, squares, etc., for the boys' shop?" Here is a chance for some of our friends to do practical and lasting good to the boys and girls of Lum school. This heretofore much neglected part of our school work is now being seen to be one of the most important parts, or of as much importance as any, especially when it comes to the masses of our people. We realize that there are other schools to be supported by the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization and friends contributing to this society, and so we most earnestly extend our thanks to them for what they have done, but we think it right to have our needs known that any one wishing to help us may do so.

Our school continues to grow in popularity among the neighboring people. It is fast gaining a hold among the people of the State. We hope the coming year to be better prepared and do better work than ever.

Let me say that our commencement exercises never fail to be interesting, and we have hundreds of people gather to witness the closing exercises of our school.

I thank you, the honorable Board of Negro Education and Evangelization, for your continued confidence and support, and also all those who are connected with this great society. Respectfully,

R. D. BROOKS, Principal.

Reports of Evangelists.

Report of S. R. Cotter and Wm. Alphin, Evangelists of Kansas, for year ending September 1, 1899: Churches organized, 2; accessions, 68; Sunday-schools organized, 3; C. E. Societies organized, 2; subscribers obtained for The Gospel Plea, 7; total amount of money raised on the field, $584.50.

Report of J. H. Rogers, Evangelist of Florida, for year ending September 1, 1899: Churches organized, 1; accessions, 42; number of Sunday-schools organized, 3.

Report of H. Martin, Evangelist of Arkansas, for year ending September 1, 1899: Accessions, 34; auxiliaries of the C. W. B. M. organized, 1; amount of money raised on the field, $55.

For general information concerning Negro Education and Evangelization you are referred to the August and September (1898) issue of The American Home Missionary, which can be had by applying to the B. N. E. E. Department, Y. M. C. A. Building, Cincinnati, O.

The American Home Missionary for January and February, 1900, will contain a complete history of this work, from the beginning to the present time.

All of which is respectfully submitted. C. C. SMITH, Cor. Sec'y.

ADDRESS—"Negro Evangelization," B. A. Jenkins, Indianapolis, Ind.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

The report of your superintendent of Christian Endeavor is of work a large part of which was done by another. The honored J. Z. Tyler was superintendent for more than half the year, and his successor has tried, generally, to carry out the policy which has been so successful during recent years.

The year has been an important one for Christian Endeavor, not only among our own people, but everywhere. The feeling that the movement had come to the time of its real test was very general. The enthusiasm of a new organization and rapidly increasing numbers was passing, and it remained to be seen whether the permanency and efficiency of the society would be affected by this. Dismal prophecies have been heard during the last two or three years. But the tide has surely turned. The doubt has been dispelled since the Detroit convention. The simple, quiet earnestness manifest in the convention and among the individual Endeavorers in attendance there was sufficient evidence that the Endeavor Society, quite as much as the Sunday-school, had come to stay and to bless the churches year by year. The time of testing seems to be largely past.

Among the disciples of Christ the year has been a prosperous one. The gain in numbers has not been great, but it has been steady and healthy, and the gain in intelligence, missionary zeal and thoughtful service has been much greater. The following table shows the gain by States:

In the above table the Intermediate and Junior societies are classed together. The report is not quite accurate, as in a few instances last year's report had to be taken for this year—owing to the failure to receive new reports in time. This failure was in the States where there has been a change in State superintendents, which complicated the gathering of statistics. This does not materially affect the result, however, as the Junior society reports, in which there is the greatest change, are all new.

There is a gain over last year of 388 societies. This is less than the gain of last year, but more than that of two years ago. There are 1,993 Junior and Intermediate societies, and 3,018 Young People's societies—making a total of 5,011 Endeavor Societies among the disciples of Christ. There is still a field for extension, however, as there should be an Endeavor Society and a Junior Society in every church among us, and Intermediate Societies in at least 1,000 of our churches. Counting the number of living churches at 7,000, that makes way for 10,000 societies in addition to the 5,000 we have.

There are some very interesting things in the reports of missionary money raised by the Endeavor societies. Fourteen States report on missionary money contributed to Home and Foreign Missions. These States are mostly those where there is a small number of societies, but some of the larger ones are included, and as a whole they are rather below the average in ability to give. They have a total of 647 societies and report $3,692.67, an average of $5.79 to each society. It may easily be believed that the superintendents of these States did not hear of all the money contributed by the societies under their charge. But, granting that they did, the same average in all the States would indicate a total of $28,562.70.

It may be said that the books of our missionary societies will not tally with this, and such is no doubt the case. But it must be remembered that many Junior Societies are included in this list, and no doubt some societies raised money as societies and put it in with the general church collection—hence they would not appear on the books of the missionary organization. It is hardly necessary to say that much the larger part of the Endeavorer's missionary money is given through the church, and not in the name of the society at all.

The missionary giving of the Endeavor Society is a matter that should be carefully considered. It is simple justice to add that the handbooks on missions in the Bethany C. E. Reading Courses have increased missionary intelligence and stimulated giving where they have been studied. All in all, our people may congratulate themselves on the profound interest our young people take in missionary work. The superintendent calls attention to the liberal portion of time given to Endeavor interests in this Convention, for which the gratitude of all Endeavorers should be expressed to the C. W. B. M. and A. C. M. S., and recommends that similar courtesy be shown the Endeavor Society in the future.

There is reason to rejoice that the field of Christian Endeavor has been so clearly defined. People are no longer discussing the mission of the Endeavor Society. The society was raised up to do the work for which it was raised up, and not to champion anybody's scheme of reform. This being true, the extension of the society becomes a more simple work, and it is recommended that during the next year there be a campaign of extension. It is easily possible to organize one thousand new societies within the year.

It is also recommended that there be an effort to revive and increase evangelistic zeal in the societies. Many societies can conduct the Sunday evening service while the pastor holds a meeting at a mission point, and in a hundred other ways the Endeavorer can assist in the work of conversion. This needs special emphasis now.

Commending the work and the workers to Him in whom they trust for strength, this report is respectfully submitted.

353 FRANKLIN AVE., Cleveland, O.

Hiram Van Kirk, Secretary, presented the report of the Board of Education, as follows:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

J. H. HARDIN, President.....Eureka, Ill.
HIRAM VAN KIRK, Secretary and Treasurer.....Station N, Chicago, Ill.
MRS. A. A. FORREST, Editor of Educational Bulletin.....Irvington, Ind.
E. V. ZOLLARS.....Hiram, O.
B. C. DEWEESE.....Lexington, Ky.
O. T. MORGAN.....Des Moines, Ia.
J. B. SWEENEY.....Gainesville, Tex.

Let all readers of this report bear in mind the limitations of the Board of Education. It has had no field secretary; it has not had permission to appeal to churches and individuals for money. What has been done is the freewill offering of busy men who have been grappling with the problems of our schools and colleges, who have taken what time they could from other duties to serve the cause of education in a general way.

The work of the Board of Education for the year 1898-99 has been (1) organization; (2) publication; (3) agitation.

Organization.

California—H. D. McAnenny, Irvington.
Colorado—B. O. Aylesworth, Denver.
Illinois—J. H. Hardin, Eureka.
Indiana—Mrs. A. A. Forrest, Irvington.
Iowa—O. T. Morgan, Des Moines.
Kansas—W. S. Lowe, Manhattan.
Kentucky—B. C. Deweese, Lexington.
Maryland—W. S. Hoye, Beaver Creek.
Michigan—W. M. Forrest, Ann Arbor
Missouri—G. A. Hoffmann, Columbia.
Nebraska—J. W. Hilton, Bethany.
New England—G. A. Reinl, Brockton, Mass.
New York—S. T. Willis, 1281 Union Ave., New York City.
Ohio—O. G. Hertzog, Hiram.
Oregon—M. L. Rose, Eugene.
Texas—J. B. Sweeney, Gainesville

These brethren have either made or secured addresses on education at the State and district conventions, have reported the progress in their several fields, and aided your secretary materially in his work. It is hoped that secretaries will be secured in the other States the coming year, and that this system of organization may be completed. In some States, notably Illinois and Missouri (see pp. 5, 6), an Educational Association has been formed to work in conjunction with the secretary for the benefit of any special institution or institutions committed to its care. We commend this type of organization to the brethren of other States.

Publication.

The Board has issued two publications—the Educational Bulletin, containing the address of Pres. E. V. Zollars, at the Chattanooga Convention, on "Education: Its Importance and Status Among the Disciples," and the June number of the American Home Missionary, containing the address of Pres. J. H. Hardin at the Congress of Disciples of Christ, on "College Endowment." These are two of the most signal productions on this phase of education among our people, and have been sent in pamphlet form throughout the brotherhood.

The Board of Education here expresses its grateful thanks to the Acting Board of the American Christian Missionary Society and its secretaries for the use of their mailing-lists, and contribution of the June issue of the American Home Missionary. It regrets to say that, owing to lack of funds, it has been compelled, for the time being, to suspend the issues of the Educational Bulletin, but gladly expresses the thanks of all for the able services of Mrs. A. A. Forrest in her voluntary editing of the Bulletin.

Agitation.

The Board of Education claims the honor of having led the movement for the strengthening and endowing of our colleges, which has made much progress in the past few years. Some of them have labored day and night in this cause. Valuable aid has been rendered by our papers, among which the Christian Standard, the Christian-Evangelist, and the Christian Oracle deserve special mention.

Educational Day (the first Lord's Day in July) has been observed in many churches. An educational session has been granted for the first time in our National Convention. A like observance has been made in most State conventions. Brethren, these are some of the advances in the cause of education within the past year. There is a great and growing interest. No cause has occupied the attention of the people more throughout the year. But we are only in sight of the promised land; we have not entered in. Here at Cincinnati, in the Jubilee Year, is our Kadesh Barnea. If we turn back, we may be doomed to a wilderness wandering of forty years. Recognizing that none of our colleges are adequately endowed; that some of them are in immediate peril; that they are compelled to meet a sharp and growing competition from State and denominational schools; that they must have increased equipment to meet the demands of our own students; that delay means a greater crisis—your Board of Education, by a special committee, came before your Acting Board, American Christian Missionary Society, with the following address:

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 25, 1899.

To the Acting Board, American Christian Missionary Society:

DEAR BRETHREN—It is believed that the time has come for the Disciples of Christ to inaugurate a new order of things in the matter of higher Christian education. In 1894 the General Convention amended its constitution so as to provide for the annual election of seven persons as a Board of Education. This Board has accomplished much in the way of general agitation, and in the gathering, classification, and publication of the facts of our educational status. About all has now been done that the Board can do under its present limitations. The Board has been, so far, almost wholly without funds, and without either the power or the facilities for securing any. Indeed, it has not seemed necessary to the brotherhood generally that it should raise money, or that its operations require money. But it is plain to those of us who have had this department of our work in hand that this is the very thing needed to secure the results we ought to expect. Nothing can be more important at the present time than that our people should readjust their attitude toward our colleges and the whole subject of Christian education. We need a competent leader to give his whole time to the development of this subject. It is almost certain that such leadership would soon result in placing our people in the front rank with the great educational forces of the country.

The Board of Education has determined to come before your body with the request that, in your forthcoming annual report, you recommend that you be empowered to employ, beginning as soon after the opening of next missionary year as possible, an educational secretary at a reasonable salary; that such per cent. of your receipts as may be necessary be set apart for his salary and expenses. We believe this method of supporting this department of work to be better than it would be to introduce an additional collection among our churches. We believe that if the right man can be secured, it would be but a short while till the educational department would be self-supporting.

It is important that we should say a word in regard to the work to be undertaken by such secretary. In our conception such man ought to be competent, in the first place, to think out a clearer and higher policy for our educational future. In the second place, he ought to be able to advise all of our college boards in their efforts to develop a higher order of management for those institutions; and, in the third place, he ought to secure funds in the form of gifts and bequests for the better endowment of our colleges and for the carrying out of such educational projects as the brotherhood may from time to time originate.

It may be asked, Why should this body take this matter in hand? It may be answered briefly:

The American Christian Missionary Society is the only general organization we have, and is in a position to do such business rather than to organize an additional and distinct society.

Sufficient has already been said on the subject as to make it almost certain that if this is done, many members of our college faculties will take the field before the May offering to visit the churches in their several States in the interest of Home Missions. While it would be in a degree an experiment, it is believed that several thousand dollars could be added to the receipts of the Society by enlisting this large number of efficient agitators.

Believing, dear brethren, that a great door is now open before us, and that the times are propitious for the inauguration of another great department of benevolent effort, we humbly make this our request. Respectfully submitted,

J. H. HARDIN, Chairman Board of Education.
HIRAM VAN KIRK, Secretary.
E. V. ZOLLARS (Concurring).

Recommendations.

We therefore recommend:

1. That the Acting Board of the American Christian Missionary Society, in conjunction with the Board of Education, put in the field a General Secretary of Education, who shall organize and lead our forces for the support and endowment of our colleges.

2. That the Board of Education be so placed as to have a working majority of members within easy distance of each other, that it may actively prosecute its work in conjunction with the General Secretary. HIRAM VAN KIRK, Secretary.

Appendix.

Appended to the general report we are pleased to present the following reports from particular States and institutions. These will be of interest to the friends of education in general, and of the institutions in particular.

NEW ENGLAND.

G. A. Reinl, secretary of the New England Educational Fund, writes:

The New England Educational Fund was started at the New England Convention held in Worcester, Oct. 2–4, 1896. Since that time $142.50 have been received. Of this, $3.60 have been expended for postage and printing, leaving $138.90. Geo. Woodbury, of Haverhill, Mass., will attend Hiram this year to prepare for the ministry. Being duly recommended by the church at Haverhill, the trustees of the Educational Fund have voted to loan him one hundred dollars, without interest, for five years. Aside from this there is nothing of special interest to report.

OHIO

Pres. E. V. Zollars, of Hiram College, writes:

The session of 1898-99 was in all respects the most satisfactory in the history of the college. The total enrollment reached 443—ladies, 172; gentlemen, 271—with an average term attendance of 358. The corps of teachers numbered twenty-four, and the graduating class numbered forty-five. This does not include the graduates in special departments, but simply those completing the classical, scientific and literary courses leading to the bachelor's degree. Sixteen of our graduates entered the ministry. All of them are located, with the exception of one or two who return for post-graduate work, and all are doing very satisfactory work. All departments of work have shown unusual vigor during the last year. The patronage of Hiram is gathered from thirty different States and countries.

The financial outlook is encouraging. The Jubilee Endowment movement, inaugurated a year ago, is moving forward with steadily increasing momentum. Thousands of names of persons who will join in the movement have already been gathered, and we expect that additional thousands will enlist in the great movement before its culmination in June of 1900.

The latest addition to our material equipment is the donation of a telescope and observatory by a friend of the college, at a cost of from three to four thousand dollars. This will meet a long-felt want at Hiram. We hope to have the observatory erected and the telescope mounted within the next month or two.

The quality of the work done at Hiram is of a very high order. Our students are composed very largely of self-supporting young men and women who have a distinct purpose before them, and know the value of time. There is an intensity and earnestness about the work that is exceedingly gratifying, and the maturity of the student body contributes in no small degree to the high standard of work maintained.

There is a very healthy, moral and religious tone to the school. The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s maintain vigorous organizations that contribute very largely to the spiritual life of the students.

Gerould Missionary Cottage for young ladies preparing for missionary work has been well filled throughout the year, and the applications are so numerous that an annex accommodating twelve additional young ladies will be provided for the coming year.

Independence Hall, provided by T. W. Phillips for the accommodation of young men preparing for the ministry, has been filled throughout the year, and has rendered material assistance to about twenty young men, amounting in the aggregate to at least one thousand dollars. The total number of ministerial students is about one hundred.

KENTUCKY.

B. C. Deweese, State secretary of education, writes:

I arranged for Mark Collis on the program of our State meeting, August 9–10. He spoke on what Kentucky disciples owe their colleges for benefits received. There are several girls' schools in the State—the excellent Midway Orphan School, of special value both for its benevolence and its grade of work; several smaller colleges for both sexes, and our school here in Lexington—Kentucky University. The smaller colleges have their local support, and the University a good name, but with not the full support its merits demand. I have no moneys to report, nor have I been able to bring about any organization.

Pres. R. Lin. Cave writes:

The Faculty of Kentucky University consists of a president, two professors emeriti, twenty-eight professors, and fourteen assistant professors and other instructors. The students' organizations are five literary societies, which publish a monthly magazine, three religious associations, and an athletic association. Young women of the College of Liberal Arts form the membership of one of the literary societies and of the Y. W. C. A. There is also an alumni organization, known as the Society of Alumni, which is growing in influence, and has done and is doing much to further the interests of their alma mater. The number of matriculates last session was 678, of whom 219 were in the College of Liberal Arts, 119 in the College of the Bible, sixty-four in the Medical Department, 250 in the Commercial College, and twenty-six in the Academy. There were twenty graduates in the College of Liberal Arts, eighteen receiving baccalaureate degrees and two, masters' degrees. In the College of the Bible eighteen were graduated in the English course and one in the Classical course. There were also nine graduates in the Medical Department. The small number of students and graduates was owing to the fact that it was the first session of this department. The University has an endowment of $203,479. The College of the Bible has an endowment of $73,000. There are five large, well-equipped buildings on the college campus, including a $10,000 gymnasium, and two well-furnished brick dormitories. The college campus contains fifteen acres located near the center of the city. The grounds and buildings are estimated at not less than $250,000. The University, during the past year, has added two new colleges, the Department of Medicine and the Normal College, which gives the institution five associated colleges, four of which are located in Lexington, the Medical Departmen being located in Louisville, Ky. The session which closed June 8, 1899, was one of the most encouraging in the history of the institution, and the future is full of promise. With a progressive educational spirit, and a fixed purpose to continue to do thorough work in looking to the interest of both students and patrons, it appeals confidently to the general public, and to the brotherhood especially, for support. The endowment of the University is far too small to meet its increasing demands and opportunities for enlarging its work. It needs more money, and we plead with the friends and all lovers of liberal Christian education to give generous material help that the usefulness of the institution may widen from year to year.

Pres. J. W. McGarvey writes:

The number of matriculates in the College of the Bible during the session was 117; but twenty-seven who were taking some of the Bible courses matriculated in the College of Liberal Arts, making the whole number of ministerial students 144. These came from twenty States of our Union and five foreign countries. The number of foreign students was nine.

The number of graduates was eighteen, all of whom had some experience in preaching, and all but one of whom had engagements made for future work.

One change was made in the Faculty. Professor Graham, after twenty-two years of service as professor of philosophy and twenty-two years as president of the college, resigned on account of the infirmities of age, and Prof. James C. Keith was elected to his place in the chair of philosophy. Professor Graham, on account of his long and successful service, was elected professor emeritus of philosophy. The present members of the Faculty are J. W. McGarvey, I. B. Grubbs, B. C. Deweese and James C. Keith.

The cash endowment of the college is now about $75,000, including $5,000 which is a special endowment of the library. A steady increase of the library is made every year through its income from this source.

This college is becoming more and more a place of resort for young preachers who have graduated at other colleges, but wish to pursue more extensive courses in the Bible.

INDIANA.

Pres. B. A. Jenkins writes:

Butler College, of the University of Indianapolis, has made rapid strides in the past year. This advance has been in two directions: First, the closer organization of the University of Indianapolis, with its 800 students, by the election of a president, Burris A. Jenkins, over all departments. By this step, great impetus has been given to educational affairs of the brotherhood in Indiana. The increase in the number of students in the spring term of last year, as a result of this agitation, was very marked, and the feeling of encouragement among all connected with the College has been heightened. Cordiality toward the institution has grown materially among the brethren in Indiana and in the country at large, and great hopes are entertained by all its friends for endowment and increasing power, situated, as it is, at the center of our great brotherhood. Second, the enlargement of the Bible College and its force of teachers. Two new professors served their first year, viz.: Professors Garrison and Jenkins, with large and successful classes. There were about thirty-five young men preparing for the ministry, all mature, sober-minded and industrious. Most of these were preaching while in college. The prospects for the endowment of the Bible College are bright, nearly $40,000 having been subscribed toward the $100,000 for which an effort is being made. This sum will become available as soon as the entire amount is raised. The present session opens auspiciously.

ILLINOIS.

J. H. Hardin writes:

Addresses on education have been made by the secretary, J. H. Hardin, and by a representative, at all of the district conventions up to the last of August. College Day as a part of the annual State Encampment was of special interest this year, growing out of the fact that six sons and daughters of Eureka College were given the parting hand to go to Cuba and Japan. The field secretary of Eureka College, J. G. Waggoner, has been active since Nov. 1, 1898, visiting constantly among the churches of the State and delivering addresses on education. While he works specially in the interest of Eureka College, it is certain that the cause of Christian education in general will receive much benefit from his labors.

May 20 there was held, in the city of Springfield, an educational conference, which was finely attended, and during the sittings of which much effective planning was done for still larger things in Christian education This conference expressed the conviction that our people ought in another year to give $100,000 more to the endowment fund of Eureka College. The following items from the report of J. H. Hardin, made to that conference, will show what has been accomplished in Illinois for this cause in the last few years:

Since the summer of 1895, the following amounts have been added to the endowment fund:

Bondurant	fund,	now	paying	2½	per	cent. $20,000
Shulse	"	"	"	6	"	" 4,000
Davis	"	"	"	7	"	" 2,000
Crawford	"	"	"	6	"	" 2,000
Whitmer	"	"	"	6	"	" 1,000
Britt	"	"	"	6	"	" 1,000
Lawrence	"	"	"	6	"	" 500
						Total added to endowment fund since 1895 ..... $30 500

In addition to the above we have in bequests about $165,000, which of course are not yet settled, and from which no income is realized. They have been made, we have every reason to believe, in good faith; and we expect the college to realize their value in due time.

In the summer of 1895 a subscription of about $13,000 was secured to aid in liquidating debts which had accumulated against the institution. In June, 1898, we succeeded in completing an additional debt fund of $30,000. Of the fund subscribed in 1895 $1,000 yet remains to be collected. Of that completed in June, 1898, all but $1,600 has been collected. A repair fund of $500 has been secured the past spring among the citizens of Eureka and vicinity. We have a considerable sum of College aid notes taken at various times on which something can be realized. It is not known how much.

It will be seen from the above the cash assets brought to the College since 1895 are as follows:

Endowment paid in	$30 500
Debt fund in 1895	13,000
" " " 1898	30,000
Repair fund in 1899	500
Total	$74,000

Considering the times through which the country has been passing, and the fact that the public mind has been turned for a considerable part of the time to the distractions of war, we regard this as an encouraging showing.

The secretary for Illinois has kept the matter of education before the readers of our papers during the year, as far as time and space would permit. The educatioual outlook in the State is hopeful.

MISSOURI.

G. A. Hoffmann, State secretary of education, writes:

The work of education in the State of Missouri among the disciples of Christ is widening in its scope, and deepening in its influence. We have organized a Board of Education during the year; we have had two general conferences on education, and our Board have had three meetings to confer with each other. I have delivered three addresses on education at district missionary conventions, and we are to have several addresses at our State Missionary Convention, and a conference. Over $20,000 has been put into buildings, and as much more given to the endowment of our different schools in the State, during the last twelve months. Taking matters altogether, the cause of education among our people is hopeful and a large attendance is expected in our schools just opening.

Mrs. L. W. St. Clair writes:

On June 1, 1899, Christian College closed one of the most successful and enthusiastic years in its history of almost half a century. There were a hundred boarding students in the College dormitory, and over twenty were refused upon account of lack of room. A corps of twenty-two instructors was employed, and twenty-three students were graduated in the Academic Department, four were graduated in the School of Music and seven in the School of Elocution. Fourteen States were represented in the student corps, and there was a total enrollment of 175. Realizing the necessity of larger and more modern accommodations, plans were adopted, and in June work was begun on a handsome new dormitory, which will be completed in January. This building will accommodate 150 resident students.

The several courses of study have been raised, so that graduates from this College are admitted, without examination, to higher work in the State University and the academic degrees of B. A., B. S. and B. L., are conferred.

A fine moral and religious influence is exercised over the students; a flourishing chapter of the Y. W. C. A. is maintained, and an auxiliary to the C. W. B. M.

At the opening of last session forty-five students reported as members of the Christian Church, and during the session fifteen more confessed their faith in the Christ and were baptized.

This report is written at the close of the month of August, and there is every augury for a successful year under the combined principalship of Mrs. W. T. Moore and Mrs. L. W. St. Clair.

NEBRASKA.

J. W. Hilton, State secretary of education, writes:

COTNER UNIVERSITY.

We have been in the midst of a hard struggle, but we are very glad to say that we feel very sure of completing the work begun some fourteen months ago to save to our people this very valuable property.

Addresses delivered, 250. Money raised by cash and in pledges, $13,500.

We have a preparatory organization of the college that will be completed as soon as the Trust Fund is paid over to creditors, and a title obtained to the property. This will be in a short time now.

As financial secretary for the University, I can say that we are greatly encouraged with the widespread interest that is now taken in the purchase of this property and the building up of the school.

I hope to be able to make a more complete report by another year, and earnestly pray that we may have a great Convention at Cincinnati, in which educational interest may receive a great impetus.

TEXAS.

Chancellor Albert Buxton writes:

Add-Ran University, located in Waco, the central and one of the largest cities of Texas, has one of the largest school buildings in the South. It has four stories and a basement, is nearly two hundred feet long and wide, and is on a campus of fifteen acres in the suburbs of the city. The Faculty numbers about twenty, who give their time wholly to University work and reside there; nearly all of these have taken post-graduate courses, and nearly half have the doctorate.

The debt during the past year has been lowered to $15,000 and substantial improvements have been made on the property.

Last Commencement President Clark, who had been the head for a quarter of a century, resigned and became dean of the Bible department; the presidency was abolished, and Dr. Albert Buxton was constituted chancellor.

There are eight departments in the University.

OREGON.

Morton L. Rose, State secretary of education, writes:

It gives me pleasure to report to you that educational work received one-half day special program in the Oregon State Convention this year. The attendance and interest indicate a growing appreciation of this important department of the work of the church.

The report of the Eugene Divinity School shows that the School is receiving the cordial support of the brethren in the Northwest, its special field, and that it is in a flourishing condition, being well supplied with buildings, a rapidly growing library and other necessary apparatus. The School is free from debt, and has assurance of receiving the largest patronage this year of any in its history. The Bible College, adjacent to and working in harmony with the State University, is the solution of our educational problem in the Northwest.

Other States and schools have not, at date of printing, been heard from. We hope the above shows real progress, and that those, to whom the work of education among us has been committed, are nobly struggling with the conditions that meet them. HIRAM VAN KIRK, Secretary.

S. D. Dutcher, of Missouri, submitted the following report on Porto Rico.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PORTO RICO.

It is doubtless known to most of you that at the close of the last Annual Convention of the American Christian Missionary Society, held in Chattanooga, Tenn., last October, J. A. Erwin was sent by our Board to Porto Rico, for the purpose of looking over the field with the view of undertaking missionary and educational work in the island. Bro. Erwin spent more than a month on the island, and made a very thorough study of the field.

On his return, he reported conditions favorable. The Board decided to take up the work at once, and selected Bro. Erwin as a suitable man for the field. Bro. and Sister Erwin reached Porto Rico and were kindly received by the Porto Ricans, and entered upon their work at once. Bro. Erwin has preached nearly every Sunday from the first, much of the time holding three services on Sunday, besides teaching the English Bible class in the union Sunday-school, composed of about twenty young men; he has also organized a Christian Endeavor Society of thirty-eight members, which is the first and only Endeavor Society at this time on the island. This society will soon become a source of great spiritual strength to the young Christians of San Juan.

Three intelligent men have declared themselves for pure New Testament Christianity, and are co-operating with Bro. Erwin. He thinks these men will, in a short time, be a great help to him in the work. The work is prosperous and in every way encouraging, and our missionaries are hopeful and enthusiastic. We confidently expect splendid results from the work done in this field.

Our Board is to be congratulated for their promptness in entering this field, and for their wise management of this mission.

We most heartily recommend the policy of your Board to purchase property in the city of San Juan, suitable for church and school purposes, and their intention to open a school early in November, in which will be taught both English and Spanish by a force of four teachers.

We recommend that the number of workers in this important field be increased as rapidly as possible, and that the work be put on a firm footing as quickly as the means at command will admit.

A number of tracts, hymn-books and other supplies, in the Spanish tongue, have been placed in our mission. Above this we most heartily recommend that a number of reading-rooms be established in connection with our mission in San Juan, and especially in the building now occupied by our missionaries, and that a full line of our own literature, as far as it is possible, in both the English and Spanish tongues, be placed in these rooms, together with papers, magazines, books and such literature as will enlighten the people on America and American institutions and ideas.

Realizing that opium and intoxicating liquors stand in direct opposition to the world's evangelization, and knowing the spirit that is behind these departments of trade, we recommend that we exert our utmost influence to prevent England and America from shipping these poisons into our newly acquired territories.

Respectfullly submitted,

S. D. DUTCHER, W. S. PRIEST,
F. N. CALVIN, C. P. WILLIAMSON,
J. A. STEVENS, J. E. LYNN,

An address on "Boys' and Girls' Rally Day for America" was delivered by F. M. Dowling.

John A. Dearborn, who was present in 1849, was introduced and dismissed the Convention with prayer.

BUSINESS MEETING—ODEON.

The business session of the Convention met in the Odeon, Thursday, at 10 A. M., W. F. Richardson presiding.

PRAYER—By C. L. Loos.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions came before the Convention as unfinished business. Moved that resolutions Nos. 6 and 8 be sent direct by the Secretary to the President and Attorney General of the United States.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

1. That we recognize in the success of the year, and all of the years of our history, the good hand of our God. "The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad."

2. That we appreciate the efficiency of our officers and the tireless activity of our secretaries, and heartily vote them our thanks.

3. That we acknowledge our indebtedness to the Committee of Arrangements for their business tact, and the churches of Cincinnati, Covington, Newport and outlying suburbs for their hospitality in the reception and entertainment of all the people of this great Convention; also street-car service; also that we return our heartiest thanks to the Commercial League of Cincinnati for their kindness in providing, free of cost, Music Hall and Odeon Hall for the sessions of the Convention.

4. That a vote of thanks be extended the press of the city for exceptionally full reports, the railroads for their courtesies, and Russell & Morgan for five thousand souvenirs.

5. As Brigham H. Roberts, United States Congressman-elect from Utah, is a known and confessed polygamist, we do most solemnly protest against his being seated, and declare such an act would be a blow at all decency and nineteenth-century civilization, or, if seated, we ask that he be expelled.

6. That we pledge our undying hostility to the liquor business, and that we favor the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

7. We express our sincere regret and our earnest protest at the nullifying construction that has been given the anti-canteen law—passed by the last Congress—such construction making inoperative and ineffectual one of the best laws ever enacted for the protection of our soldiery; and we respectfully call upon the sworn executors of our country's laws to use their powers to the end that this patriotic, humane and Christian statute be enforced and the army canteen abolished.

8. WHEREAS, The volunteer army bill which passed the last Congress provided for 35,000 volunteers, but made no provisions for chaplains for their regiments in said bill, or in any other bill; and

WHEREAS, Our loyal fathers, husbands and sons, now en route to the Philippine Islands, are thus deprived of these heralds of mercy; and

WHEREAS, The Government has provided chaplains for army posts in this Christian land, as well as for regiments in the Spanish-American war, and also in the Civil War, therefore the omission from the thirty-five volunteer regiments is regarded as an unjust discrimination against our volunteers who are sent thousands of miles from their Christian homes to uphold the Stars and Stripes; therefore be it

Resolved, That the disciples of Christ, in convention assembled at Cincinnati, representatives of more than 1,110,000 communicants in the United States, petition the President of the United States to recommend in his message to the next Congress that the omission to provide for chaplains for the volunteer army be rectified, and that proper provisions for chaplains in the thirty-five volunteer regiments be promptly made and sent to them without unnecessary delay.

9. WHEREAS, There is a Benevolent Association of the Christian Churches with a central Board in St. Louis, organized for the work of general benevolence, such as the establishment of orphanages, homes for the aged, the afflicted, etc.; and

WHEREAS, Said Benevolent Association has been in effective operation for a number of years, and has done much toward the accomplishment of its purposes; therefore

Resolved, That we heartily approve this work of national benevolence, and commend the association to the brotherhood.

Burris A. Jenkins presented the report of the Committee on Christian Endeavor.

After amending, the report was adopted, as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Your Committee on Christian Endeavor begs leave to submit the following report:

We rejoice in the record of the past year and its work, as recorded in the report of our superintendent, and as seen in the general healthy condition of our societies. We rejoice especially in the growth in the number of societies, in the size of the offerings, and in the increasing depth and power of spiritual life.

We would make the following recommendations:

1. That Forefathers' Day be even more widely observed than it has been in the past.

2. That the Bethany Reading Courses, which have, with their able leadership, been instrumental in building up the intellectual and spiritual life of our young people, be more widely adopted.

3. That the periodical literature designed for our young people be, if possible, strengthened by some organic unification.

4. That a committee of three be appointed to report at the next National Convention on the relations of the C. E. Societies to the regular offerings for missionary purposes.

5. That our own State organizations join more heartily in all affairs of the State Christian Endeavor Union.

6. That our societies should more fully realize the supreme importance of the Quiet Hour, the Tenth Legion, and all the other methods and objects adopted by the International Union.

BURRIS A. JENKINS, S. T. WILLIS,
A. C. SMITHER, J. H. WRIGHT, CARRY E. MORGAN, Committee.

On the adoption of this report the Chair appointed the Committee on the Relations of C. E. Societies to our Various Missionary Offerings as follows: Carey E. Morgan, Richmond, Va.; F. N. Calvin, Milwaukee, Wis.; I. N. McCash, Des Moines, Ia.

George Darsie, of Kentucky, presented the report of the Committee on Recommendations of the Boards.

Report adopted, as amended, as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Committee on Recommendations of the Boards report as follows:

1. We approve the recommendation of the General Board urging that the coming year be made a year of special evangelistic effort, in the hope that at least one thousand of our churches will give the services of their preachers for protracted meetings at destitute points under the direction of the General State or District Boards, to the end that the closing year of the century may witness a great revival of religious life among the American people.

2. We urge also that the two recommendations of the Board of Church Extension be carried out: (1) In the raising of $50,000 the coming year in order to reach the $250,000 mark by the time of our next Convention, and (2) in the giving of special emphasis to the Annuity feature of our Extension work, experience having already demonstrated its extraordinary value.

3. We approve of the following recommendations of the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization:

(1) That a special fund be raised this year for the purpose of erecting a hospital at once at the Southern Christian Institute, and that all surplus funds which may come from this call be used in purchasing material for the erection of dormitories.

(2) That a call be made to the friends of the Lum Graded School for funds with which to purchase needed equipment for an industrial department.

(3) That the Secretary be instructed to investigate again the situation in Virginia and North Carolina, with a view to the establishment of a school for the two States.

(4) That George Darsie, W. S. Giltner and A. J. Thomson constitute a committee to investigate the call for a school in Kentucky for young women, with a view to the establishment of the same as soon as possible.

4. The recent sad bereavement of our Board of Ministerial Relief, in the loss of its Corresponding Secretary, necessitates such reconstruction of its work that we refer back to that Board the recommendations made by it before the occurrence of its great loss.

5. In regard to the recommendation of the Board of Education that a General Secretary of Education be put into the field, whose salary shall be paid out of the treasury of the General Board, after a careful hearing of both sides of the case, we submit this proposition, that the recommendation be referred for a year's consideration to a committee of five, consisting of W F. Richardson, Chairman; T. P. Haley, C. M. Chilton, G. H. Combs and Mrs. Louise Kelly, who shall report at our next General Convention. Signed by

GEORGE DARSIE, N. M [illegible]AGLAND,
ALBERT BUXTON, J. L. HILL,
T. D. GARVIN, S. L. DARSIE,
W. J. LHAMON, Committee.

Moved that the general plan of present Convention, in having separate business sessions and sections, be approved.

A. M. Harvuot presented the following:

Resolved, That the watchword for the closing year of the nineteenth century be—"$1,000,000 for Missions."

On motion the Chair appointed the following committee to prepare topics for uniform prayer-meeting services for the year 1000: Geo. A. Miller, A. M. Harvuot, W. A. Foster, R. T. Mathews I. J. Cahill, Geo. Darsie.

Adjourned.

BENEDICTION—A. McLean.

F. G. Tyrrell, of Chicago, presented the following motion:

That a committee of two be appointed to consider the unification of our various interests, missionary, benevolent and educational work, and that the Executive Boards of the F. C. M. S., and the C. W. B. M. and the B. A. A. C., be requested to appoint a similar committee, such joint committee to report to the Convention of 1900.

This motion was carried, and the Chair appointed Geo. Darsie and Jabez Hall as said committee.

AFTERNOON.

The Convention met in various sections, as follows: Educational Section at Music Hall, W. F. Richardson presiding. Addresses by Hiram Van Kirk and R. Lin Cave.

The Christian Endeavor Section met at Central Christian Church, Vice-Pres. Carey E. Morgan presiding, with the following program—Addresses: "The Tenth Legion," C. R. Hudson, Indiana; and "The Quiet Hour," M. J. Grable, Ohio; "Bethany Reading Courses," W. M. Forrest, Michigan; "The Progress and Promise of Christian Endeavor," H. L. Willett, Illinois. Open Parliament—J. Z. Tyler, Ohio.

The Conference of Pastors and Evangelists met at Odeon Hall, Vice-Pres. D. O. Smart presiding. The following addresses were delivered: "Apostolic and Modern Evangelism," J. H. O. Smith, Illinois; J. V. Coombs, Indiana, spoke on "Specialization in the Gospel Ministry"; "The Place of an Evangelist in Building a Church," I. N. McCash, Iowa; "What to Preach and How to Preach It," J. V. Updike, Ohio "The Protracted Meeting as a Means of Establishing a New Church," S. M. Martin, Missouri; Geo. F. Hall, Illinois, "The Pastor Evangelist."

The Sunday-school Section met in the English Lutheran Church, and was presided over by Vice-Pres. R. M. Giddens, Tennessee, with Howard C. Rash, Salina, Kan., as leader of the conference. Mrs. A. A. Buxton, Kansas City, Mo., gave an object-lesson in primary methods in Sunday-school work; Marion Lawrance, Toledo, O., delivered an address on "Sunday-school Management"; P. Y. Pendleton, Ohio, spoke on "Decision Day"; J. H. Hardin read a paper on "The Past Fifty Years of Sunday-school Work Among the Disciples."

The Conference on Orphan Homes and Kindred Benevolences was held at Richmond Street Church, B. B. Tyler presiding. Charles Allen Thomas reported on Kentucky Widows' and Orphans' Home; Mrs. Rowena Mason, St. Louis Orphans' Home; Mrs. O. C. Shedd, "The Babies' Home"; "The Relation of a Benevolent Association to the Missionary Enterprises of a Church," B. A. Jenkins, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. H. M. Meier, St. Louis, gave an address on "The Benevolent Association of the Christian Church"; "How Best to Maintain a Benevolent Association," was presented by F. G. Tyrrell, Chicago, Ill.

EVENING.

Convention met in Music Hall for the closing consecration service. Allen Wilson led the song service; C. P. Williamson, leader of the consecration service. Many inspiring talks and earnest prayers.

Convention adjourned with benediction by C. C. Smith.

W. F. RICHARDSON, President.

GEO. A. MILLER,
E. B. BAGBY, } Recording Secretaries.

MINUTES OF THE GENERAL BOARD OF THE AMERICAN CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The General Board of the American Christian Missionary Society met, pursuant to call, in annual session in the Young Men's Christian Association Building in the city of Cincinnati, O., on October 14, at 2 P. M., with President N. S. Haynes in the chair. A. J. Bush, Texas, led in prayer. The Chair then appointed an Enrolling Committee as follows: B. F. Clay, Missouri; A. I. Myhr, Tennessee; S. T. Willis, New York. Also appointed a Committee on Nominations as follows: J. A. Lord, Ohio; R. M. Giddens, Tennessee; H. C. Latham, Illinois.

Minutes of the last annual meeting of the General Board were read and approved.

The Corresponding Secretary of the American Christian Missionary Society, Benj. L. Smith, presented the report of the Acting Board. Important parts of this report were read. The parts of the report referring to the amount raised during the year, namely, $100,551, and that the Society was out of debt, produced warm and continued applause. The report was approved and referred to the Convention.

C. C. Smith, Corresponding Secretary, then presented the report of the Board of Negro Education and Evangelization. He read the financial statement of the report. The report was approved and referred to the Convention.

The report of the Board of Church Extension was presented by Corresponding Secretary S. W. Muckley, and the financial transactions of the Board were read. Motion was made and carried that the report be referred to the Convention.

G. A. Hoffmann presented the report on Statistics, which was ordered printed and referred to the Convention.

A. M. Atkinson presented the fourth annual report on Ministerial Relief, which he read and impressed on the Board in his emphatic way. This report was referred to the Convention.

The Committee on Enrollment reported 60 Life Directors, 17 Life Members, 33 State delegates and 100 visitors were present, making 210 in all.

The Committee on Nominations reported Frank W. Allen, Kentucky, President, and G. A. Hoffmann, Missouri, Secretary for the coming year. These were unanimously elected.

J. E. Pounds, Secretary of Christian Endeavor, being absent, his report was referred to the Convention.

Hiram Van Kirk, Secretary, presented the report of the Board of Education. Motion made and carried, that the report and recommendations be referred to the Convention.

Motion made by W. T. Moore, and seconded, that the Society meet at Louisville, 1900. Motion amended that we refer the matter to the Convention without endorsement. Motion made and seconded that the motion as amended be tabled. Carried. Meeting adjourned with benediction by F. M. Green, Ohio.

M. S. HAYNES, Pres.

G. A. HOFFMANN, Sec.

BUSINESS MEN'S SESSION.

The business men of the Jubilee Convention met at the Grand Hotel and were called to order by ex-Governor Drake, of Iowa. On nomination of A. M. Atkinson, G. A. Hoffmann was elected Secretary.

Governor Drake explained the object of the meeting, and A. C. Smithers, of California, led in prayer.

L. M. Sniff, of Indiana, addressed the meeting on the responsibility that rests on business men in the church.

J. H. Garrison, St. Louis, editor Christian-Evangelist, spoke on business and the church.

Hon. W. H. Graham, Pennsylvania, spoke on the true spirit of giving.

J. H. Allen, Missouri, spoke on the subject of being unselfish and liberal in our gifts.

R. S. Latimer, Pittsburg, addressed the meeting on the blessedness of sacrifice and the joys of giving.

A. M. Atkinson spoke on the sacredness and the joys of a true Christian business man's calling. His address was very earnest and lasted eight minutes. He stood by the side of the secretary of the meeting, and as he stepped forward to take his seat he threw his hand up to his heart and said in a much lower tone: "My heart goes pit-a-pat. Do right. Quit yourselves like men." Then as he turned to sit down, he exclaimed: "Be warned." His manner indicated that something was wrong, and in less than one minute, while the chairman had called on B. B. Tyler to come forward to speak, Bro. Atkinson's head dropped backward and his heart soon ceased to beat. He was gently laid on the long table and two physicians present did all in their power, but his life, at 9:27 P. M., went out to God.

J. H. Garrison adjourned the meeting with prayer.
